Arrest of Vice-President of Ruined Concern—Prospects for Cash.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Paul O. Stensland, of the ruined Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, is a fugitive with appearance so changed as almost to defy detection, through the removal of his beard and moustache, the most striking features of the Norse financier's physical make-up.

Stensland, it is believed, was accompanied in his flight from Chicago by a woman with whom his name has been linked for more than a year, and apparently has a good lead over the pursuing police. He is believed to be in Canada.

Cashier Henry W. Herring, it also is thought, has made good his escape over the Canadian boundary, although it was said that he had been in Chicago as late as yesterday, when he collected $200 from a bookmaker and disappeared.

AMAZING REVELATIONS.

More amazing revelations in the bank crash came to light today, simultaneously with preparations for the arrest of Stensland. It was learned that crooked banking methods and peculations date back prior to 1901, at which time it now develops that there was a shortage of more than $250,000. From that time on, defalcations grew in size until the amount of money said to have been stolen will reach more than one million dollars.

MRS. LANGDON'S EXPERIENCE.

The woman who is believed to have been Stensland's companion in flight is said by the neighbors to have been an inmate of the banker's $75,000 mansion in Irving Park for two years. She bears the name of Mrs. Langdon, although that is said to have been assumed. She was divorced by her husband at about the time that Mrs. Stensland died, and found a refuge in the home of the banker and remained there as apparent head of the household.

After she had resided two years in the place, the neighbors protested, it is said, and Mrs. Langdon went to the Auditorium, where she lived since last spring. Three weeks ago, about the time Stensland disappeared, she packed her trunks and left the city without giving a destination. She took with her rugs and curtains. To her collection was added household furnishings from the Stensland home.

HIS "SPORTING BLOOD."

Last summer, Stensland gave a banquet, costing nearly three thousand dollars, to Norwegian singers visiting Chicago. It was a rousing entertainment that set the Norse blood running and enlivened patriotic spirit.

HERRING "IN THE SWIM."

But it was not the kind of entertainment enjoyed by Herring, according to the stories given to the police to sift. There was much difference in the tastes of the president and the cashier. Horse-racing, automobile rides, drink and women are assigned as the causes of Cashier Herring's downfall. Theodore Stensland, son of the defaulting president, in a statement declared Herring could not be dignified with the name of "gambler."

"He is what I call a 'cheap sport,'" said young Stensland.

PITIFUL TALES OF MISERY.

Pitiful tales of misery that failure of the bank would bring to the lives of its 22,000 depositors were told today by weeping men and women, who stood for hours in the rain, having passed a sleepless night worrying about their money. One man was so overcome by the closing of the bank that he forgot his house number and he also forgot how much money he had in the bank. He had the bankbook, but could not read. The only thing he was certain about was that his wife was stricken almost insane when a neighbor told her the bank had collapsed.

YOUNG STENSLAND ARRESTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Theodore Stensland, vice-president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, was arrested, late this afternoon, on a charge of violating the banking laws of the State. Earlier in the day, the institution was placed in the hands of a receiver, and President Stensland, father of the vice-president, together with Cashier Herring, were officially declared fugitives from justice and their personal descriptions were placed in the hands of the police throughout the country.

This action was taken by the authorities after developments today had shown that the finances of the failed institution were in a deplorable condition, and had been for a number of years. Besides the discovery of many irregularities in the management of the bank, it was also found that even the safety-deposit boxes owned and rented by the bank had been tampered with and rifled.

CHARGE AGAINST THEODORE.

The specific charge on which Theodore Stensland was arrested was that of having accepted deposits at the bank when he knew the institution to be insolvent. The arrest was made in the office of Chief of Police Collins, where Stensland had gone to confer with the head of the police department.

Later in the day, Jacob Kern, a former State's attorney, signed bonds for $5000 for the release of Theodore Stensland.

The promises held out yesterday that the elder Stensland would appear in Chicago, today, were unfulfilled, but the day's developments were productive of the first ray of hope for the depositors, who yesterday believed their savings of years to be swept away in the wreck. David R. Forgan, vice-president of the First National Bank and one of those to whom the status of the defunct bank's affairs had been laid bare, declared that probably 70 cents on the dollar would be paid in the final adjustment. The affairs of the bank are said to be in an almost hopeless tangle, and new irregularities are being disclosed as the examiners go into the books.

HIS SUBTERFUGE.

President Stensland loaned money to himself, it is alleged, by the subterfuge of having employés sign the notes. Specific instances came to light during the day of the looting of the safety boxes.

The whereabouts of Vice-President Theodore Stensland, son of the missing banker, was a mystery to the authorities until late in the afternoon, when Chief of Police Collins got into communication with him by telephone, and secured his promise to meet him in conference later.

The Clearinghouse Committee is sparing no effort to bring the missing president to justice. Handwriting experts, it is said, will be put to work at once upon the case to establish the seeming evidence of forgery. Belief that Stensland has made his escape into Canada is supported by a report from Superior, Wis., that Sergeant of Police Darwin Secon of that city saw the missing banker on a Duluth and Superior car en route to Superior. Another dispatch from Superior from Chief of Police McKennann tended to show that Stensland made his way to Canada by boat from Duluth. Cashier Herring is thought to have reached the line by way of Detroit.

IN PICKLE BEFORE 1901.

It was learned today that the peculations of the bank's funds began before the year 1901. At the beginning of that year a shortage of $250,000 is now said to have existed. It was also learned that Theodore Stensland holds a power of attorney from his father. The son is said to have been further authorized by Stensland, Sr., to dispose of all property, including real estate, belonging to him (the father) in order to make good as far as possible the peculations.

LARGEST STOCKHOLDERS MEET.

The largest stockholders of the bank held a consultation today, and decided that if an assessment is necessary, they will be ready to make payment. The Illinois law calls for an assessment of 100 per cent. on all State bank stock in case the assets of the bank are insufficient to meet the liabilities. This will mean that there will be $250,000 cash immediately available to meet the demands of depositors.

OF A SURETY.

Detectives for the American Surety Company are searching for the missing president and cashier. S. S. Hartshorn, chief of the surety company's detectives, said today that the company held a $10,000 bond on Herring, which runs to the corporation, and not to President Stensland personally.

THOSE DIRECTORS.

"We are seeking both of them," said Hartshorn, "but I can't understand

TEMPESTUOUS FLOODS TERRIBLE IN TEXAS.

Down the Colorado and Concho Rides Demon of Devastation.

Human Lives Mere Incidentals in Its Uncontrollable Cavortings—Vasty Swirlings Sweep the Substance of Thrifty Settlers Into Demolishing Suction—Rain in Ruinous Amplitude.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is a terrible story of loss of lives and property that comes from the Concho country, where floods are sweeping down the Colorado and Concho Rivers.

That there has been loss of human life is known, but the full extent of the catastrophe is not yet disclosed.

A man working as a tenant on the Bismarck farm, near San Angelo, has been swept away with his wife and three little children.

At Ballinger, a man was swept off the Colorado River bridge and drowned with his team.

NINE INCHES OF RAIN.

Nine inches of rain have fallen in that section during the past four days, and San Angelo, Ballinger, Brownwood and Menardville have all been isolated.

A report from San Angelo says that great floods visited the Concho country, Monday, sweeping down the valleys of the North, Middle and South Conchos, devastating thousands of acres of land on which were growing crops, drowning unknown numbers of live stock and washing away bridges and culverts.

BRIDGES AND WIRES GONE.

Two Santa Fé bridges between this place and Miles were swept away and telegraph and telephone lines put out of business. The first communication with the outside world was midnight Monday.

RUIN AMID MOVABLES.

Cattle, crops, sheds, houses, fences and everything movable on many of the fine irrigated farms were swept away or ruined. The loss will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

TOWNS MAY BE GONE.

No communication could be had, Monday or Tuesday, with towns of the Concho country, and it is feared that several of them have been practically swept away.

HOMES LEFT BEHIND.

Many families living along the river beyond San Angelo had to flee for their lives leaving their homes behind. The water was eighteen inches higher than the floods of April 6, 1900, and the Ben Fickle flood of August 24, 1882, when some thirty lives were lost.

RAPID RETIREMENT.

The rivers receded, Monday afternoon and Tuesday, almost as rapidly as they had risen. Work of rescue was started and families on housetops were helped away from their precarious positions in boats.

Large forces of men have been put to work on the bridges and roads, and in several days most of the bridges will be in shape for travel.

The growing cotton and other crops in the valleys are an entire loss.

A train left here at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and met the incoming train at Miles, where the mail and passengers were transferred. San Angelo was entirely cut off from the outside world for nearly forty-eight hours.

COLORADO THREE MILES WIDE.

While conditions have improved somewhat at San Angelo, at Ballinger, which is located on the Colorado River, that stream is now three miles wide, and a further rise expected. A report here from that point this evening says a telephone message has been received, stating that a 10-foot rise was on the way.

A good many houses in the lowlands are under water, and the people occupying them were driven to the hills. They were kept busy the entire night moving household furniture and driving cattle to places of safety.

A man and his team were drowned while attempting to cross the river bridge, which gave way.

A negro was rescued from the roof of a house, this afternoon, after being kept there for twenty-four hours.

There have been no trains running from Ballinger to San Angelo, today, on account of the bridge crossing the river being unsafe.

The water has backed up into the business part of town, and quite a good deal of goods have been damaged in the stores.

MASS MEETING TO RESCUE.

A mass meeting was held for the purpose of taking steps toward finding shelter and food for the homeless.

At Brownwood, on the Frisco and Santa Fé Railway, 600 people are homeless, and the situation is very grave. There is much suffering.

The report received from that point tonight says:

STANDING WATER DEEP.

"Water is standing from one to six feet in this city today as a result of the flood here last night and this morning. From five to six hundred people are homeless, and are either camping out with their household goods lost, or are taken in by friends and sheltered.

"Hundreds of horses, hogs, cows and chickens are swimming the streets as if this city were a floating barnyard. A strip of country thirty miles in length and from two to four miles wide is covered with water, and the damage to crops is estimated at thousands of dollars. No definite statement as to the loss can be had at this time."

PECAN BAYOU ARISES.

The heavy rains at Coleman flooded Pecan Bayou, and caused that stream to rise out of its banks yesterday afternoon. The water continued to rise up until noon today, when the highest point was reached within three feet of the high water record of this section of the State, made in 1900.

In this city, water is now standing from one to six feet in 100 homes and in all the business houses. In the lower parts of the town, the people, knowing that the flood was coming, left Monday night, and are today camping out wherever there is a dry spot or have been taken in by friends and sympathizers.

There is a strip of land in the country adjacent to this city, thirty-five miles long and from two to four miles wide, covered with from four to ten feet of water. No lives are known to have been lost in this country.

Reports say that people south of here lost their lives, but this rumor was not confirmed.

CLIMBED THE BOILER.

Forced from their home in the middle of the night by the rapid advance of the water, C. N. Davis and family were forced to climb the boiler of the city pumping station, where Davis is engineer, two miles north of the city. This family was rescued at noon, by men and boys from this city.

BROWNWOOD LOSERS.

At Brownwood, the water extends from the northeast corner of the public square to Swindle's farm, a distance of over three miles. The principal losers in cash in this city are the Brownwood Steam Laundry and the City Steam Laundry. The machinery of these two plants was greatly damaged, but a small amount of it was moved thus being saved.

Railroad tracks are washed away for nearly two miles. Yesterday afternoon, a pile driver and a crew of 200 laborers arrived at the bridge east of Brownwood, but were unable to cross on account of the washed tracks on this side of the river. The crew remains stuck here, and may not get away for many days.

EARLY REPORTS OF RUIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Fort Worth, Tex., says:

"Twenty-five people are known to have been drowned, hundreds were rendered homeless and $500,000 worth of property was destroyed as the result of a flood in South Texas, today, when the Colorado River was forced out of its banks by heavy rains.

DEATH LIST GROWS HOURLY.

"The death list is growing hourly and it is believed that the worst disaster since the Galveston flood has visited Texas. Relief trains are cut off, telegraph and telephone wires are down and the fate of the inhabitants of several isolated towns is unknown.

"Reports from the country say the loss of life and damage are great. One man on horseback was lost while trying to warn the inhabitants. A mother and three children at San Angelo perished in sight of a score of men, who were unable to attempt a rescue. The mother was in the upper story of a house in the bottoms. She was calling for help when the flood came. The small house tottered and collapsed."

GREATLY EXAGGERATED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Aug. 7.—Statements sent out today from here that large loss of life has been caused in Texas by floods are greatly exaggerated, though heavy rains have occurred in Western and Central Texas.

MANY BRIDGES GONE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MUSKOGEE (I. T.) Aug. 7.—Six days of rain have damaged crops and interrupted railroad travel, the gorged streams having washed out many bridges. The Rock Island has lost seventeen, and the Frisco four, one of the latter being the North Canadian bridge between here and Sapulpa. The loss of this bridge will prevent the running of trains for several days. No loss of life is reported.

YALE PUBLISHER BANKRUPT.

Editor "Alumni Weekly" Suffers in Finances Because of Western Mines.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 7.—It was announced today by the attorneys for Lewis S. Walsh, owner and editor of the Yale Alumni Weekly, that Mr. Walsh was financially embarrassed and that he would file a petition in bankruptcy as soon as his schedules can properly be prepared.

Mr. Walsh is one of the best known Yale men in this country and has been editor of the Yale Alumni Weekly for a number of years. He has surrendered the Yale Alumni Weekly and it is announced that its future is in other hands.

Mr. Walsh issued a statement this afternoon in which he said his financial condition was brought about through his connection with a mining property in the West.

SEEK FIGURES OF ANGELS.

Census Men Coming to Los Angeles for Marriage and Divorce Statistics.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two special agents of the Census Bureau were today designated to proceed to Los Angeles to perform preliminary work in connection with the collection of marriage and divorce statistics, which will be begun shortly by Carroll D. Wright, former labor commissioner and member of the anthracite coal strike commission.

Two agents were also selected for San Francisco. The work will proceed in the large cities first and later will be taken up in the rural districts.

HOUSE AND HUSBAND TO BE BLOWN UP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) August 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Johnston, a negro porter, has caused a sensation by confessing to the police an alleged plot to kill Arthur Garvin and three other persons by dynamiting a house they occupied.

The negro says Mrs. Allie Garvin, wife of one of the intended victims, offered him $100 to explode dynamite under the house.

GARVIN IN THE WEEDS.

Mrs. Garvin was arrested, this afternoon, and about the same time her husband was found hiding in the weeds in a ravine west of the city, apparently in terror of his wife.

The Garvins, who are hotel people, have had much domestic trouble. Recently Mrs. Garvin had her husband arrested, charging non-support, and when he gave bond, again caused his arrest on a charge of assault to kill, also charging infidelity, naming Viola Lacey, waitress in a Manitou hotel, as co-respondent.

The house which, it is alleged, she wanted dynamited, is in Manitou, and was occupied last night by Garvin, his mother, Miss Lacey and another woman.

NEGRO'S LIVER WAS WHITE.

The negro spoiled the plot by informing the police. The latter claim to have evidence that Mrs. Garvin has hatched similar plots twice before.

Mrs. Garvin has not been allowed to make a statement.

MURDER AND SUICIDE GIRL'S DOUBLE CRIME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Lola Reed, 26 years old, handsome and well known, tonight sent a bullet through the brain of John T. Mahon, manager of the Ideal Yeast and Baking Company, and then, pressing the revolver against her own head, took her own life.

The double tragedy was enacted at the home of Dr. Luella Cool Walker, one of the best known women practitioners of medicine in the West. For several days past, Mrs. Reed had been making her home with Dr. Walker.

Shortly after 9 o'clock, Mahon and Mrs. Reed entered the house, having been out together. Mahon and Mrs. Reed went to the telephone and a few seconds later pistol reports rang out. Lying prostrate at the foot of the sofa was found the body of Mahon. Close to the body lay that of Mrs. Reed. Both were dead.

The deed was done by the woman, the police being convinced of this by the nature of the wounds and the fact that Mahon's left hand still clutched the telephone receiver.

In Mahon's pocket was found a letter, which read as follows: "Sunday —Dear Jack: You hurt me last night more than you perhaps thought, and I cared more than I like to admit even to myself. However, I have some interesting news for you if you will meet me Wednesday. Phone to me, please, where and when will suit your convenience. If you call me up from Berkeley and tell me what time you will leave there, I will meet you on the car at Forty-fourth street. Yours fondly, May E. C. 4390 Telegraph avenue. 'Phone, 5080."

The writer of the note was Mrs. May Elizabeth Chambers, who insisted her acquaintance with Mahon was very slight.

Mrs. Reed has a brother, named Sexton, who is a stenographer in the Los Angeles courts.

CARRIED BY STORM.

Mrs. W. B. Carroll Flies El Paso.

Raymon Whittaker's Stunt in the Christian Seemed "Good" to Her.

Deserted Husband Files Suit for Divorce After Reading Wife's Notes.

Actor Man Reputed to Be Son of Naval Surgeon at Mare Island.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Texas) Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That his wife, a prominent society woman of El Paso, had eloped with Raymor Whittaker, leading man of the Washington Park Stock Company here, with whom she became enamored when she saw the actor appear in the preacher role of "John Storm" in "The Christian," is the charge which W. B. Carroll makes in a petition for divorce, which he filed this afternoon.

Carroll charges that the couple left town together last Friday night, and he was led to file the suit as soon as he became convinced that his wife had really eloped with the actor and had not gone home to Detroit to visit her family, as she declared she intended to do when leaving here. The husband would not at first believe his wife had deserted him, and was only convinced when she failed to write, as she had promised, and when letters were shown him which Mrs. Carroll, it is alleged, had written to Whittaker.

One letter, in particular, although signed with the wife's maiden name, the husband readily recognized as being in the handwriting of his wife, and the monogram on the note paper was her's.

HOW SHE SAW IT.

The note which led the husband to bring suit for divorce this afternoon was as follows:

"Happy shall be the time I may lay aside all pretense and I shall be yours completely. A little quatrain comes to my mind of Garrison's, perhaps you are familiar—you should be—with it, for you enjoy all good, clean things.

"'Only four lines, yet when all is told
Much tinsel is outweighed by little gold.
Love is a tiny word, no doubt, yet see
It holds all life, all joy (now) for me.'

"The last three words are my improvising, but you will please accept it.

"Go rest now, my darling. Meet me tomorrow morning with a dear smile, and just manage to whisper once to me in the course of the morning, 'I love you.' I shall be at the card party until late, probably 1 o'clock, but I shall think of you with every breath. I need just a few words, dear, to brighten up this afternoon.

Yours,
(Signed) "VIRGINIA."

Whittaker is a well-known actor in California. His father is said to be a surgeon at the Mare Island Navy Yard in San Francisco, and the actor, it was announced, came here only when the San Francisco disaster wiped out the theatrical business in that city. He was considered strikingly handsome by women here, and was a "matinée idol."

Mrs. Carroll is the wife of the head of an electrical concern in this city. She is a leader in society, and one of the most largely attended social events which closed the last winter season was that given by her. She was prominent in the Woman's Club.

ONCE IN A CIRCUS.

It developed today that before coming to El Paso she was a member of Orrin's Circus in Mexico, and there she met her husband, who was the electrician, and married him. They came to El Paso, prospered in business, and moved in the best circles. Local society is now aghast at having received a "bareback circus rider."

BOULEVARDS ARE GRINNING.

General Andre and De Negrier, in Overcoats and Silk Hats, Meet on "Honor's Field."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The boulevards are grinning, tonight, over the comic-opera duel of Gens. Andre and De Negrier. The bloodless meeting occurred in the shady garden of Prince Joachim Murat's mansion in the Rue de Monceau. The warriors wore overcoats and silk hats.

Gen. Andre fired in the air; his opponent fired not at all.

SUES HER HUSBAND'S PA.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. George B. Rafferty, whose husband is a son of Gilbert T. Rafferty of Pittsburgh, Pa., has begun an action to recover $300,000 from the elder man, on complaint that he has alienated the affections of her husband from her. Papers in the action have been filed in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn by Cantrell and Moore.

LETTER FROM DEAD MAY BRING A ROPE.

Ghoulish Horrors of the Hoch Monstrosities Rivaled by Chicago's Latest Criminal Outcropping—Knudson's Wife Feared Poisoning.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A letter from the dead may send the murderer of Mrs. Augusta Knudson to the gallows.

Such a missive, dictated by Mrs. Knudson in her dying moments, is now in the hands of the State's Attorney.

This accusing voice from the grave promises to be an important factor in the sensational murder trial that is almost certain to follow the action of the Coroner's jury, today, ordering K. O. Knudson, the wealthy Pullman contractor, held to the grand jury in connection with the death by poison of his wife.

RIVALS HOCH'S HORRORS.

A crime rivaling those perpetrated by Johan Hoch has been disclosed according to the belief of the public officials, who have worked for weeks to clear up the mystery surrounding the death of Mrs. Knudson.

Her body, when exhumed, after lying for months in the grave, revealed the presence of enough arsenic to kill half a dozen persons.

SHE SUSPECTED IT.

As Mrs. Knudson lay on her death bed, she suspected she was being slowly poisoned to death. She told this to her half-sister.

To another neighbor, she said: "I know there is something terrible going on, and I want you to promise me to write down what I dictate to you. If I should die, send the letter to the police."

THE LETTER WRITTEN.

The neighbor gave her promise, and the letter was dictated by the dying woman. After it had been read to her, it was sealed.

This letter is now in possession of the State's Attorney, but the contents are being kept a secret.

SYMPTOMS SINISTER.

The death of Mrs. Knudson compares in almost every detail to that of Mrs. Welcker-Hoch, for whose murder Johann Hoch was hanged.

The symptoms were exactly alike. Both women suffered the same pains.

Each was buried and each was exhumed.

In each stomach, chemists found arsenic.

Some of the striking points brought out at the inquest against Knudson are that he refused to call a doctor to attend his wife, despite repeated demands by her half-sister and other relatives.

He declared it was no use to call a doctor, and said he knew his wife was going to die.

He refused to secure a nurse for Mrs. Knudson, although he is a wealthy man.

Told the half-sister, Mrs. Alma Weisner, that he did not desire her presence in the house.

TOLD NOT TO TELL.

Commanded his dying wife not to reveal the nature of her sufferings to the doctor, who was finally called, and always remained in the sick chamber when the physician called to hear anything Mrs. Knudson said.

HELEN WESTBURG'S OFFERS.

Gave Helen Westburg $800 in one year, and on the night of Mrs. Knudson's death invited her to accompany him to the funeral.

Later he sought to induce her to become housekeeper at his home, and brought her to his home and children.

The Czar Is Now Ready to Attempt Reform—Agrarian Programme to Be Put Into Effect—Collapse of the Strike Movement.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 7.—The Workmen's Council has decided to call off the strike in St. Petersburg. This action does not apply to the provinces, but there is little doubt that the workmen there will follow St. Peterburg's example.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 7.—From a member of the Cabinet, the Associated Press correspondent learns that the government regards the storm raised by the dissolution of Parliament as past, and that it intends immediately to proceed to carry out the policy of "strong-handed reform," to which Premier Stolypin committed himself.

The cardinal plank of the programme is an attempt to appease the discontented peasantry as far as possible. The government's agrarian programme, which will not differ greatly from the Stichinsky project, will not only be promulgated, but probably will be placed in effect as a temporary law, the Emperor having the right to issue temporary laws during a recess of Parliament.

HOPES FOR SOLUTION.

In other words, it is the intention of the government to attempt to solve its most difficult problem irrespective of Parliament, in the belief that it will meet with enough support to make it impossible for the next Parliament to refuse its assent.

Appointments to the three vacancies in the Cabinet, Agriculture, Commerce and the Holy Synod, probably will be announced tomorrow. M. Samarin, member of the Council of the Empire, who was offered the last named post, has finally refused it, thus ending the hope of securing the desired cooperation of the lower house and upper house as well.

VASSILIC KOFF'S PORTFOLIO.

Prince Vassilichikoff, of the famous Russian family, father of the well-known literateur of that name, will probably be Minister of Agriculture. Another member of the family was recently relieved of the command of the guard division in connection with the mutiny of the First Battalion of the Preobrajensky Regiment.

The real intention of the government, when it dissolved the lower House of Parliament, as revealed by a member of the Cabinet to the Associated Press, this afternoon, shows that Premier Stolypin at least intends to pursue and hold an affirmative policy, amounting virtually to a determination on the part of administration to settle the agrarian question according to its own lights, and irrespective of Parliament, and then go to the country upon this issue.

ACTUAL PERFORMANCE.

The government expects to rally not only all the landed interests, but the mass of peasants to its side by actually giving the latter some immediate relief, instead of merely holding out hopes of a more advantageous settlement in the indefinite future, which has been the stock in trade of many reformers. Politically, this movement may prove very strong. The actual bestowal of lands, even if in smaller quantities than expected, and the division of communistic holdings will, it is believed, make the peasantry disinclined to vote for candidates to the lower house who might propose a totally different solution to the question.

But, above all individual possession, the government calculates it will inculcate that very respect for property, the lack of which, under the system of communistic holdings, has made many peasants such easy converts to the theory of the nationalization of land.

THE CRUX ARGENTIFEROUS.

The crux of the question is its financial aspect. It will be a herculean operation to find the funds required to purchase the private holdings which the project of Minister of Agriculture Stichinsky contemplated acquiring through the land banks.

A semi-official statement referring to the conclusion deduced abroad from an article in the Rossia, saying it was the intention of the government to suspend cash payments, is published tonight. It says these conclusions are based upon gross misunderstanding, and that no such intention exists.

MAY SUIT THE STRIKERS.

The government is holding to strict accountability the responsible officials of the government institutions which were affected by the strike. Director Suveroff of the large printing establishment attached to the Official Messenger, where the compositors struck Monday, has been discharged, and the Minister of Railroads has demanded the resignation of Superintendent Laurfin of the Ironoff Railroad for permitting strikes to interfere with traffic on his road.

SEIZURES OF ARMS.

That there is continued preparation among revolutionaries for an armed uprising in the south is believed to be indicated by the interception by police of shipments of arms and ammunition, including rifles and sabers at Poltava and Theodesia.

COOL AND CRITICAL.

Dispatches received here from Yelisavetpool announce that another "perpetual peace" has been arranged between Tartars and Armenians at Shusha, but advices from Tiflis show that the situation is still critical, especially in the adjoining district of Sanguaer. A deputation of Tartars today called upon the Viceroy of Tiflis and coolly demanded the removal of Gen. Golochtkapoff, who interfered wth the Russian troops in the settlement of this interracial quarrel.

The Governor of the province has asked for $150,000 to relieve the immediate needs of the people in Shusha and Sanguaer.

UNIONS HELD ALOOF.

More than half of the factories here resumed work this morning, and while the employés of some of the establishments at Moscow are still out, none of the predictions of the extreme parties who organized the strike movement were fulfilled.

Many of the trades unions totally refused to join in it, the railroad men, whose cooperation was vital, could not be induced to give the signal for a strike, owing to fear that a majority of the men would not obey, and there was a sign of serious peasant movement.

While the repressions and arrests of the leaders probably were a great factor in bringing about the present situation, it is apparent that the moment was ill-chosen for a strike. The people were not in the temper to support it. As a consequence, the revolutionary leaders who really inspired it with the intention of transforming the movement into an armed uprising—have suffered a severe loss of prestige, and the proletariat organizations through which they worked have been so weakened in the eyes of the masses that it is probable they will not quickly recover.

BUREAUCRACY REJOICES.

The government, which had prepared for the worst, holding military traips in readiness at all the centers and had even made arrangements to send out the foreign mails by torpedo boats from St. Petersburg, naturally is greatly rejoiced over its victory. Nothing more than local echoes of all these feverish activities of the revolutionary and proletariat leaders, with possibly a more active state of terrorism, is expected in the immediate future.

The leaders of the non-revolutionary parties do not conceal their satisfaction over the defeat of their old allies of the Extreme Left, as they feared that a great strike with widespread disorders entailing repressions, might be used as justification by the government to pass the elections and the assembling of a new Parliament. With comprehensive tranquility ahead, they can hold the government to its promises, and with political activity turned into peaceful channels, the Constitutional Democrats of the more conservative type hope to regain the prestige they lost during the sessions of Parliament, while the new party of peaceful regeneration is hopeful of a general reaction from radicalism, which will create a more sane and healthy state of public opinion.

Premier Stolypin, with his hands free, it is asserted, will also have a better chance of realizing his policy of "strong-handed reforms."

The Novoe Vremya today announced that the Cabinet, if things go well, is ready to submit the budget of 1907 to Parliament, when it assembles in February.

RED FLAG DEMONSTRATIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MOSCOW, Aug. 7.—Several red flag demonstrations were broken up last night by dragoons, but the city generally is quiet.

The Central Committee of the Railroad Men's Union has refused to cooperate in the strike, which is collapsing. Many of the factories are resuming work, and the electric plant is again in operation. The strike organizers lay much of the blame for the situation to the Social Revolutionists, who favor deferring the strike until autumn.

OFFICER KILLS COMMANDER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PYATIGORSK (Russia) Aug. 7.—The commander of the fortress here was killed today by an officer of the garrison.

TARTARS ATTACK RUSSIANS.

THEN RAISE WHITE FLAG.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TIFLIS, Aug. 6.—According to a telegram to Gen. Golochtkapoff, Tartars attacked and fought a pitched battle with Russian troops last night. The combat lasted until 3 o'clock this afternoon. The Tartars were 2000 strong and occupied favorable positions. The extent of their losses are not known.

After a prolonged bombardment by the Russians, the Tartars hoisted the white flag, but the district chief learned it was a ruse and that the Tartars were preparing for a night attack. He therefore altered the position of his troops under cover of darkness to meet the emergency.

HASAVAR SURROUNDED.

Other advices state that the village of Hasavar is surrounded by Tartars, and appeals for reinforcements came from Shusha. Gen. Glochtkapoff reports that several soldiers, thirteen Armenians and many Tartars have been killed since the recommencement of hostilities, last Friday.

Tartar positions were occupied by the Russian troops, yesterday, and the Tartars are now proposing peace.

CHINESE BANDITS SHELLED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

HARBIN (Manchuria) Aug. 7.—A band of Chinese bandits engaged in pillaging along the Sungari River, was shelled by a Russian gunboat yesterday. A large number of the bandits were killed.

UZOVOKA STRIKE COLLAPSING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

UZOVOKA, Aug. 7.—The miners' strike is collapsing, most of the men having resumed work. A battalion of infantry is now on the way from Yekertanoslav to reinforce the garrison here.

BOILER WORKS TIED UP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, Aug. 7.—Among the factories tied up by the strike is Barron's American Boiler Works. The strike in the railway shop is incomplete, scarcely a fourth of men having quit work.

STEAMERS TO NEW YORK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ODESSA, Aug. 7.—The Russian service has decided to institute direct steamship service with New York. The first sailing will take place at the end of September. The voyage will require twenty-two days.

HARTJE SKELETON IN CLOSET AGAIN.

END IS REACHED IN NOTORIOUS DIVORCE TRIAL.

Defendant's Attorney Indulges in Biting Criticism Which Fails to Move Stlid Libellant and Then the Curtain Is Rung Down—Detectives Who Stole Papers Get Hearing.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—The widely notorious divorce trial of Augustus Hartje has been closed. With a brief and impassioned address by Attorney J. Scott Ferguson, the curtain dropped today. Immediately, Mrs. Hartje was surrounded by attorneys and friends. Hartje sat in the courtroom today under a storm of biting, stinging criticism from Attorney Freeman, who made the closing argument for Mrs. Hartje.

Hartje, who showed emotion, yesterday when the children were referred to, sat stolid as an image today when Freeman accused him of being the forger of the alleged love letters from Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje to Tom Madine and the mainspring of the alleged conspiracy to blacken his wife's name.

As Judge Fraser stepped down from the bench he said: "I'm glad its over. When this case was started I thought it would take no longer than a week. I had no idea it would be so long. I am now on my vacation and won't be back before the Saturday before the first of September. I will take up the case after that. My decision may not be given until late in the fall."

Hermann Staubb and John Anderson, the two detectives who were charged with having stolen papers and other articles from the trunk of Tom Madine during their search for evidence prior to the Hartje divorce case waived hearings today in the court of Alderman King. Attorney Edward Hartje, who defended them, furnished bond in the sum of $2000, for each man.

STRUCK WHILE RIDICULING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HARTFORD CITY (Ind.) Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While sitting at the dinner table, ridiculing his wife because she covered her face to hide her eyes from a vivid electrical display, yesterday, William Fenner, 45 years old, a farmer, was struck and instantly killed by a bolt of lightning.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Medicine Hat, the farthest north point on the weather map, sustained its reputation, today, as the place where all the bizarre weather comes from by registering the hottest temperature of any place, 98 deg. in the shade. Chicago was afflicted with clouds and a multiplicity of showers. When the rain was not falling the humidity supplied the disagreeable feature of marking as high as 92 deg. The temperature varied between 71 and 79 deg. Middle West temperatures:

DEAD BABE IN VALISE.

A valise holding a dead infant was left in the office of Dr. E. S. Miller, Thirty-second and State streets, tonight. Dr. Miller left a child's body on a State street car, about three months ago, and it was turned over to the police by the conductor. The doctor said he forgot about the child's body when he left the car. A rigid investigation will be made by the police in the present case. Miller told the police a young girl brought the valise to his office, deposited it on a table, and then ran out, saying: "A woman told me to leave this here."

CAVALRY SCARES ENGINEERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A detachment of United States cavalry came upon a force of engineers employed by Asmus Boysen, the Chicago promoter, who has preferential rights of 640 acres of mineral lands in the Shoshone reservation. They were prospecting, and at the first sight of the soldiers picked up their rifles and prepared to fight. The detachment of cavalry numbered nearly fifty, and the engineers quietly laid down their guns as the soldiers approached close with their carbines leveled. The troops gave Boysen's men five hours in which to move their machinery and themselves from the reservation. The miners hurriedly obeyed orders.

CZOLGOSZ ASKS A STAR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Michael Czolgosz, brother of Leon Czolgosz, assassin of President McKinley, has applied for a position on the police force of Cleveland. He said, tonight, that his impelling motive was to remove the stain from the family name, but later asked that the statement be ignored, because of the wish of his aged father, who lives with him.

FIVE WISCONSIN DROWNINGS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There were five accidental drownings in Wisconsin today. Irene Carroll and Gregory Walsh perished in the Milwaukee River. OBSCENE LETTER HIS UNDOING.

Aged Mississippi Merchant Kills Himself Rather Than Face Trial for Postal Crime.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because he was arrested charged with sending an obscene letter through the mail, and rather than face trial, Jacob Frantz, an old merchant of Bay St. Louis, Miss., shot himself through both temples this afternoon and died five minutes later.

Frantz some time ago sent an order to Parker, Blake & Co. of New Orleans for drugs, and that firm replied that they could not fill his order, as they were not in the drug business. In reply, Frantz sent Parker, Blake & Co. a letter not fit for the mails. It was turned over to the postal authorities and his arrest soon followed.

Frantz was unmarried, lived alone, in his general merchandise store, and was 75 years of age.

Mathew Brandon, 30 years old, confidential clerk and messenger employed by Thomas Faulkner, agent for the combined railroad lines of the United States, at Ellis Island, has not been seen since last Thursday, when he left Ellis Island to deposit $5000 in checks and $1100 in cash in a New York bank. It was stated at the bank that Brandon had failed to make the deposits.

STANDARD JURY SWORN IN.

BRYAN'S STRENGTH GAINING GROUND.

OLD THOMAS CRITTENDEN OF MISSOURI FOR HIM.

Democrats of Iowa Add an Indorsement of "the Exalted Character and Peerless Statesmanship" of William J. to Their Platform. Operations of Idaho Democracy.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Thomas Crittenden of Kansas City, who was elected Governor of Missouri in 1880, and who is the oldest living former Governor of that State, will be one of the Missouri delegates who will come to this city to welcome Bryan.

Thos. Crittenden

The following was added today, to the Iowa Democratic platform as an indorsement of W. J. Bryan:

"We indorse the exalted character, the peerless statesmanship, the high-minded and pure personality of Democracy of the conceded leader, William Jennings Bryan, and pledge him our unqualified support for the Presidency in 1908."

TO FIGHT WILLIE HEARST.

SIXTY-NINE BROOKLYNITES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sixty-nine delegates, representing the Brooklyn Democracy, will go to the State Convention, next month, uninstructed for any candidate, but with positive instructions to fight the nomination of William R. Hearst, should his name be presented to the convention.

"EXTIRPATION OF POLYGAMY."

IDAHO DEMOCRACY'S FIGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) Aug. 7.—When the State convention of Idaho's Democracy reassembled at Couer D'Alene this forenoon it was with the prospect of another day of fierce fighting and bitter personalities. The platform plank favored by the Dubois forces calls for "the extirpation of polygamy," "the complete separation of church and State," and "the passage of laws forbidding any one to vote, serve as juror or hold civil office" who is living in a patriarchal, plural celestial marriage, or who teaches, advises or encourages such marriage or is a member of any order encouraging polygamy.

The fight centered in the Committee on Resolutions. A partial reaction from last night's anti-Mormon enthusiasm was evident, and the committee was unable to agree on this plank. The convention assembled and effected permanent organization by retaining ex-Senator Henry Heitfeld as chairman and C. E. Earney as secretary. Adjournment was taken to 3 p.m., to enable the Resolutions Committee to decide upon its report.

While the committee, behind closed doors, was struggling with the platform, there appeared to be little question that a strong anti-Mormon plank would be adopted.

MURPHY'S HEART AND SOUL.

BRYAN MAY HAVE THEM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To indorse William J. Bryan for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1908, Charles F. Murphy will issue a call for a special meeting of the Tammany General Committee, to be held next week. Democrats are convinced that Murphy, contrary to a belief which existed in some quarters, is heart and soul in the Bryan movement.

DEMOCRATS OF IOWA.

PORTER RUNS FOR GOVERNOR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WATERLOO (Ia.) Aug. 7.—The entire interest of the Democratic State convention centered in the nomination for Governor, St. Clair Porter of Centerville having consented to be a candidate. Friends of George Ball and John Denison remained active and confident.

The convention met in the Chautauqua coliseum, which was well filled. Caucuses for the selection of members of the committees disclosed the fact that the conservatives had control of the convention.

The chairman was instructed to send to William J. Bryan at Venice a message extending the greeting of Iowa Democrats and "best wishes for a safe journey home."

When the convention reassembled the Committee on Resolutions was still at work on the platform. Cato Sells of Vinton was elected chairman. The Credentials Committee reported that there was no contest.

The platform unanimously adopted demands legislation to destroy trusts, favors rate regulation in Iowa to give rates as low as interstate rates; favors a 2-cent passenger fare, a State primary law that will protect all parties, election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people, favors laws to punish corporations for contributing to political funds, expresses sympathy with the political progress of the national labor leaders, and favors assessment of railroads in Iowa by a non-partisan commission.

It indorses Bryan, and on the tariff question says "We believe the tariff should be removed from all trust-made goods and favor the removal of all duties on iron, steel, lumber, and coal. We demand the enactment of such legislation as will effectually destroy all trusts and the strict enforcement of laws concerning the same."

The convention nominated a full State ticket, headed by Claude R. Porter of Apponoose county for Governor, adopted a platform, indorsed Bryan and adjourned sine die.

The ticket nominated was as follows:

Governor—Claude R. Porter, Apponoose county.

Lieutenant-Governor—J. G. Denison, Jr., Dubuque county.

Secretary of State, J. C. McLuen, Guthrie county.

Auditor — C. E. Mundoe, Mahaska county.

Treasurer—L. F. Donfarth, Calhoun county.

Attorney-General—Fred A. Townsend, Monroe County.

Superintendent of Public Instruction —W. S. Wilson, Lincoln county.

Judges of Supreme Court—L. M. Fisher, Scott county; E. M. Card, Delaware county.

Clerk of Supreme Court—T. W. Keenan, Page county.

Reporter of Supreme Court—H. M. Parker, Muscatine county.

Railroad Commissioners—W. L. Carpenter, Polk county, and E. K. Stoll, Henry county.

SANTA CLARA POLITICS.

NO SAD-EYED DELEGATE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN JOSE, Aug. 7.—In most of the precincts of this county, the Republicans held caucuses, this evening, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the county and State conventions. In practically all instances the delegates are pledged for J. O. Hayes for Governor, and William G. Lorigan for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, to succeed himself.

The work of E. A. Hayes in Congress was universally commended, and in the majority of cases he was named for renomination.

In the districts of the county outside of San José, the result was the same. An independent ticket was named in the Third Ward.

LONGWORTH BLACKLISTED.

UNIONS TO FIGHT HIM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI (O.) Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In his candidacy for reelection to Congress, Nicholas Longworth, of the First Ohio District, will have the opposition of organized labor. In discussing the probable campaign of the union men against certain members of Congress, Frank Rist, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, let it be known today that Longworth is on the blacklist.

VOTERS WHO DON'T COUNT.

HEARST WILL BOLT 'EM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Dunne-Hearst-Carey faction of the Democracy will not abide by the decision of the voters at the primaries, Saturday, and will bolt the convention Thursday. They have asked for certain representations on the ticket, and if these demands are not granted they will undoubtedly desert the convention and hold a rump convention.

In the event of their refusal to adopt the plan of the caucus, the leaders see a third ticket in the field in November under the Hearst banner, which means defeat of the entire Democratic county ticket.

Idaho Democrats Exclude Mormons.

COUER D'ALENE, (Idaho) Aug. 7.—Idaho Democratic convention delegates took a trip up Lake Coeur D'Alene and St. Joseph River, yesterday. On the steamer Idaho, the issue between Gentile and Mormon was fought out during the afternoon with a vigor that at times threatened violence. After a debate of two hours the Credentials Committee decided to throw out the Mormon delegations from Fremont and Bear Lake counties. Fremont's eleven delegates were excluded by a viva voce vote of about 3 to 1.

United States Senator, Fred T. Dubois, Bingham county.

Member of Congress, Rees Hattabaugh, Idaho county.

Justice of the Supreme Court, Stewart S. Denning, Latah county.

Governor, C. O. Stockslager, Blaine county.

Lieutenant-Governor, George L. Chappin, Bingham county.

Secretary of State, Flourney Galloway, Washington county.

The foregoing ticket was nominated and a platform adopted, in which anti-Mormonism is the keynote. It was a Dubois convention from the first to the last, but the Senator did not have his way in all things by any means, and only in a few things did he triumph without opposition. The ticket which he and closest friends had selected was badly disarranged in the convention, and it was only by the application of the strongest measures by Chairman Heitfeld that an acrimonious debate on the floor of the convention was avoided when the platform was under consideration.

Nominations for Congress.

NEWARK (N. J.) Aug. 7.—Congressman William H. Wiley was renominated by the Republicans of the Eighth district, last night; John S. Gibson was nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Seventh District.

WESTERN PACIFIC STEEL RAILS.

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) Aug. 7.—Three trains, each carrying twenty cars of steel rails for the Western Pacific, have arrived in Salt Lake within the last two days. The Western Pacific track is now built out twenty miles from the city, and the work is being pushed ahead as rapidly as conditions will permit. There has been considerable difficulty in obtaining men, but this is being remedied to some extent, and if sufficient men can be obtained, the track will be pushed forward at the rate of a mile a day.

There are now plenty of supplies on hand to carry the work into Nevada, and officials expect to do this at once.

TRAFFIC MEN OPTIMISTIC.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Traffic directors of the New York Central, the Santa Fé, the Harriman lines, the Rock Island, the Illinois Central and other great lines are unanimously of the opinion that the fiscal year, upon which they entered a month ago, will be one of great and continued prosperity.

The winter wheat crop, already harvested, is ahead of most liberal estimates. The railroads are frantically being asked to move the vast crop. A conservative estimate places the year's tonnage movement at 15 per cent. over that of last year, and an increase of 12 per cent. in gross earnings.

CONTRACTORS' PLEA NOVEL.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Acting Secretary of Commerce and Labor Murray said today that he would probably announce his decision tomorrow in the case of the two Mexican peons recently imported at El Paso, Tex., by certain contractors to work on railroads in that section of the country.

The case is the first one that has ever been before the court, involving application of the contract labor law to unskilled laborers. The law excludes contract laborers generally from the United States, but makes an exception in favor of skilled workmen in cases where there is a scarcity or absence of persons in the United States who can do certain kind of work. The latter can be brought in under contract.

The Texas contractors claim there is a scarcity of labor in that section of the country. It is understood they can get all the Greeks, Italians, Hungarians and Poles they can use, but they declare they do not want them because they are too hard to handle and are inclined to loaf. The Mexican peon, on the other hand, they declare, is the best workmen under the sun. This was news to the Department of Commerce and Labor, as well as to everybody else here.

WHO'D BE THE ICE MAN?

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The grand jury today indicted fourteen members of the Philadelphia Ice Exchange, who, forming the local trust, were charged with having conspired to increase prices.

Other things leave me, but it abides; other things change, but it remains the same. For me, its balmy airs are always blowing; its summer seas flashing in the sun; the pulsing of its surf beat is in my ears; I can see its garlanded crags, its leaping cascades, its plumy palms drowsing by the shore; its remote summits floating like islands above the cloud rack. I can feel the spirit of its woodland solitude; I can hear the plash of its brooks; in my nostrils still lives the breath of flowers that perished twenty years ago."

SIRIO'S ILLICIT TRAFFIC HER UNDOING, IT SAYS.

Italian Steamer Took Dangerous Course to Escape Detection of Act of Unlawfully Embarking Spanish Emigrants, Asserts Madrid Paper.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ALICANTE, Aug. 7.—Survivors of the Sirio who have been landed here declare there was ample time to organize a system of rescue before the vessel sank, but that the officers and crew abandoned the ship, whereupon panic ensued.

MADRID, Aug. 7.—The Espana Neuva publishes a dispatch from Barcelona containing a startling statement to account for the wreck of the Sirio. In this communication it is asserted that the Italian steamer was engaged in the clandestine embarkation of Spanish emigrants along the coast, and that large sums of money were paid for this work. This is said to explain why the vessel followed a course never taken by ships of equal tonnage. Continuing, the Espana Neuva says the conduct of the captain and crew of the Sirio when the catastrophe occurred left much to be desired and justifies belief in the report that illicit traffic was going on.

According to the statements of some of the survivors of the lost Italian steamer Sirio, the captain of the vessel came from his cabin immediately following the first shock, hesitated whether to go to the bow or stern, or mount the bridge, and then turned and jumped into a lifeboat, crying: "Every one for himself." Thereupon began a terrible scene of confusion among the passengers, who engaged in a fierce struggle for possession of the boats and life belts. The crew, with knives between their teeth, and officers with revolvers in their hands, saved themselves.

MEN STRUCK WOMEN DOWN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CARTAGENA, Aug. 7.—A vivid description of the terrific panic on board the Sirio is given by one of the survivors, who is said to be a godson of Queen Margherita of Italy. He says: "An enormous crowd of women rushed forward and struggled desperately to obtain possession of life belts. Frantic men approached and felled the women with repeated blows. They then seized the life belts, leaving the women senseless on deck, where they were drowned. On the other hand, one man refused to be saved until all the women had been rescued. His refusal cost him his life, for he went down with the ship.

"The confusion and the fighting of these few moments almost beggar description. The passengers dashed hither and thither, uttering shrieks of despair and even destroying the life belts in their mad frenzy.

"The only boat launched from the Sirio had scarcely touched the water before it was overcrowded and swamped. It later was found on shore, bottom up."

A number of survivors assert that passing vessels paid no attention whatever to the Sirio's signals of distress.

The captain of the Sirio refused to speak except to say that the vessel struck a reef not down on the charts.

The general opinion of the survivors seems to be that the calamity was due to exaggerated overconfidence of the captain, who, because he had sailed these waters many years, believed he knew every rock and dangerous shoal.

No fewer than eight monks were among the drowned.

The baby which was found floating alive by itself has found new parents by adoption.

The Spanish government is organizing a committee to relieve the Sirio survivors. A Cabinet meeting will be held at Madrid tomorrow to vote urgent credits.

The captains of the fishing trawlers, Joven Miguel and Vicenta LliCano, who rendered such noteworthy services at the time of the disaster, have been decorated with the naval order of merit.

TARHEELS CUT EARS FROM NEGRO CORPSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) Aug. 7.—Long before the sun rose today curious persons went to the scene of the lynching and cut off the toes, fingers and ears of the negroes, who were hung to the limb of a tree on the Henderson ball grounds.

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) Aug. 7.—Tonight, three companies of the North Carolina National Guard surround the jail at Salisbury, while sentries with loaded guns and orders to shoot to kill patrol the four streets that flank the prison. There have been threats and rumors of threats all day and into the night, but there has been no demonstration.

George Hall, the ex-convict of Montgomery county, who is said to have led the mob which lynched the three alleged murderers of the Lyerly family last night, is in the jail. The plan to rescue him, rumors of which caused Gov. Glenn to hurry troops to Salisbury, has not materialized.

The surviving negroes, Henry Lee, George Ervin and two women, are safe in the jail at Charlotte, and there is no danger for them.

The Supreme Court, which convened to try the instigators of the mob, acting under orders from the Governor, will not adjourn until every effort to convict the leaders of the mob has been exhausted.

The charge is being worked up, and many arrests are expected tomorrow. The Governor is determined to push the matter to the bitter end. The charge against the surviving defendants, against whom true bills were found, was continued until the regular meeting of the Rowan County Court.

CALLS FOR ARMED MEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

RALEIGH (N. C.) Aug. 7.—Gov. Glenn received this message from Sheriff Julian of Rowan county: "Send 100 armed men here at once ta assist me in maintaining order."

Gov. Glenn received this message from Sheriff Julian of Rowan county: "Send 100 armed men here at once to assist me in maintaining order."

The Governor wired the militia companies at Charlotte to proceed to Salisbury by special train at once.

Gov. Glenn states that some time ago he offered the Sheriff the service of militia but that the offer was declined as unnecessary. He characterized the lynching as a blot on the State, and said he will at once take steps to discover and bring to justice the guilty parties.

THREATEN ANOTHER LYNCHING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

GREENSBORO, (N. C.) Rumors that a plan has been formed to lynch one or more of three negroes in jail here for the alleged murder of Southern Railway Foreman Beacham, last week, are making the authorities uneasy. It is reported that railroad employés in several outside cities may come here for another lynching. The postponing of the preliminary hearing of the case until Friday has made the situation here decidedly serious.

LE DOUX WOMAN DOOMED TO HANG.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Emma Le Doux was this morning sentenced to be hanged October 19, on her conviction of the murder of Albert N. McVicar. Her attorneys presented affidavits intending to impeach the character of Juror Ritter, but Judge Nutter deemed them insufficient as a basis for the motion for a new trial. Attorney Charles H. Fairall, who conducted her defense, will appeal the case.

HAS BEEN A PUZZLE.

Mrs. Le Doux has been a puzzle to the jailers and all those who have come in contact with her since her arrest for the cruel murder of McVicar. Her nerve has been that of the strongest man.

She has never broken down, even under the hardest strain, and all devices of the prosecution to secure a confession from her were in vain.

She is not a woman of education or refinement, and that she is impulsive and liable to lose her self-control at a critical moment is shown by the way she abandoned the trunk with its ghastly contents and took the train for San Francisco.

She showed no skill in covering her tracks, so that it was an easy task for detectives to follow her trail and pile up circumstantial evidence that convicted her.

CONFIDENCE IN JAIL.

During her jail life she has evidently felt that no jury would convict her of murder in the first degree. Her whole manner in court conveyed the impression that she felt competent of her power over men, and that she counted on this to secure a disagreement of the jury.

It was evidently her passionate love for Le Doux that led her to commit the crime, and had her cunning been equal to her nerve, she would have given the detectives a great deal of trouble.

Even while the death sentence was pronounced, the woman plainly showed that she does not believe the authorities will ever hang her for the crime.

ARCHITECTS MOURN WHITE.

Three Organizations of Profession Adopt Resolution Expressing Sense of Great Loss.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The executive committees of the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, the Society of Beaux Arts Architects and the Architectural League of New York have adopted a resolution expressing their sense of the great loss which the profession and the art of architecture have sustained in the death of Stanford White, shot by Harry K. Thaw. The resolution says:

"His quick and generous appreciation of all that is beautiful, even beyond the field of his immediate profession, was so genuine that the influence of his work will long continue to be a stimulous to the artistic development in this country. Only those of us who have been closely associated with him professionally can fully appreciate the love and enthusiasm with which he devoted himself to art. He was a commanding personality, and and whatever he produced had the touch of genius."

Dist.-Atty. Jerome announces that he will positively conduct the prosecution of Thaw.

WILL FIGHT LONG FOR OPEN SHOP.

EMPLOYING LITHOGRAPHERS ISSUE STATEMENT.

Twenty Thousand Strikers Learn That Opponents Are Prepared for Year of Hostilities—Driver Shea Has Things His Own Way at Chicago Convention of Teamsters.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—President Stacher of the Employing Lithographers' Association, against the members of which some 20,000 men are on strike, issued the following statement today:

"We are prepared to continue against this strike for six months, and if necessary for a year. I am greatly pleased by the attitude of our members. We are unanimously in favor of arbitration and the open shop. We have not gone into this fight blindly, and we are in a position to keep up a fight no matter how long it may last or how much it may cost. The union having refused to arbitrate, there was no other course left open for us but to declare the open shop."

General President Hamilton of the Lithographers' Protective Association of the United States and Canada issued the following statement yesterday: "We have funds enough for an eight months' fight, and the men are all standing firm."

LARGE AMERICAN CITIES.

NEW YORK'S AREA GREATEST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The Census Bureau today issued a bulletin of statistics for 1904 of cities having a population of over 30,000, the cities covered numbering 151. Of these, New York held the largest land area, 209,218 acres; New Orleans, with 125,600 acres, and Chicago, with 114,932, ranking next. Hoboken, with 825 acres, had the smallest land area.

Though New York has only twice the population of Chicago, its current expenses are nearly four times as great. The next six largest cities of the country together expended less than New York. Though Chicago is one-third as large again as Philadelphia, the latter's running expenses are slightly greater. Though about equal in size with Baltimore, Boston's current expenses are nearly three times as great. Washington spends more than any of the next eight large cities of the country and twice that of other cities of about the same population. Only one-half of its expenditures are met by local taxation, the other half being paid by the United States government.

THE RUNNING EXPENSES.

Of the total running expenses of the 151 cities, 61.7 per cent. went for salaries and wages, and 38.3 for all other objects. The total receipts were $594,175,998, of which $472,423,858, or 79.7 per cent., were from taxes and other revenues, and $121,752,140, or 20.5 per cent., from loans increasing indebtedness. The receipts from municipal industries, such as gas and water works, and other commercial revenues, amounted to $112,296,527.

Nearly all of the $31,000,000 invested in gas works was reported by Philadelphia. Four cities were shown to be in the irrigation business, Denver, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City and San Antonio; three had toll bridges, New York, Covington and La Crosse, and two were operating municipal ferries, Boston and Portland, Or.

The aggregate value of the properties of all municipal industries as here reported was $790,570,726. The 151 cities have already met from general revenues nearly one-half the cost of their industrial plants, but still owe 53.4 per cent. of the total value. Outlays for permanent improvements are met from current revenue in American cities more generally than in British.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Doing Away With Tattooing.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Enlisted men in the navy have instituted a movement to do away with tattoo marking, which was formerly so poplar with sailors. Since the conviction of a Brooklyn man, through the efforts of officers of the Humane Society, for mutilating the arms of a young boy by decorating them with India ink designs, tattooers have shown unwillingness to embellish the bodies of men who are not known to be of age, and as few adults care to have their bodies decorated, the practice may soon become a thing of the past.

No Anti-American Uprising.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Ambassador Thompson, at Mexico City, after communicating with the thirty-two American consular offices in Mexico, has advised the State Department that the replies received by him indicate that there is no truth in reports of an uprising against foreigners, said to have been arranged for September.

SAWBONES SUES FOR SERVICES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Dr. Samuel Thompson Banes, a surgeon and physician in Philadelphia, has begun suit in the Supreme Court here against the estate of William T. Rainey to recover $33,070 for medical attendance and incidental expenses during the six years preceding Rainey's death. Rainey died in August, 1904. He was a wealthy resident of Philadelphia but had moved to New York shortly before his death. His executor, Rosa Rainey, is defendant in the case. Dr. Banes says in his complaint that in 1898, when Rainey became an invalid, an arrangement was made by which Rainey agreed to pay Dr. Banes $300 a day for every day of actual attendance.

MILK FAMINE IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Chicago is suffering from a milk famine, according to Chief Milk Inspector Thomas Grady. Owing to the dry season in the West, the green forage has been burned by the sun, and dairymen are using fodder prepared for next winter. It is estimated that the shortage in the normal supply milk amounts to 50 per cent. Eight-gallon cans of milk, which, under the contract price for August, have been selling at 90 cents, are selling as high as $3 in some cases. Milk is being brought to Chicago from points in Ohio as far distant as 300 miles. Ordinarily, about 28,200 eight-gallon cans of milk are received in Chicago every day. This shortage means cutting down the receipts to about 14,100 cans.

IMMORTAL MIKASA REFLOATS.

TOKIO, Aug. 7.—It is reported from Sasebo that, after repeated failures, the battleship Mikasa, which sank last September, after an explosion had occurred on board, was successfully floated today. The Mikasa was the flagship of Admiral Togo throughout the Russo-Japanese War.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT IN CRASH.

BRECON (Wales) Aug. 7.—The Duke of Connaught and members of his staff while riding in an automobile from Monmouth to Rhayader, today, had a narrow escape. The car collided with another and both were wrecked. The occupants had a severe shaking-up.

ITALY WATCHING FOR "REDS."

MILAN, Aug. 7.—The Italian police are observing carefully the arrivals at the frontier, it having been reported that a number of dangerous anarchists from the United States are about to enter Italy.

Greatest Slaughter of Price

In the History of Clothing Selling

One more gigantic victory for the May Company methods. The entire $25,000 stock Jones & Myer of Portland—bought at our own price—they needed the money—a May Co. buyer was on the spot with the cash, and the entire stock was shipped to our Los Angeles store.

THE MAY CO.

"Low Price"
"Quick Sale" Methods

The May Co. chain of stores extends from coast to coast. You will find one in nearly every city of any size—and wherever you find one you will also find the lowest priced quotations.

The May Co. buyers are represented in every trade and manufacturing center in America.

They are supplied with the ready cash—and are always prepared to snap up the good things.

Barely a day passes that one of our buyers does not close with a dealer or a manufacturer for a special stock at bargain prices.

Our numerous stores, selling for cash at a small margin of profit, form a quick outlet for clothing, furnishings, shoes, hats in any quantity.

Our local store has created a stir in local clothing circles; never before were prices so low in Los Angeles. Many local dealers have offered to buy out various lines at the prices we quote at retail, but the May Co. rules forbid selling to dealers.

Come in and see what the May Co. methods mean to you.

SALE STARTS

SUMMER

The many ills that come with the hot, sultry weather can be avoided by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, taken regularly as prescribed.

The exhausting heat of summer weather causes untold suffering and misery to thousands of men, women and children. Cholera infantum occur on all sides from dysentery, chills, cholera, typhoid and other fevers. A great number of cases from bad water and the consumption of unripe fruits by those whose digestive and stomachs are not in a healthy condition.

If all were more careful to keep their systems in a vigorous condition the germs of these diseases could not obtain a foothold. Leading doctors agree that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has no equal as a destroyer of poisonous germs in the system. It aids digestion and assimilation; purifies and enriches the blood; regulates the bowels; quiets the nerves; strengthens the muscles; stimulates the heart's action and builds up and sustains the entire system.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

can be retained by the most delicate stomach, as it is a predigested food, ready digested. It is a medicine absolutely pure and contains no fusel oil, and is the only whiskey recognized as a medicine.

TIRED OF BANKING.

how the bank could have been plundered for so large an amount and the directors know nothing about it."

GRABBED FROM GRABOOLSKI.

Mrs. Harry Graboolski drew from the safe-deposit department of the bank $385 today for "safe keeping." She had the money in her possession but a few moments when she was robbed of her purse in a street car. The robber escaped.

MAGICALLY DISAPPEARED.

Mrs. D. Herman of Sangamon street complained this afternoon to Inspector Shippy that the contents of her deposit box in the safety-deposit vaults of the suspended bank had been tampered with. According to her story she had placed $600 in three envelopes in the safety-deposit box which she had rented until 1907. Mrs. Herman said that when a clerk opened the box where the money was she found that an envelope which contained $150 was empty, and that $115 had been extracted from another envelope.

CALL FOR POLICE.

The call for additional police was caused by the fear that depositors and their friends would storm the bank and precipitate a riot when rumors spread that the contents of some of the safe-deposit vaults had been tampered with. Persons with money in the vaults were said to have found their savings gone. These rumors originated in the butcher shop of Otto Blaurs at Marshfield avenue and Cornish street. Blaurs said his sister had gone to the vaults, and when she went to get the money it was gone.

The stories of alleged tampering with the boxes were passed through the crowd, and helped to excite the bank's patrons.

JUSTICE WAS TARDY.

Lelar, Assistant Chief of Police Wittier, with Inspector Shippy and Bank Examiner Jones, went to Justice Severson and asked him to issue a warrant for the arrest of President Stensland. The charge in the complaint was the issuance of the warrant is void. Justice Severson was not informed to issue the warrant, and the same returned to the bank empty-handed.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

Judge Bretano of the Superior Court has appointed John C. Fetzer receiver for the closed bank. The court fixed the bond of Receiver Fetzer at $1,000,-000.

The bill of complaint filed in court charges mismanagement.

The appointment of a receiver was asked by two women depositors of the bank, who hold claims against the institution aggregating less than $300. The court was told that there are more than twenty thousand persons who have money deposited in the alleged insolvent institution, and that most of the creditors are persons of little means and know little or nothing about business methods. The charge was made that the officers of the bank have taken with them large sums 'of money belonging to the institution, and the court was asked to summon them to appear before him, in the event they can be found, and to demand that they give an accounting of the money alleged to be in their possession.

JUSTICE SEVERSON RESUMES.

After further consultation with Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler and Inspector Shippy, Justice Severson decided to issue a warrant for the arrest of President Stensland. The complaint was signed by Bank Examiner Jones, and alleged a violation of section 25 of the banking act, which refers specifically to receiving deposits after knowledge of insolvency is had by the officials. The warrant was given to a detective to be served on President Stensland when found.

SENDING OUT DESCRIPTIONS.

The police department today sent out throughout the United States a message giving a description of President Stensland, and asking for his arrest. The message was as follows:

"Police out for and arrest for violation of the Illinois State banking laws, H. Stensland, about 55 years of age, 5 ft. 9 or 10 ins. in height, blue eyes, about two hundred pounds in weight. Understand he has shaved his beard and has a smooth face. He is bald, and wore when last seen a soft hat and straw hat. He is lightcomplexioned, tending to sandy. He is not heard from at Duluth. Send information to Chief of Police Collins."

"DIRECTOR OF POLICE SHIPPY."

The following description of Herring has been sent broadcast over the wires by the police:

"Wanted for embezzlement, Henry W. Herring, cashier of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank. Complainant, Milwaukee Avenue State Bank., Carpenter and Milwaukee avenue. Forty-five years old, 6 ft. 2 ins. tall, stout build, dark complexion, chestnut hair, dark brown eyes, light suit. He is a good dresser. Send all information to Chief Shippy."

"INSPECTOR SHIPPY."

R. Forgan, president of the National Bank of this city, today telephoned the circulation of the report that small depositors of the Stensland Bank will lose their savings. He prepared to say that no matter how much bad paper is found in the bank Forgan, "the depositors will get at least 65 per cent, and maybe 80 per cent of their money."

WHEN IT WAS GOOD.

POTTERS WERE POTTERS

Ancient Furnaces Still Contain Charcoal Unearthed in Montezuma Valley.

[SPECIAL WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Franklin P. Henebry of Denver has found that he has found in Montezuma Valley, famous for its ruins, a pottery factory. He says the entire villages were given to that industry. He dug over 100 other cliff dwellings, found large quantities of the ancient pottery and unearthed several furnaces which were still pieces of pottery. The dwellings are, for the most part, triangular, with one of the sides open.

He says that the cliff dwellers' ruins are subject for study for years, and that they were more civilized and interesting than generally supposed.

Bringing Alleged Criminal from Canada for One Offense and Putting Him in Prison for Another Causes Comment from New York Supreme Bench.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—That the honor of the United States is of more importance than the punishment of American criminals was the statement made by Judge Hough in the United States Circuit Court today in the habeas corpus proceedings instituted in behalf of Charles C. Browne.

Browne was formerly employed in the customs service in this city and was extradited in Canada and taken to Sing Sing Prison to begin a two years' term for conspiracy to defraud the government.

W. M. K. Olcott, of counsel for Browne, denounced the action of the Federal authorities for extraditing Browne for one offense and incarcerating him in prison for another, as a trick beneath the dignity of the government of this country and a violation of the treaty with Canada.

In taking the papers in this case and reserving decision, Judge Hough commented on the Rauscher decision in the United States Supreme Court, in which the contentions now advanced in behalf of Browne were upheld, and it was under these circumstances that he spoke of the honor of the United States being of more importance than the conviction of criminals.

Browne was convicted of conspiring to defraud the government and sentenced to two years in prison. He jumped a $12,500 bail bond and fled to Canada. Extradition was refused on the conspiracy charge, but he finally was extradited on an amended charge of being a fugitive from justice.

ARMY SHOOTING CONTEST.

PACIFIC GROVE, Aug. 7.—The army rifle and pistol competition for the Pacific division at the Presidio of Monterey was concluded today. There were, altogether, 93 competitors in rifle shooting and forty with pistols.

Gen. MacArthur today visited the Presidio, addressing the whole command and complimenting the successful competitors.

The team of pistol marksmen to represent the Pacific division of the Fort Sheridan, Ill., army competition stands as follows:

Post Quartermaster Sergeant W. J. Specer, 276; Sergeant W. H. Spree, Company F, Fourteenth Cavalry, 276; Saddler C. E. Hester, Company M, Fourteenth Cavalry, 276; Sergeant Patrick Fitzgerald, 271; Musician Oscar Walker, Company D, Engineer Corps, 271; Sergeant D. Roe, Company A, Third Infantry, 271.

These scores were all surpassed by Capt. W. H. H. Chapman with 281.

The commissioned officers' team consists of Lieut. A. Lippincott, Fourteenth Cavalry, 278; Lieut. A. E. Alexander, Twentieth Infantry, 277; Lieut. A. E. Ahrends, Second Infantry, 271.

Gold medals were won by Ahrends and Spencer.

The standing of the commissioned officers in the rifle competition for the four days' shoot was:

Capt. Harry S. Steele, Artillery Corps, 754 points; First Lieut. N. B. Wallace, Twentieth Infantry, 719; Second Lieut. S. A. Harris, Fourteenth Infantry, 708; First Lieut. A. S. Cowan, Fourteenth Infantry, 666; Capt. F. G. Stritzinger, Twenty-second Infantry, 666; Second Lieut. A. Fisher, Fourteenth Cavalry, 657; Second Lieut. A. B. Barber, Engineer Corps, 655; Second Lieut. B. W. Phillips, Twentieth Infantry, 651; Second Lieut. M. V. Thomlinson, Twenty-second Infantry, 652; First Lieut. G. G. Haanah, Tenth Infantry, 627.

MAIL ORDER HOUSES BANKING.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago mail order houses threaten to cut into the business of interior banks. For weeks the agricultural sections of Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Nebraska and Missouri have been flooded with circular letters, offering 6 per cent. for deposits. How mail houses can afford to pay 6 per cent. for money is puzzling Chicago bankers. The mail order houses plan to secure customers for whom to do banking, as well as buy goods from them.

Clinton Wray, secretary of the Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh, was arrested at Toronto yesterday, accused of having stolen over $125,000 of the company's funds. Wray consented to return and stand trial without extradition proceedings.

AMERICANS KILL JAPANESE POACHERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says that a report of the killing of five Japanese fishermen and the capture of twelve Japanese prisoners on Attu Island, the westmost of the Aleutian group, the prisoners having been taken by the revenue cutter McCulloch, commanded by Capt. J. C. Cantwell, was made to the Department of Commerce and Labor today by Edwin W. Sims, solicitor for the department, who is in Alaska to enforce the law prohibiting all persons not citizens of the United States from fishing in Alaskan waters. The Japanese killed were shot by Americans on Attu Island before the McCulloch arrived.

Lawrence O. Murray, acting Secretary of Commerce and Labor, promptly turned the cable dispatch over to Robert Bacon, Acting Secretary of State. Mr. Bacon will immediately communicate the information he has received to the Japanese Ambassador, and will express regret that the Japanese poachers were so summarily dealt with by the Americans on Attu Island.

Because of the encroachment of Japanese fishermen in Alaskan waters, Congress was obliged during the session just ended to enact two laws calculated to encourage the fishing industry of Alaska among Americans, and to prohibit Japanese and other aliens from engaging in it.

The cable dispatch from Mr. Sims does not make entirely clear the character of the offense of which the Japanese were guilty, but it does show that the officers and crew of the McCulloch were in no way responsible for the killing of the fishermen, and that those who were captured were trespassers on American territory, having come ashore probably to salt and cure their catch.

"There is no reason to expect international complications as a result of the incident, but there is no question that the situation in the Aleutian Islands, especially as it affects the Japanese, is a delicate one, and that numerous difficulties are liable to be encountered in enforcing the laws protecting American citizens and their rights.

At Hollister, Philip Ransdell, aged 7, shot his little sister, Adelaide, aged 5, yesterday, with a 22-rifle, by accident, probably fatally wounding her.

Two hundred and fifty men employed in the blacksmith department of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company's shops at Sacramento walked out yesterday in a body to the office of Stephen Uren, the foreman, and demanded an increase of wages. After the conference the men went back to their work. Foreman Uren will refer the matter to the higher officials of the company.

Julius Kruttschnitt, director of operation and maintenance of way of the Harriman system, after a stay of several weeks in San Francisco, left last night for Shasta county. Later, he will proceed to Chicago via Portland.

POLICE WATCH CONVENTION.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Delegates to the teamsters' convention opened the second day's session with policemen in citizens' clothes on the stairs leading to the hall, uniformed men in the street below and reserves in the City Hall across the street. This force was not to protect property or non-union men, but to protect and preserve the drivers themselves in their convention.

Cornelius P. Shea, who led the organized teamsters of Chicago in the great struggle a year ago, scored a victory today over his opponents in the first skirmish in his campaign for control of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. Opposing factions, one headed by Shea and the other by his chief rival for the office of president, Albert Young, lined up on a preliminary issue of the election and the vote showed that the Shea contingent numbered 132 as against 63 for the Young forces. Several times in the succeeding minutes votes were taken on factional issues and in each instance the Shea crowd won easily.

The exclusion of Patrick McMahon, over whose credentials delegates came to blows yesterday, was ratified by the delegates of today's session. Forty-one New York delegates were excluded for arrears of dues. It was also decided to make the convention a closed affair.

The remainder of the session was devoted to discussing the case of Albert Dijeu of San Francisco, whose credentials were rejected by the committee because he had been accused of misappropriating funds of his union. A committee was appointed to hear the case.

RESIDENCE MAKES CITIZENSHIP.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 7.—The naturalization treaty has been approved in committee, and will come up for vote at the next session of the Pan-American Congress. The treaty provides that if a native-born citizen of any country, who has been naturalized elsewhere, returns to the country of his origin he resumes his original citizenship upon the declaration of his intention to remain, and that this original citizenship is assumed without declaration after a two-years' residence in the country of his origin.

WHY CYPRESS SINKS.

Scientists from Washington Make a Most Singular Discovery Concerning This Variety of Timber.

Southern lumbermen, says the American Magazine, take great delight in a story of certain scientific gentlemen who were sent by the government at Washington to study the growth and uses of the bald cypress at a time when cypress lumber was comparatively new to the market. They went direct to a large camp, presented credentials to the superintendent and watched with minute care the processes of cutting the timber and floating it down stream.

Cypress is a light, spongy wood that grows in swamps and absorbs water readily. The scientific gentlemen requested the superintendent to throw some logs into the river separate from the main rafts and followed their progress down stream in a boat. After floating south for some distance the logs with one accord sank. Much surprised, the scientific gentlemen returned and followed another consignment. The phenomenon was repeated; at a certain distance from the camp all the logs sank.

The gentlemen from Washington, being very scientific, did not think to question the unlettered superintendent about the power of cypress to become water-logged, but after numerous observations and much comparing of notes, reported to their department the startling discovery that cypress floated north of a certain parallel of latitude and south of it invariably sank. Of the cause they were not yet certain, but hazarded the suggestion that it might lie in the rotary motion of the earth, increasing in speed as the logs approached the equator until it was powerful enough to draw them under.

New York's Manners.

One of the inevitable accompaniments of the excursion season is rowdyism. For a not inconsiderable portion of the community having a good time is synonymous with what they term "raising h——l." When possible, this results from or is combined with a free indulgence in liquor of some sort. Of the fifty-seven varieties of hoodlumism, that occurring in crowded trolley cars or on excursion boats is about the most disagreeable and the least really vicious of the lot.

It results simply from high animal spirits engendered primarily by the infrequent holiday from work. The rowdies are, as a rule, nuisances, not criminals. They deserve suppressions, sharp and severe, but they are plainly not anarchists and do not threaten the stability of society. These "unspeakable young rowdies" to put it strongly, are eminently in need of clear-cut and unmistakable police instruction as to the rights of others in public conveyances.

To argue from their operations, however, that New York is afflicted with a "general swinishness of public manners" is hardly justified. This community is, as American communities go, an orderly one, in which the rights of the individual in public places are, as a rule, respected and protected.—[New York Globe.

Value of American Railroads.

The 220,000 miles of main track of the railways of the United States, represent property to the extent of $16,000,000,000, or as much as the total value of all the property in the country in 1860, the year of Lincoln's election. Their income of over $2,000,000,000 a year is very nearly four times the annual revenue of the United States government. The number of men on their rolls is 1,500,000, an army as great as the combined forces that Oyama and Linevitch had in Manchuria at the time of the peace of Portsmouth. The railroads are a vast interest. Anything which would hamper them in their legitimate activities would deal a hard blow to every important industry in the country.—[Leslie's Weekly.

WINE LEADS TO TRAGEDY.

Bacchanalian Orgy Ends in Mysterious Killing.

Reveler Shot by Friend in Drunken Sport.

Two Men Are Held in Jail for Investigation.

Malcolm MacKenzie, a rancher, was killed by Charles D. Nichols at dawn yesterday in an isolated cabin near the Pernando bridge just north of the Cahuenga Pass, and another widow has been added to the list of wine-ruined victims. Nichols and Pat Flaherty are held at the county jail pending an investigation of the death of MacKenzie. The tragedy resulted from, and was the f ale of a long spree on the part of these three men.

Deep sorrow has thrown a shadow over the household of Mrs. F. A. MacKenzie at No. 2110 Vallejo street where a sturdy son, the manager of the California Macaroni Co., and a beautiful daughter who is about to be married, are trying to console a woman who feels that liquor has drowned all her happiness.

In strong contrast with this shattered home was the scene that confronted Sheriff White and Constable De la Monte upon their arrival early yesterday morning at the place of the tragedy. Surrounded by dusty underbrush, mantled with weather-beaten garments and by scattered piles of tin cans and rubbish the cabin is in a filthy condition. Within the two-room shack the body of MacKenzie was found reclining in the corner of a rude cot built against the wall. The left shoulder of the man was almost shot away and a sickening hole in the breast showed that death had been instantaneous from a shotgun held not far distant and above the lounging body. Diagonally across the room Pat Flaherty lay in drunken stupor upon another cot, oblivious of the horrible tragedy that had been committed within a few feet of him. Upon being awakened he protested ignorance of everything that had led up to the death of MacKenzie, and claimed that he had not even heard the roar of the shotgun as the fatal charge went home. His eyes bulged from their sockets as he gazed upon the blood spattered wall and the limp form with its head lolling upon a gaping breast.

Under a sycamore tree 100 feet from the hovel Charles D. Nichols slept in forgetfulness of his act, which snuffed out a life. Nichols was so drunk that he could hardly stand when aroused by the officers.

"I killed him, yes, but it was all an accident," he stammered. "I was getting ready to go rabbit hunting and when I put in the shell and locked the gun, there was a great noise and I left the cabin to escape the choking smoke. I am very sorry—so sorry—but it was all an accident."

The fact was developed later that Nichols staggered to the Fraser ranch and told Mrs. Fraser that he had killed a man accidentally. Fraser notified the Sheriff and the Coroner.

Almost convulsed with sobs and clinging to the neck of her daughter, Mrs. McKenzie told her story to a Times reporter yesterday afternoon. "My husband was a strong, lovable man and a good provider until the thirst for liquor ruined him," she sobbed. "I have never given him up; I have always loved him and it has always been my hope that some day he would see the truth again.

"It has been seven years now since he left me, and while others have urged me to ask for a separation I have never given him up. The door has always been open. And this is the end; it is all over, and the hope is gone.

"He used to come, but the intervals between his visits became longer and longer, and now he will never come again. My husband for a number of years held a responsible position with the Singer Manufacturing Company, and we were happy then. How the liquor mastered him I do not know. He just drank a little, then more, and finally one night he did not come home. The rest I have tried to forget. I can say no more."

No charge has been lodged against Nichols and Flaherty, and the disposition of the case depends upon the Coroner's verdict at an inquest Thursday at the undertaking establishment of Robert L. Garrett & Co.

There were no indications in the cabin of a struggle or trouble of any kind, and Flaherty claims that the two men were the best of friends. Nichols is spoken of by the neighboring ranchers as a good-tempered man. On the other hand, they say, MacKenzie had a flashing temper and was the instigator of the drunken sprees that took place in the little cabin week after week. It is known that for the last five days the three men had been drinking red wine, and in the early dawn of yesterday MacKenzie procured a jug of "Dago red" and carried it home. This jug, half emptied, was found beside the cot. In the adjoining room of the cabin were three empty demijohns that had contained wine. The men have been given employment by the surrounding ranchers for many months, but of late were refused. They would work for a week or two and then get drunk for several days.

At Hollywood it is generally believed that Nichols squandered $50,000 which came to him four years ago upon the death of his father, who was a resident of Santa Barbara, and at one time a justice of the peace. Others are of the opinion that Nichols never had large sums of money.

The fatal shotgun was a rusty double-barreled weapon of 12 gauge, with one hammer missing and in bad condition generally.

LINDSEY ORDERS BALLOTS SEIZED.

PROSPECT OF BLOODSHED OVER DENVER ELECTIONS.

Votes Cast on Franchise Propositions Last May, Furnish Basis of Sensations—Six Men Found Guilty of Contempt—Supreme Court Has Matters Under Advisement.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DENVER, Aug. 7.—There may be serious trouble before tomorrow morning over the ballot boxes containing the votes cast on the franchises last May.

This afternoon Judge Lindsey sent the Sheriff to seize the boxes, but he was met with a refusal on the part of the watchers. Later, when the Sheriff appeared with an imperative demand for the boxes he found that a number of men had gathered and he was told he could not have them without a fight. He reported this to Judge Lindsey, who tonight instructed him to form a posse and seize the boxes at any cost.

The day has been replete with sensations over the franchise matters. Judge Booth, alone of the District Court, decided that his court had no jurisdiction over the inquiry into the franchise contest cases instituted by Judge Lindsey and the county court. Attorneys for the corporations took the matter to the Supreme Court, where it was taken under advisement until tomorrow, but no order was issued to stop Judge Lindsey, pending the decision.

In the meantime Judge Lindsey proceeded with the hearing and found six men guilty of contempt, four of them for refusing to be sworn, the other two being the watchers who refused to give up the box. The four who refused to be sworn are J. Cook, Jr., who is said to have held the hand on which alleged fraudulent tax receipts were issued; Fred Williams, former chairman of the Republican City Central Committee; H. L. Doherty of the gas company, and J. N. Ordway, president of the election commission.

Morton Thinks Insurance Companies Will Soon Be Doing Old-Time Business in Europe.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, accompanied by G. T. Wilson, third vice-president of the society, spent yesterday in Berlin, going over the records of the company's German interests. He left Paris last night and will sail for America August 15.

Mr. Morton said: "My investigations in Europe justify me in believing that the campaign against American insurance companies on this side of the Atlantic has practically subsided. I believe all of us will shortly be doing our old-time business here.

"I have been giving much attention to the new French insurance regulations, and the more I think of them the more I am inclined to believe we shall find it possible to continue to operate in France."

FIVE ADRIFT ON LAKE ONTARIO.

WOLCOTT (N. Y.) Aug. 7.—William Dickey and two men and two women, whose names are not known, are adrift somewhere on Lake Ontario in Dickey's gasoline launch. Sunday night the launch, in distress, spoke a passing vessel, but declined help. Later the craft was spoken by two men in a canoe. It then asked for aid. It was sent quickly from shore, but the launch could not be found. A searching party cruised over that part of the lake without finding the boat.

Charged by the police of San Francisco with being fugitives from justice, Guiseppe Di Ryana and Attalio Courto, arrested for alleged collections for bogus fire losses in the recent Pacific Coast disaster and released on bond, were taken into custody in New York yesterday and held for thirty days, to await their transfer to Calif—

SARATOGA GAMBLERS RAIDED.

Gov. Higgins Prods Sheriff and Latter Causes Excitement at Crowded Clubhouse.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SARATOGA (N. Y.) Aug. 7.—The first police raid on a gambling house in Saratoga since the time of Cale Mitchell was made last night. It followed the receipt by Sheriff Cavanaugh of Gov. Higgins's communication regarding the reenforcement of the anti-gambling law.

The Chief of Police and a squad of patrolmen visited the "bridge whist" club conducted by Joe Ullman and arrested ten men—Ullman, William MacKin and M. L. Herman, the alleged proprietors, and the alleged faro dealers and rollers.

The raid was made at a time when the clubhouse was crowded. Players were greatly worried until it was explained that only the proprietors and their employes will be held. At the Town Hall the prisoners gave bail to appear in Police Court today. Bail of $500 in each case was supplied by local men.

Half an hour after the raid, police patrol wagons went to the clubhouse and began to remove the furniture.

RATES HIS SERVICES HIGH.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—Dr. C. C. Hendricks of Atlantic City entered suit in the County Court here today against Mrs. Laura Biggar Bennett, widow of H. M. Bennett, a former theatrical manager of Brooklyn and Pittsburgh, claiming $299,980 for professional services. Dr. Hendricks alleges that he attended Mrs. Bennett in his private sanatorium in New Jersey for two years, and that he was paid only $20 during that time.

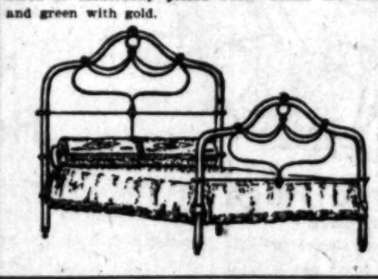
End-of-the-Week Specials

$7.50 Bed for $5.75

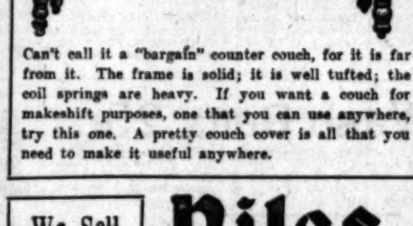
Can't find a better bargain in all Los Angeles at the regular price, $7.50. Now it is offered to you at $5.75, a clear saving of $1.75. We are not offering the bed at reduced prices because it is undesirable, but because we want your attention to our big stock of moderately priced beds. Colors are cream and green with gold.



$8.50 Rocker for $4.50

Here's a solid oak rocker that is made by a factory with a "quality" reputation. It is built right. We can give you your choice of either weathered oak or mahogany finish. Unlike ordinary "sale" rockers, it is well balanced and comfortable. Just figure the saving over again.

$3.75 Couch for $2.95



Can't call it a "bargain" counter couch, for it is far from it. The frame is solid; it is well tufted; the coil springs are heavy. If you want a couch for makeshift purposes, one that you can use anywhere, try this one. A pretty couch cover is all that you need to make it useful anywhere.

Sanitary Couch $4.75

REDUCED FROM $6.75.

Don't confuse this with the ordinary sanitary couches. This one is made of angle iron. The springs and supporting coils are made of tempered steel. It is finished in aluminum bronze. It may be used as a single three-quarter or full width bed. One side may be turned up forming a comfortable back.

What You Pay

For common beer—usually—will buy Schlitz beer, if you ask for it. The purity costs you nothing, yet it costs us more than half the cost of our brewing.

Purity means healthfulness — freedom from germs. It means a clean beer, filtered and sterilized. It means an aged beer—aged until it cannot cause biliousness.

That is what Schlitz beer means to you.

marked the heaviest score Tuesday since the contest [illegible]erally speaking, the third week is about the dullest, but yesterday proved a re[illegible]ception. There were not [illegible] individual scores, but [illegible] all the contestants turned in subscriptions, which [illegible] grand total. Almost a [illegible] have now been scored, [illegible] has yet nearly four [illegible]. The last quarter invaria[illegible] and trebles in the num[illegible] turned in, as compared [illegible] days of the contest.

TWO BOYS LEAD.

[illegible] of Long Beach and [illegible] of Pasadena were the [illegible] yesterday. John [illegible] 4000 points and Blake [illegible] number, and as a conse[illegible] the rises a row in the [illegible]morning. John crowds Po[illegible] a place, and Blake steps [illegible]na boy's shoes, crowding [illegible] to his friend, Ignatius [illegible] Ignatius feels rather [illegible] beside Orestes.

[illegible] his stunt of 1000 [illegible] last week, and so doubled [illegible] back. Yesterday he turned [illegible] his limit of 2000, and [illegible] over the 21,000 into the [illegible] this morning.

[illegible]Smith, the San Bernardino [illegible]sentative, is not the least [illegible]ised over Merle Prewitt's [illegible], and scores in 3000 [illegible] brings her well up to [illegible]erator line of the first 100,-

[illegible]der appeared at head[illegible]ters yesterday and ad[illegible]r score by 2000 points, ar[illegible]riving in the 32,000 column. She'll catch that Covina girl napping if Zetta isn't careful.

THESE RISE.

Earl Robinson rises a row and crowds Maud Ashurst down, and Minnie Ponedel takes Bertha Cohen's place by grace of less than 100 points. Bertha was sick in bed all day yesterday, which accounts for her falling down a peg. Just wait till that midget gets on her feet again and she will see about that fourteenth row.

Joanna Cameron turned in over 1500 points yesterday, and lacks only a few of reaching the 20,000 row. Edna Wagner landed almost 1000 points, too, and Veda Snow sent in an even 1000, while 500 points were turned in for Elizabeth McTear, the Santa Monica girl.

SEE THEM CLIMB.

Paul Steintorf sent up over 500 points, and Mary LaLanne brought in almost 500. Jewel Denehie goes up two rows this morning, and lands in the 13,000 row, and Mansie Kim jumps one and arrives in the 11,000's, crowding that San Diego girl down another peg. Estella Green advances one row and Harry Wood jumps Frank Wiggins, who had the bad luck to have a charge back from new to old yesterday, which decreased his score 100 points. Both these boys will soon enter the dress circle and stand with the five-figure crowd, but a little South Pasadena girl, Evelyn Oakley, jumped them both last night, as she turned in over 1000 points, and is heading straight for the 10,000 row. It will be a race between the three to see which one gets there first.

Myrtle McCarger came in yesterday and was delighted to find that some well-wisher had sent in a subscription which raised her score more than 500 points.

A DESERVING GIRL.

Rose Leonett is a deserving contestant. She has worked in the most persevering way ever since she entered the contest. Just now she is having hard luck, for her mother is ill and it is only now and then a day that Rose can leave home and work. A few subscriptions now would be most worthily bestowed upon a girl who has tried earnestly and honestly to win out. Rose seeks a scholarship in the Dobinson School of Expression.

THAT POPULAR PRIZE.

Fully one-third of the girls engaged in the contest are seeking musical scholarships. This estimate indicates how popular that prize piano will be. Several of these girls have no piano, and would be perfectly happy to become possessor of the beautiful Schumann instrument which is offered as the first prize, in addition to first choice of scholarships. Never was a piano so sought after as this one.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

The Bisbee (Ariz.) Review of July 27, contains the following notice of the young Arizonan who entered the contest when it was three weeks old:

Orestes Orfila, eldest son of Attorney A. Orfila of this city, arrived in the city last evening from Tucson in company with his father. Young Orfila enjoys the distinction of being the third prize winner of the Los Angeles Times voting contest in 1905. He is again a candidate, at the instigation of The Times, for second honors in the same line. Owing to the fact that young Orfila entered The Times contest late in the season last year, he was unable to get the first prize, but for the time devoted to the work he outstripped all competitors, running close to the leaders. He will make a strong bid for the first prize in this year's contest.

Young Orfila is a bright looking youngster, 13 years of age. He modestly replied to the Review man's question as to his chances to win that he "would try his best to do so," and that was about all that he young fellow could be prevailed upon to say.

Among those who lent their assistance and patronage to Orfila in the 1905 contest for Times honors were many prominent officials of both Arizona and Mexico.

The Times gives an annual prize to those who secure the highest number of subscribers to that paper, and scholarships and money are included in the list. These are eagerly sought by the enterprising youth of the Southwest.

Young Orfila secured a large number of subscriptions outside the confines of the United States, the popularity of the Orfila name in Mexico probably contributing to his success. Still the young man deserves much credit for the tireless work he performed.

For the past school year young Orfila has been in attendance on school at Los Angeles, his tuition being paid for by The Times as per their scholarship agreement with vote getters.

PRIZES AT STAKE.

The contestant having the highest score at the close of the contest will have first choice of scholarships and, in addition, the $500 piano. The second highest will have second choice of scholarships and the first cash prize of $200, the third will have third choice of scholarships and the cash prize of $125, and so on to the end of the list. The list of scholarships, which may be enlarged before the close of the contest, follows:

University of Southern California, Preparatory School.
University of Southern California, College of Liberal Arts.
University of Southern California, College of Oratory, Beulah Wright, Dean.
St. Matthew's Military School, (Episcopal) Burlingame, Cal.

Rosenblest's College of Garment Cutting and Ladies' Tailoring.
Pacific Telegraph School.

CASH PRIZES ADDED.

In accordance with its usual custom during the previous five contests conducted by The Times, special cash prizes will be offered in addition to the scholarship. The sum of $1100 will be divided this year among contestants ranking highest. These cash prizes are designed to help defray the student's incidental or living expenses while attending school and will be divided according to the following scale:

3	110
4	100

PRIZE PIANO.

A special prize is offered this year besides the fifteen cash prizes printed above—a $500 Schumann piano or any other make of equal value to be found in the Bartlett Music House. The contestant who scores the largest number of points will have first choice of scholarship and, in addition, the $500 piano.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Persons wishing to aid any contestant can most effectually do so by filling out the subscription blank printed at the bottom of this page and sending it to The Times office, together with the cash. Fill in the name of the contestant you desire to so aid and you may be sure he or she will get proper credit for the points.

[The Times will print notices during the contest concerning the various educational institutions from whom scholarships have been secured for contestants. The object in publishing these notices is to set forth the advantages of each school in order that contestants may be able to choose intelligently the particular school they desire. This morning The Times presents some of the advantages of the Occidental College.]

OCCIDENTAL COLLEGE.

The scholarship offered in The Times contest by Occidental College has ever been a most popular one.

The college buildings in the northwestern part of the city, on the Pasadena and Los Angeles lines of railway, are most conveniently situated.

Sycamore Grove Park, beautiful terraces and extensive private grounds surround the most charming college lawns and gardens to be found in the Southwest. Beyond these on every side rise the foothills and ranges of granite mountains with snow-capped Old Baldy looking down like a silent monitor over all.

In this ideal spot Occidental College reaches out and gathers to herself each successive year new advantages.

The beautiful Stimson Library, fronting on Pasadena avenue, with its large halls, affords ample accommodation for college receptions, as well as valuable literature to the student and to the residents of Highland Park.

The Hall of Letters, the headquarters of the college proper, already a building of magnificent proportions, is undergoing extensive improvements.

The Academy building, which formerly accommodated both college and academic students, is also being enlarged, the combined cost amounting to $15,000.

The physics department has recently received $1000 to be expended in additional apparatus.

Music and art have been given an impetus during the past year, each under the direction of most competent teachers.

There will be at least a half a dozen additions to the faculty for the coming year, these selected from the foremost ranks of educators.

The past year has certainly been Occidental's best year. It has been crowded with good things for the college. The endowment fund of $225,000 has been realized, and certain friends have pledged sums that raise it for the next five years to the equivalent of $260,000. More land has been acquired, and an option is held on a further ten acres.

It is designed in the very near future to put a fine observatory on the sightly hill that runs up from the rear of the college buildings. A handsome stone wall is almost completed around the campus. The athletic field is inclosed by a high board fence. The large ampitheater finished, cinder-tracked, tennis courts, inclosed court for basket ball, and, indeed everything that goes to complete one of the best athletic fields on the Pacific Coast. But the climax of all the good things that have come the way of this prosperous college during the past red-letter year in its history is the securing of John Willis Baer as its president. A man of more than national reputation, with a personal acquaintance possessed by few, and no other man more lovingly esteemed by those who know him.

There is a great future for this rapidly growing institution, a future already assured. It is distinctly a college, not a university. Its ideal in curricula, equipment, professional ability and in scholarship is to be the first among its peers.

Classified Liners.

Times "Liner" Advertisers—Important. Note change in rate for Sunday classified advertisements. Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1905, the rate for Sunday "Liners" was raised to 1¼ cents per word for each insertion; minimum charge, 25 cents, as at present. This slight advance is amply justified by the present Sunday circulation of The Times, which averages over 70,000 copies. (When the 1-cent-per-word rate was established in 1893, The Times Sunday circulation was only 14,000 copies.) The "Liner" rate for the daily—1 cent per word—will stand as at present.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night, and secure prompt and careful attention. Rate: one cent a word each insertion in the Daily; 1¼ cents per word in the Sunday edition; minimum charge, 25c.

"Liner (classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify."

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10 o'clock Saturday nights. Rate 1¼ cents per word.

ANNANDALE HEIGHTS.
LARGE LOTS—Many of them 50x200.
LOW PRICES—$190 to $400.
EASY TERMS—$10 down and $5 per month.
LOCATION—In the beautiful foothill district between Garvanza and Eagle Rock, between Los Angeles and Pasadena.
SURROUNDINGS—Look up the "Pink Sheet" of The Times for Sunday, July 22 and see picture and description of new $27,000 Annandale Golf clubhouse; their grounds, San Rafael Heights and Mr. Huntington's new, swell, suburban tract lie just east of Annandale Heights, between Annandale Heights and Pasadena; this will be the finest suburban district near Los Angeles, a place for millionaires' country homes; joining Annandale Heights and to the north and west is Eagle Rock Valley, of which you have been reading; you know of the new car line and the fine improvements that are going in; to the south and west lie Garvanza, Highland Park and Los Angeles.
Annandale Heights is ¾ mile from the present city limits and within the new district first to be annexed.
ALTITUDE—The elevation is 900 feet above sea level.
CLIMATE—The best, frostless, protected from the sandstorms that are so disagreeable in some localities and open to the refreshing ocean breeze; the ocean is visible from some of the higher lots on a clear day.
SOIL—A rich, decomposed granite, free from adobe.
WATER—Abundance of water now piped to the tract and mains now being layed on all streets as fast as the street grading will permit.
STREETS—Are now being graded and will be oiled.
THE CAR LINE IS COMING. BUY NOW. The population of Los Angeles will double in the next five years. What will these lots, located and surrounded as they are, be worth then?
What will they be worth in one year when the car line is completed and the district is half built up?

WILL BUY—
Coeur d'Alene, Idaho Mining Stocks.
Snowstorm, $2.50.
Big Creek, 35c.
Tarbox, 7c.
Idaho Los Angeles, 10c.
Tamarack and Chesapeake.
Reindeer (copper,) 10c.
I have had ten years' experience in the Coeur d'Alene mining district and know that country thoroughly, having personally examined a number of the best known properties in the district. Through my efforts in placing the treasury stock of numerous prospects they have been developed into paying mines, among these being Snowstorm, Big Creek and Tamarack and Chesapeake.
Snowstorm, I originally sold on this market at 11c. It is now worth $3.00. This stock will pay a dividend of $50,000, or 5c a share Sept. 1st, and from that date on $40,000 per month.
Big Creek, another property, the treasury stock of which I sold at 16c is now selling at 75c and 80c, and will probably go higher.
These are a few others which will without doubt come to the front among other paying properties:
Idaho Los Angeles.
Benton.
Tarbox.
Headlight.
O. K. Cons.
Reindeer (copper.)
Mayflower.
Moonlight.
Oom Paul.
Rex.
Stewart.
Stanley.
Silver Cliff.
Little Chief.
Iron Crown.
West Rex.
Great Northern of Burke.
I visit the Coeur d'Alene district every year and examine all properties in which I am interested personally. Shall leave here within 30 days for the mines, so anyone wishing correct information regarding these properties after my return I shall be pleased to furnish same in reference to any property in which he may be interested.
THE COEUR D'ALENE PRODUCES 78 PER cent. of the ore values of Idaho, including the gold output of the State and it produces one-half of all the lead and silver ores of the United States; is acknowledged to be the greatest mining district in the known world. This district has made more millionaires than any other mining district in the world and is still in its infancy. It has many failures because so many of the prospecting mining companies have not the financial resources to develop their respective discoveries. But as a mineral district there are open to investors the greatest opportunities ever offered to capitalists in any part of America. Capitalists from all over the world have their eyes on the new mines of this district and the coming season will attract more the eyes of outside capital in greater proportions than at any time in the history of the district.

VATICAN IS LESS EXPENSE.

Pope Would Offset Decrease in Bond Interest.

Costly Repairs Are to Be Made, However.

Papal Residence Is Threatened With Collapse.

The Rome correspondent of the Boston Transcript says that the reduction in the amount of interest paid on Italian government bonds, recently sanctioned by Parliament, which will cause the Vatican administration to lose about $8,000 annually, caused the Pope to call a meeting of the cardinals in charge of the Vatican finances on Wednesday of last week. It was decided to make some reductions in the expenses of the Vatican, and in the end it was agreed that the Swiss guard, members of which receive only miseries, could be reduced in number without impairing its efficiency. The same was decided as regards many of the employés of the Vatican museums and galleries, so that the deficiency caused by the action of the government will be met by these small dollar measures of economy. It is not generally known that the contributions of the Propaganda will also be seriously affected by the reduction of interest, as most of its funds are invested in Italian securities. Government organs throughout Italy made a point to announce that the Propaganda had submitted to the law reducing the interest, but they forgot to mention that the short period of six months allowed by law for the cashing of the bonds at par prevented the Propaganda officials from making the necessary declaration, which had to be executed by the delivery of the bonds. As it happens, most of the securities of the Propaganda are deposited in foreign banks.

WALL CRUMBLES.

Vatican authorities are much disturbed at the discovery that one of the walls of the papal residence is in ruins and will have to be rebuilt at an expense of $100,000. The damage is thought to have been caused by imperceptible earthquake shocks, and happily confined to but one of the Vatican buildings, although that is a big one, in which are situated the papal apartments. The repairs will make it necessary for the Pope to live for a time in the old tower of Nicholas V, which was long used by the Popes as his summer residence. This will cause some inconvenience, as the tower has just turned over the papal rooms to the Vatican astronomical observatory, and Mgr. Maffi, archbishop of Pisa, in charge of the institution, has already come here to transfer the observatory from its old location. The latter will now have to be delayed, temporarily stopping the astronomical observations.

In connection with the observatory, the Vatican authorities were recently notified of the offer of the Jesuit order in this country to the Vatican all the valuable instruments they possessed for the old observatory at Villa Cocchia, where the celebrated Father Secchi did his work. The instruments are very valuable and will save the Vatican a large future outlay for new ones. The new director, Father Rigollot, an American, by the way, has already taken up his work, and it is hoped that the world will soon hear the results of his scientific activity.

Much displeasure has been caused in Vatican authorities, by a public speech made by Abbé Lemaire recently elected to the French Parliament for the district of Hazebrouck, against the new law of separation. It is not so bad as it looks and will be accepted by the church. In Vatican circles the general opinion is that the church will get on in France, no matter how many votes are passed against it, but it is believed that for diplomatic reasons the Vatican authorities will never recognize the laws adopted as an accomplished fact, and the assertions of the church are held to be opposed to the interests of the church.

MARRIAGE ANNULMENT.

The annulment of the marriage of Prince Isenburg-Waldenbourg, recently granted by the Congregation of the Council, from his wife, the daughter of Don Carlos, Spanish Pretender, on the ground of non-consummation, has caused several German societies to send petitions to the Vatican asking the church authorities pressure the Prince from remarrying, as he is said to intend to do, on the ground that such an alliance would be illegal. It is hardly possible that the Vatican authorities will pay any attention to the protests, as their action is necessarily limited to proclaiming the marriage valid or not, as the circumstances, without any knowledge of what the parties will do, the decree of the Congregation stand.

On occasion of the baptism of the heir to the throne, the son of the Crown Prince and Princess Cecilia, the Pope will be represented by a prelate, probably the papal nuncio at Munich. It is whispered in diplomatic circles that the Pope will on this occasion send a valuable present as a mark of his regard for the imperial family, and it is said that the German Emperor has expressed his satisfaction at these Papal intentions, a hint to that effect was conveyed to him.

The appointment of a new general for the Jesuit order has been set for September 8, already delegates from every province of the order are arriving in Rome, being distributed among the various establishments throughout the city, according to the rules of the order. Every province will be represented at the election by the provincial and two others, all three having power to vote. More than a hundred votes are likely to be cast in the election, which will be almost as important as that of the "Black Pope," and the result will be almost as important. It is not yet known where the election will be held, as the matter is kept a profound secret to avoid any interference from outside. The general opinion is that the General Chapter will meet in Rome, as it is in some Italian city.

BISHOPS' SALARIES.

The pope is contemplating the possibility of raising the incomes of all the bishops to a more uniform than at present, and has named a special committee of cardinals to study the question and negotiate with the Italian government on the matter. It has been found out that some Italian bishops, those of Cefalu, Pisa and Ravenna, have a receipt of incomes from the state annually, while many of the poorer receive such meager income that they are unable to make both ends meet. It is the plan of Pius X to request the bishops who enjoy large incomes to do their duty of an annual contribution of their poorer colleagues, however, cannot be done without the sanction of the Propaganda authorities, and hence the necessity of special negotiations for the purpose.

Several American bishops are expected to visit Rome before the end of the year. Bishop Gabriels of Ogdensburg, N. Y., who accompanied the pilgrimage of American Catholics which recently sailed from America for the Mediterranean and Rome, will be shown special attentions by the Vatican authorities because of his activity in the organization of the pilgrimage. It has been arranged that the American pilgrims will be admitted to an audience with the Pope during the first week of August, and Pius X is already looking forward to the event with pleasure.

A great victory was recently obtained by the municipality of Bologna in the Court of Appeals. The late Pius IX, when still in possession of the papal state, had granted to the municipality the sum of $80,000 for the purpose of repairing the facade of the cathedral in that city. The money was never paid, owing to the loss of the papal state, and several years ago the municipality of Bologna sued the Italian government for the money on the ground that it succeded the Pope in the sovereignty over the papal state. The case was first decided against the city, but a few days ago the Court of Appeals rendered a verdict which will compel the Italian treasury to disburse the sum in question, for repairs needed in the cathedral, to the great satisfaction of the Vatican authorities.

Hopitals stand at the top of profitable enterprises in Los Angeles and will always so stand—because this city will ever be in steadily increasing degree the Mecca of the world's sick and ailing. No hospital of consequence has ever failed financially in Los Angeles; all now in operation are paying phenomenal profits.

Best and Best Paying of All

The Sunset Hospital will be the best hospital in the city because it will be the most favorably situated, the only strictly modern one in construction, arrangement, equipment in every possible detail and the only ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF one. Because it will be the best in all essentials, it will be the BEST PAYING, for people needing hospital treatment or care will naturally prefer the institution most desirably located, the most up-to-date in construction, arrangement and equipment and the SAFEST from fire. In all lines of human endeavor, the BEST always commands the largest and most lucrative patronage, and the hospital line is no exception to the rule.

Financial Recognition

The stock of the Sunset Hospital Association is being generously subscribed for—is in fact, going fast.

The stockholders include a large number of well known physicians, who of all people, know the profitableness of hospitals in Los Angeles—their example is, certainly, an excellent one to emulate.

A Responsible Management

Prominent and responsible men constitute the management of the Sunset Hospital Association. The officers and directors are as follows:

Hon. E. S. Field, President; C. W. Mills, Vice-President; Dr. Wm. W. Hoagland, Secretary; John G. Johnston, Treasurer; Dr. T. J. Randall, Bradner W. Lee, J. M. Herndon, J. C. Willmon, William Hixon and Frank P. Fay. The First National Bank is the depository and Works, Lee & Works are the attorneys. The hospital office is at present at No. 452½ South Broadway, Corner Fifth Street.

"LUCKY" BALDWIN'S VICISSITUDES.

Some of Baldwin's Financial Undertakings—His Southern California Ranch, and How He Got It.

Ralph D. Paine, in a story entitled "The Builders," published in the Outing Magazine, says:

In 1853, or more than a half century ago, a little party of gold seekers with a meager outfit of horses and wagons, started for California from the village of Racine, Wis. In command of this adventurous expedition was a young man who took with him his wife and infant daughter. His name was E. J. Baldwin, and he made a wise choice in shaking from his restless feet the dust of a tamer civilization. He needed a larger theater of action for his pent-up and surging activities. While trailing through the mountains of Utah the pioneers were attacked by Indians, who were beaten off during a six-hour fight, in which young Baldwin killed their chief. After six months of hardship the party reached Hangtown (later called Placerville) in California.

Here Baldwin tarried and began placer mining. He appears to have been no more than an ordinary red-shirted argonaut, meeting the ups and downs of mining luck, until the discovery of the Comstock Lode at Virginia City. Thither he drifted and discovered that his natural bent was gambling with the mines that other men had opened. Amid a whirlwind of speculation he fought his way with such success that he loomed from the smoke in a few months as "Lucky" Baldwin, the man who had cleaned up $7,500,000 in the gigantic deals in the stock of the Ophir mines.

San Francisco was the Mecca of those lucky sons of fortune who were rearing a great city by the Golden Gate. As a stock and mining speculator, "Lucky" Baldwin shone resplendent, but he was also a loyal son of San Francisco. He built hotels and theaters and business blocks, even while he was amazing that far from conservative community by madly freakish extravagances.

In a very lucid interval he bought all the Spanish grants he could find near Los Angeles, and there spent a million in making this ranch of his not only a splendidly productive property, but also one of the most beautiful estates ever laid out in this or any other country. It was his hobby, his pet, and he planted miles of avenues with noble shade trees, and made wonderful tropical gardens, so that today his home is surrounded by a paradise of vernal beauty.

The long drought which has prevailed in the valley of Mexico has been broken by heavy showers.

Still Leading.

Heinrich Conried, in his office in the Metropolitan Operahouse, Milwaukee, said of a musicians' quarrel:

"How strange it is that music, which is harmony, should cause discord. Music often causes discord. Once in my native state, Silesia, it nearly caused a duel.

"Two Silesians, seated in a music hall, began to argue about the music of Wagner. The argument as it progressed grew heated. The upshot was that the younger challenged the older Silesian to a duel.

"But the older Silesian declined to fight.

"'No, no,' he said, 'I refuse to meet you. The risks are not equal. You, you see, are a bachelor, whereas I am a married man with three children. I'll tell you what to do. Go get married and wait till you've a family as large as mine. Then, when our risks are alike, come and challenge me again.'

"The younger man complied. He married. Three years passed and one day, three years later, he went, accompanied by a nursemaid, to his opponent's house.

"'Here I am,' he said fiercely. 'My wife is at home. In this coach are my three children. Now for our duel.'

"But the older man shook his head.

"'Not yet, awhile,' he said. 'I have five now.'"—[Milwaukee Sentinel.

Col. Chinn's Wardrobe.

"While I was back home on a visit to Harrodsburg," said the Kentucky colonel, who had just arrived on Broadway, "I saw Jack Chinn. He was upon the eve of stahtin' fo' Cincinnati. He carried with him a vey lagh valise.

"'Mus' be goin' to say quite a while, Jack,' says I.

"'Why?' says he.

"'Frum the size of youah valise,' says I, with an inclination of mah hand in its direction, 'so many clo'es'.

"'Clo'es, huh!' says Jack, sententiously. 'Clo'es! Mah clo'es is on mah back, kunnel. What's contained in that heah valise you menshun is eight quarts of the bes' whisky and one Colt pistol.'"—[Pittsburgh Press.

RAILROAD RECORD.

HEAVY RAILS TO BE LAID.

Fifteen Carloads Arrive for Pacific Electric.

Seventy-Pound Variety Never Before Used Here.

Tracking of Covina Branch Begins at Once.

With the arrival yesterday of fifteen carloads of seventy-pound steel rails direct from the mills in Ohio, an era of unprecedented activity in building operations on the Pacific Electric Railway will begin.

The first rails were laid yesterday afternoon in the rear of the Huntington building in the way of a temporary track to be used in entering the big central depot from the rear through Santee street from Ninth and thence by private right of way to the basement of the building.

This is to be used as an express track and will enter the rear of the basement for the purpose of loading and unloading express and mail matter.

The next rail laying will begin at Vineland, the station on the Southern Pacific, where the Covina line will cross the steam railway tracks and will be pushed rapidly through to Covina.

Several carloads of rails were ordered shipped over the Southern Pacific last night to this point—and a locomotive will be leased from the railway company at the same time to be used in the construction work until the overhead lines are put up to allow electric freight locomotives to be used.

This will greatly facilitate the building of the Covina branch, which promises already to become one of the most important divisions of the Huntington railways, and will soon be under operation.

The rails are the heaviest yet ordered for any electric railway lines in the West.

This steel will make smoother riding track, and will admit of greater speed. The use of this weight of rail on the Covina line is taken as another evidence of the intention of the Pacific Electric to push their lines through to Riverside by way of the Covina route.

WILL CALL ON MOKIS.

The Santa Fé has just finished the construction of the Sulphur branch between Davis and Sulphur Springs, and regular trains are now being operated over the new extension. Sulphur Springs is the junction point with the main line of the Frisco System.

It is probable that the local passenger department of the Santa Fé will make up a party to join the one being organized by the San Francisco offices to take in the Moki Indian snake dance the latter part of this month.

This is frequently made a part of the Grand Cañon trip, by running down from Williams to Cañon Diablo. There the visitors are turned over to F. W. Volz, a picturesque character of the West, and one of the best known Indian traders in the world.

Volz engineers things for the sixty-five mile drive overland to Oraibi, where the snake dancers hold forth.

Here there is given every year one of the most weird performances in the way of votive offerings to be seen anywhere in the world.

RAILROAD NOTES.

"San Francisco Up to Date" is the title of a monthly folder which the Santa Fé gets out from its Chicago offices for distribution to all of its offices and agencies throughout the country, for the purpose of keeping the public advised of the daily progress of the rehabilitation of the city of the Golden Gate. The folder is jammed full of facts and figures and in the end ought to form a terse historical series on the new San Francisco.

Julius Kruttschnitt, director of transportation of the Harriman lines, with headquarters in Chicago, left yesterday afternoon for San Francisco.

A. G. Wells, general manager of the Santa Fé, who has been making a tour of the Yellowstone, with President E. P. Ripley, is expected to return in a few days.

Edward Chambers, freight traffic manager of the Santa Fé, arrived yesterday from San Francisco.

E. W. Gillett, general freight and passenger agent of the Salt Lake, has returned from Chicago, where he attended the meeting of the Transcontinental Freight Association.

After a two months' absence, W. E. Gleeson, chief clerk of the freight department of the Salt Lake, is back at his desk. In running to catch a car at Salt Lake City two months ago, Gleeson was thrown, breaking his collar-bone, fracturing an arm, and dislocating one of his shoulders. As soon as he could get about he went to Chicago, where he attended the freight meeting, and then returned home.

BISHOP TALKS OF EDUCATION.

CONATY OUTLINES WORK DONE IN JESUIT ORDER.

Chicago Woman Teacher Also Lectures Before Sisters' Institute and Dwells Particularly Upon Teaching Higher Sciences in Lower Grades. Thinks Mathematics Important.

Many attended the Sisters' Institute yesterday at the College of the Immaculate Heart in Hollywood, where Bishop Conaty and Sister Mary Loyola, principal of the St. James High School, Chicago, gave addresses on the art of teaching. Miss Loyola is an intense speaker. She has spent many years as an instructor and has given two lectures each day of the institute.

Special stress was laid on the subject of mathematics yesterday by Sister Loyola, and the speaker dwelt upon the need for teaching these subjects in the lower grades of the grammar schools. She believes the groundwork of the higher sciences can be laid to better advantage in the lower grades and advocates teaching the rudiments of the sciences to the younger pupils.

In discussing the importance of mathematics, Sister Loyola referred to the repute in which it was held by Plato who had engraven over the door of his Academy "Let no one enter here who does not know Geometry." She said in part:

"The questions which without circumlocution, which without vagueness, may be put to the pupils should have four purposes—first to find what is the sub-stratum of the pupils' knowledge; second, to discover his misconceptions, his difficulties; third, to secure activity of the pupil's mind; fourth, to test the result of what you have taught."

Illustrations of exercises to gain skill and rapidity were given with special reference to the methods pursued in the schools of Austria.

The educational meetings at Hollywood are conducted along the lines of a teachers' institute and teachers from all parts of the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles are in attendance. More than 150 of the sisters who are engaged in educational work were present yesterday. The interest is constantly growing and the remaining days should be the best of the unusual session.

Among the principal speakers yesterday was Bishop Conaty, who outlined the methods of teaching employed by the Jesuits. The bishop entered into a narrative of the rise and growth of the order and the difficulties through which it passed and then cited from Macauley, McIntosh and Bancroft, with reference to the position occupied by the Jesuits as educators. He said in part:

"One of the purposes of the institute was to fit teachers for the classroom and the essentials in that work were carefully studied. The Jesuits always laid great value upon classical learning. Latin was the language of science, as well as of the church and theology; the decrees of the councils and the writings of the fathers were largely in Latin. Greek also was the language of the church and much of the church literature was in the Greek. It also represented an exactness of scholarship beyond that of any other language. The system of philosophy is known as the scholastic system and is rigidly followed."

The bishop detailed the educational life of the Jesuits in preparation for their work as teachers. "The system supposes the vocation of a teacher and spends itself upon the fitting for the teacher's desk. The Ratio Studiorum has been called the first organized system of Christian studies on record.

"The student is soon taught to work for himself. As he passes to the higher studies, lecturing is substituted for the ordinary explanation and disputations take the place of the oral and written exercises. According to the Jesuit system in the lower courses the lesson is short, every word, phrase and sentence is analyzed and thoroughness is sought for above all else. They were known rather as classes than grades. They knew no distinction of class or caste; princes and nobles mingled with the sons of the peasantry.

"The preparation necessary for the teacher's chair demands almost a lifetime of study, for the Jesuit scholastic does not reach the priesthood until he has passed his thirty-third year. It is no wonder that in such a lifetime of study and preparation the Jesuits should have obtained high rank as educators."

This morning at 10 o'clock Prof. William Brick, former president of Regiopolis College, Kingston, Can., will speak on "Methods." Sister Loyola and Bishop Conaty will also deliver addresses.

EFFORTS TO SAVE SON FATAL.

Heat and Excitement Combine to Kill Aged Father After Securing Stay of Murderer's Execution.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Kartman Wenzel, 65 years old, overcome by heat and excitement, fell fainting from a porch last night and was killed.

Wenzel, a retired cabinet-maker, had one son, a convicted murderer, condemned to be executed. The father had been striving to get the death sentence commuted. After great efforts he succeeded so far as to obtain a stay of execution. With this news, he hurried to the house of his pastor, Rev. Herman A. Schnatz.

The old man, in his excitement, hurried along for over a mile, regardless of the heat. The pastor had helped him to get the reprieve and he was anxious to bear him the news. As he stood at the clergyman's door, waiting to be admitted, he fainted and fell backward down the steps.

The son whom the father had been trying to save is John Wenzel, 25 years old, an only son. After serving a sentence in the penitentiary for burglary, he killed George Spatz, a hotel-keeper, in revenge for having had him arrested. The murder was done May 6. But for his father's efforts, Wenzel would have been executed during the present week.

At Philadelphia, the armored cruiser Washington was put into commission yesterday. Capt. J. D. Adams, commander of the cruiser, briefly addressed his crew

Proved Healthfulness

Scientists Affirm the Healthfulness of Good Beer

Purity means an absence of foreign matter—nothing else.

Cleanliness is a well known brewing ESSENTIAL. It is a matter of self-preservation with ALL brewers.

Purity and cleanliness alone do not assure Good Beer nor Healthful Beer.

Healthfulness depends solely upon QUALITY, and quality depends solely upon the ingredients used and upon the method of brewing.

Beer may be brewed from almost any cereal.

Many brewers use Corn as a substitute for Barley-Malt, because Corn costs less.

But the element of QUALITY, the essential of Healthfulness, must be lacking in such Beer.

Choice Barley, Selected Hops and extra quality Yeast are the prime essentials of Good and Healthful Beer.

This is a well known scientific fact.

We use the choicest Barley and Saazer Hops in brewing our Beers, adding a small quantity of Rice in pale beer.

These Saazer Hops, from a small province in Bohemia, have been found by Scientists to contain a superior quality of that wonderful health-giving substance—Lupulin.

Lupulin is creating a stir in the scientific and medical world because of its marvelous results in the treatment of nervous and digestive disorders.

We import a greater quantity of these expensive Saazer Hops than all other brewers combined.

Our storing capacity—600,000 barrels, more than double that of any other Brewery in the United States—makes it possible for us to store (lager) our Beer from four to five months, the time necessary to thoroughly age it.

This perfect maturing brings out, to the utmost, the health-giving qualities of the choice ingredients used.

These are the facts relative to what constitutes good beer.

They are worthy the attention of every person who demands the best when eating or drinking.

REFRIGERATING PLANT ATTACHED.

BECK-WAKEFIELD COMPANY IS VISITED BY SHERIFF.

Board of Trade Will Probe Matter Thoroughly—San Francisco Creditors Present Claims—Third ties Appear Mysteriously in Nearly All Transactions of Business.

Another layer of attachments, spread on the Beck-Wakefield Company yesterday, has resulted in the beginning of a sharp inquiry.

San Francisco creditors arrived in this city yesterday and added their perplexities to the mystification that prevails here regarding the affairs of the company which manufactures refrigerators, etc.

Claims aggregating over $1000 are in the hands of the local Board of Trade. The Sheriff has notified the board that he has claims for about $2500 in addition. Several attachments have already been levied on the company's manufacturing plant in this city.

At the Board of Trade it was stated yesterday that a communication has been sent to Oakland to learn the particulars of a creditors' meeting held there.

The local board has not been able to get satisfaction in answer to its inquiries of the Beck-Wakefield Company.

It is understood that the company has liabilities amounting to about $80,000. In attempting to ascertain the financial status of the company two or three different versions were given.

One of the peculiarities that the Board of Trade cannot make out is the mysterious presence of third parties in all the Beck-Wakefield transactions.

"Whenever we looked up any of their customers here, we always found that the money in payment for their goods seemed to be payable to some third party and not to the company itself," said one of the officers of the board yesterday.

It is understood that the company made a practice of selling their contracts to outside parties.

ZION CITY OWES $5,000,000.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—The first detailed statement of the indebtedness of Zion City was given to investors at a meeting in Zion City last night. The table showed a total of nearly $5,000,000, which Overseer A. G. Volliva purposes to pay by refunding the entire indebtedness for eighteen years and issuing bonds bearing 6 per cent. interest. The proposition was accepted by an almost unanimous vote of the 850 investors present, there being two dissenting votes.

Dunlaps to Leave.

Dr. and Mrs. Knight Dunlap, who have been spending the summer in and about Los Angeles, will leave a week from today for San Francisco. They will settle up their affairs and visit friends and relatives in Northern California, before starting for the Eastern States. Mrs. Dunlap was formerly Miss Mary Durand of Los Angeles, a graduate of the University of California in the class of 1905. She was married last May to Dr. Dunlap, who has been instructor in psychology at the University of California for the last two years, but who was called this summer to Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

Dr. Dunlap is himself a native of this State, and a graduate of the State University, and is one of the long list of distinguished philosophers and psychologists who have been called from it to chairs in Eastern institutions.

Bring Many Experiences.

The Misses Mary and Anna Chapman and Miss Frances Coulter, who returned from a trip through the Orient with Hon. and Mrs. J. S. Chapman, are bringing many pleasant experiences, and it is said that Miss Anna Chapman has collected much interesting data, which she purposes making into a book. As both the Misses Chapman are bright and clever girls, as is Miss Coulter, who, while in school, was always a bright scholar, their friends will not be surprised to see something good from any of their pens.

White-Pettit Nuptials.

Last evening at the Church of the Nazarene, Miss Lena White became the bride of O. E. Pettit. The church was prettily decorated in a white and green color scheme, and a similar color scheme was carried out in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. White of No. 661 Fanning street, where supper was served by the members of the Philathea Club. White silk was worn by the bride, trimmed with lace and ribbon, and her bouquet was of white carnations and ferns. Miss May Williams, who assisted as maid of honor, wore white silk and carried pink carnations. Miss Ismary White, a sister of the bride, carried the ring on a

It's Money In Your Pocket

To at least investigate the splendid lots we are offering in our

Glendale Valley View Tract

at as low as $225 and for as little as $10 down and $10 a month, without interest or taxes. If you think the price is too low for the lot to be good, just put your time against our expense and let us "show you."

For a Home

There's no lovelier spot, and has every modern improvement that goes to make an attractive and profitable investment. Lots at $325 have cement walks, curbs, graded and oiled streets, electric light, water; will have gas. All lots are protected by building restrictions of such character that what your neighbor does enhances the value of your lot.

For a Speculation

At present prices there is BIG MONEY. Our prices are lower than any other tract in Glendale and our property—well, if the other fellow knocks it you can draw your own conclusions. We are selling lots of lots. Come in and get a map and our salesmen will take pleasure in taking you to see the property at our expense.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Thieves in Korean Mission.

Occupants of the Korean Mission, No. 1519 South Hill street, lost articles of clothing and money from their rooms Monday night. A burglar helped himself.

Cafeteria Entered.

Miss H. S. Mosher of No. 344 South Hill street complained to the police yesterday that the Cafeteria at the above address was entered Sunday night and $4 stolen from the till.

His Finger Off.

While at work at the Llewellyn iron plant yesterday afternoon, Henry Herschel of No. 1416 Naud street sustained a smashed finger. It was amputated at the Receiving Hospital.

Cave-in Catches Laborers.

H. A. Ross and W. Russell, negro laborers at work on an excavation on Maple avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets, were injured yesterday afternoon by a cave-in and were treated at the Receiving Hospital.

Shot in the Leg.

Clare Parsons of Hollywood was the victim of a peculiar accident yesterday while collecting a bill from a Chinaman in Laurel Cañon. Parsons was shot in the leg by the Chinaman, who was handling a shotgun when Parsons and an employé drove up. The man was hastily removed to this city for medical treatment. It is claimed the shooting was accidental.

Ingersoll Memorial.

The seventy-third anniversary of the birth of Robert G. Ingersoll is to be observed this evening at Blanchard Hall, No. 233 South Broadway, under the auspices of the Los Angeles Liberal Club. Admission will be free. There will be no collection, and the club announces that "this is not to be in any sense an attack on religion, but will portray his home life, dwell on his patriotism and his work for religious liberty."

Boy Hurled Thirty Feet.

J. J. Carpenter, a messenger boy living at No. 403 Aliso street, collided with a Garvanza car at Ord and Main streets about 11:30 o'clock last evening and was rendered unconscious. He was answering a hurry call, and did not see the car approaching. He dashed in front of it and was hurled nearly thirty feet. Carpenter was sent to the Receiving Hospital suffering from severe bruises. How he escaped serious injury is a wonder.

Jewelry Not Returned.

E. L. Carnina, formerly proprietor of a small jewelry store in Los Angeles, was arrested in San Bernardino yesterday by a local officer on a charge of petty larceny, the warrant being sworn to by Mrs. L. Bolt of Inglewood. Carnina recently closed his store and went to San Bernardino without returning articles of jewelry left by Mrs. Bolt, it is alleged. The complaint charges that Carnina has stolen a gold necklace and two pairs of earrings.

Timken, John O. Pew, and M. Young.

PERSONAL.

E. A. Montgomery and wife of San Francisco, accompanied by W. C. Montgomery, a brother, from Stuart, Iowa, are guests at the Alexandria.

L. C. Parker, a mining engineer of Butte, Mont., who has extensive interests in Southern Nevada, is a guest at the Westminster.

Henry Timken of San Diego, inventor and manufacturer of the one-time famous "Timken spring," accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. J. Fry, also of San Diego, is at the Angelus.

N. D. Smith, Councilman, and J. S. Bodie, Superintendent of Streets of Santa Barbara, are registered at the Hollenbeck.

S. H. Freighburg and wife of Cincinnati are at the Angelus. Mr. Freighburg is a member of a well-known distilling company.

"Jack" Davis of Diamondfield, the man who discovered the original ledge in the Goldfield, Nev., mining district, is a guest at the Hollenbeck.

NO OPERATION NECESSARY.

Mayor Moore of Seattle, who for more than a week has been a patient at the California Hospital, treated for an abscess of the ear, probably will not be obliged to submit to a surgical operation. Dr. E. W. Fleming, who is in charge of the case, called into consultation yesterday a number of other expert surgeons, and after an examination it was decided that no operation is necessary for the present. There is nothing in Mayor Moore's condition to justify alarm; in fact, he can return home at any time should he desire. He will remain under treatment, however, until such a time as his physician thinks best for him to leave the hospital.

DIRE THREAT QUELLED MUTINY.

LIBAU, Aug. 7.—On the arrival here yesterday of the schoolship Riga, which was in company with the mutinous cruiser Pamyat Azova, it was learned that a portion of the Riga's crew had also participated in the mutiny. The commander of the Pamyat Azova quelled this mutiny by threatening to blow up the ship. Thirty-five of the mutineers have been delivered to the military authorities.

WOMAN SUFFRAGISTS MEET.

Copenhagen Scene of World Gathering of Those Who Would Be Man's Equal.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 7.—The third annual conference of the International League of Women Suffragists opened here today under the chairmanship of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt of New York, president of the league. It will hold daily sessions until August 11, inclusive.

Twelve countries were represented, the American delegates including, besides Mrs. Catt, Miss Hay, Rev. Anna Shaw, Mrs. Rachel Forster Avery, Miss Lucy J. Anthony and Mrs. Ida Husted Harper. The hall selected for the meetings proved too small to accommodate the delegates and the convention adjourned to a larger one.

Addresses of welcome were presented by the women's societies of Denmark, to which Mrs. Catt replied in behalf of the conference.

The municipality of Copenhagen gave a reception in honor of the delegates this afternoon. Councillor Hage, in welcoming them, said the municipality and people of Copenhagen sympathized with the objects of the league. He hoped the next time it convened here the league would be welcomed by women Mayor and Councillors.

Mrs. Catt, in replying, said the members of the league did not go so far as that. They only hoped that women would have seats in the Council by right of suffrage.

DECLINES TO DRINK AND FORGET

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—On a Supreme Court order issued on complaint of Raymond R. Herbert, vice-president of the Adams Magazine Company, No. 141 Fifth avenue, the president of the same company, Fernando De Murias, and the treasurer, Edward Rock, were arrested here last night and locked up. Herbert complains that when he sought to recover $21,248 he had invested in the magazine, the treasurer only answered: "Have a drink on me and forget it." Herbert paid in $21,248 in part payment for a $25,000 block of magazine stock, on the agreement, he declares, that at a year's end the company would buy in his holdings on ten days' notice if he wished to sell.

HOW WERDIN CHUG-CHUGS HOT AFTER SHERIFF'S JOB.

IN THE hottest contest of a tabasco campaign, E. R. Werdin's automobile race for nomination by the Republicans for Sheriff is the most spectacular.

"Speak no evil, hear no evil, and see no evil," regarding his administration as Street Superintendent of Los Angeles—this is the gist of his motto. The dust and the smell and the noise stirred up by his chugging automobile are doing their part toward blotting out any memories of the past.

It is a glad-hand, hot-foot run that the former Street Superintendent is making. For him to dispose of the fact that the people of the city defeated him by 10,000 votes two years ago is like lifting a dead fly from a bowl of steaming soup.

"Just let me be Sheriff and watch me enforce the laws, stand by the people and give special privileges to none," remarks the candidate for the nomination.

All he needs is 419 votes in the convention and a majority of the ballots of probably 80,000 voters in the county to attain his end.

Werdin has been engaged for nearly two years in running for Sheriff. When the people of the city turned him down at the polls in 1904 he started after the office, and has been going for it at an ever-increasing rate ever since. How much smoke he has made will show at the Venice convention on the 21st inst.

CHILD-LIKE CONFIDENCE.

"If it looked better than it does not," he says, "Wells-Fargo couldn't express it."

Ah, the child-like confidence of a candidate!

"Out to win," shouts Werdin, as he leaps from bed in the morning.

"Dee-light-ed," he echoes as he crawls between the sheets some time the next morning.

The candidate began by counting his convention delegates on his fingers and thumbs; then he took in his ears and his eyes and his toes. Now he cuts notches in the picket fence at his home on Hobart boulevard, and thinks of building on addition to the fence.

The shouting and hat-throwing in the Werdin wake have led to the impression that he is spending a barrel of money in his campaign. It looked as if he had just smashed in a stave and let the golden stream gurgle out. He says it was only a small keg—that $500 would be an extreme estimate of his expenses. Has been as economical as in filling a chuck hole with gravel in the days of old.

The odometer on the old automobile broke down under the strain two months ago. Since then it has registered 3400 miles.

When a rancher in the wilds of Antelope Valley hears a horn tooting in the middle of the night, he sits up in bed and says, "That's Werdin." These excursions far into the back country are said to have netted the candidate at least two delegates in the convention.

UBIQUITOUS CAMPAIGNER.

People wishing to see Werdin, stand still at any one spot in city and country and he is sure to come whizzing along in his automobile. No possible vote escapes his attention. His hand rises to and falls from a hat-brim salute with clockwork regularity. He has scattered enough cards about the country to make a dado around the horizon.

He is the original "dee-light-ed" man. Werdin was shouting it when Theodore Roosevelt was Police Commissioner in New York.

He can give the glad hand fluently in English and German and falteringly in Spanish, Swedish and Norwegian. He can listen to Yiddish compliments without the aid of glasses.

If he wore all his lodge pins at one time he would not have room for his vest. He belongs to so many organizations that if each had a meeting on a different evening each week there would have to be a readjustment of the calendar to make room for them. He belongs to eighteen organizations of various kinds.

When the Republican League gave its barbecue last Saturday, Werdin boarded the first car with a handful of tickets. He paid the way for every one who had not bought the pasteboards. His lieutenants looked after the other cars.

WALTER AND THE PALM.

Under the shade of a walnut tree Werdin shook hands with Walter Parker, the "big boss" of the Republican organization.

When he seizes a fist with one hand, Werdin gives a slap with the other member and tops it off with a stroke like rubbing the back of a dog.

"That's the brush-off," remarked Parker, "but you ought to scratch the palm of the other fellow's hand—that's the part that itches."

Werdin heads his automobile for the Sheriff's office each morning and like Jim Bludsoe keeps her nose to the bank as long as the gasoline holds out. When the machine gets back to the garage, at the end of the day, it is still headed out.

There was a time when Sheriff White campaigned in that auto with "Ernie." Whither one went, there the other was—until it began to look as if Werdin were getting the inside track on some of White's friends. Since then Werdin has traveled alone.

LIKE B. GOING FISHING.

Hot on the trail of every possible delegate to the convention, Werdin works in the campaign like a boy going fishing. The glad hand and the broad smile never leave him. He holds levees morning, noon and night on the steps of the City Hall. He stops at the curb downtown and his followers flock around him like blackbirds around a hydrant. He catches them coming and going at the Broadway or the tunnel entrance of the Courthouse. He has covered every precinct in the county—some of them many times, and is going over them again.

He has made a fine-tooth canvass and is going over the ground again with a microscope. Before him all the time is the bugbear of the 1904 election and the still small voice of the "knocker" saying that, even if he gets the nomination, he will be beaten at the polls by some independent candidate.

Werdin just winks one of his little blue eyes and says, "Watch me."

If he wins it will be a triumph for the "merry mitt."

CRUEL SHOCK TO MOTHER.

Report of Son's Death Sent to Mrs. Munholland and Many Stirred Up by Bogus News.

Robert C. Munholland, No. 146 South Daly street, is not dead. He testifies to the fact that he is alive, and he ought to know.

Yesterday some one called up his mother by telephone, and while evidently laboring under great excitement, told Mrs. Munholland that her son had been killed down street, and hung up the receiver without further information.

Mrs. Munholland has not been in the best of health lately, and the shock prostrated her. She had not been told where her son had been killed, and did not know where to turn for information. The father and husband was told of the death of his son, and rushed downtown to find out about it.

Meanwhile the son, who works for a real estate firm on South Spring street, was in the suburbs working on a realty transaction, and knew nothing of his supposed demise.

He returned to his office about 5 o'clock, only to encounter a number of semi-hysterical relatives and friends and a much-worried employer, who was doing his best to subdue the lamentations of Munholland's relatives.

The appearance of the young man, hale and hearty, put an end to the mourning, but the shock his mother has undergone has left her in a weakened condition.

The bogus news had traveled rapidly, and relatives in San Bernardino and Long Beach were mourning the young man's sudden end.

It was only late last night, after constant telephoning and telegraphing, that the report was finally completely counteracted.

The originator of the tale is not known, but it is supposed that some woman, worked up to a high pitch of excitement on account of a trivial accident, called up the wrong telephone number and caused a bad half-day to about a half-hundred people.

CORONER WANTS WITNESSES.

The inquest into the death of the first victim of the Oneonta Park wreck, where a Sierra Madre car was crushed by a Southern Pacific train, will be resumed at Pierce Bros.' morgue this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. There were many witnesses, and some are difficult to find, and the Corner requests that any who read this and have not been summoned appear this afternoon, prepared to testify. It will be remembered that there is a dire clash in the statements of the trainmen.

MME. MODJESKA HURT.

Slips on Polished Floor and Strikes Corner of Table—All Her Social Engagements Canceled.

By a hairsbreadth Mme. Helena Modjeska missed having an eye knocked out Saturday evening at the home of Dr. John H. Martindale on Lucas avenue. As it was Mme. Modjeska sustained a severe bruise of the temple and slight laceration of the cheek.

Saturday Mme. Modjeska left the Angelus Hotel to pay a visit to the family of Dr. Martindale. That evening while walking upon the polished floor of the beautiful Martindale home her foot slipped and she fell, striking with her face the sharp corner of a heavy table. It was a glancing blow and just grazed her right temple and eye, her cheek receiving the force of the blow.

She was attended by Dr. Martindale and the next day went to the home of her former companion, Anafovia Fkowronska, in East Twenty-eighth street. Because of this accident Mme. Modjeska was forced to cancel a number of social engagements in this city.

Monday Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rice of Tustin came to Los Angeles and yesterday the well-known actress and her friends went to San Diego, where Mme. Modjeska will rest quietly for a time.

LAST RITES FOR W. H. BURNS.

Large Attendance at Funeral of Assistant Secretary of Gas Company, Who Died Suddenly.

In a home plunged into sudden and deep grief at the passing of one who was dear, final respects were paid yesterday afternoon to the memory of William H. Burns, late assistant secretary of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company. Funeral services were held at the family home, No. 1146 West Twentieth street, and interment was at Rosedale. There was a large attendance of friends.

As a mark of respect, the Hill-street offices of the company he had served long and well were closed during the funeral hour, the flag on the building hung at half-mast, and the office that until last Saturday was occupied by Mr. Burns was draped in mourning.

Officials of the company attended the services in a body, and the following office associates of the late assistant secretary acted as pallbearers: W. J. Dorr, H. J. Kister, J. W. Warren, E. R. Northmore, A. B. Day, and H. G. Johnson. The services were conducted by Dean Wilkins of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral. Floral offerings were profuse and beautiful, some of them being from the officers and from employés of the mechanical and clerical forces of the company.

WILLIAM H. BURNS.

Mr. Burns had been in apparently excellent health up to 8 o'clock last Sunday evening, when he suddenly was stricken with apoplexy. He died at 10:30 o'clock the same evening. His sudden passing was a great shock to the wife and two young daughters, as well as to the wide circle of acquaintances and friends.

Fifty-two years old, Mr. Burns was in the prime of his life. For sixteen years he had been connected with lighting companies of this city, first with the Los Angeles Electric Company, which he served as secretary, and, when that company merged with the Los Angeles Gas and Lighting Company, he became assistant secretary of the organization thus formed. He was rated as the best expert accountant West of the Rocky Mountains, while his personality was such as to endear him to all with whom he came in contact.

POLICE AFTER GAS MAN.

Collector for People's Company Wanted on Warrant Alleging Violation of Ordinance Fixing Rates.

Quick action by the city authorities followed the exposure in The Times of yesterday of the method adopted by the People's Gas Company, apparently to evade the city ordinance fixing 85 cents a thousand feet as the price to be charged by local gas companies.

A warrant was issued from Justice Rose's court charging S. Weatherholt, a collector for the People's Gas Company, with attempting to collect for gas at the rate of $1 a thousand feet, in violation of the ordinance. Up to a late hour last night Weatherholt had not been found by the police.

Attorneys for the city express the opinion that the People's Gas Company, in billing gas at 75 cents a thousand feet and adding 25 cents a thousand for "special delivery," is attempting to evade the provisions of the ordinance, which became operative July 1. The July bills, now being collected by the company, represent a cost of $1 a thousand feet to the consumer, who is informed that one-quarter of this amount is for "special delivery," whatever that may be.

TOBIAS BEFORE GRAND JURY.

Earl to Be Summoned in the Citrus Rebate Cases.

United States Attornty Will Have Him in Court.

Alleged Law-Violations by Orange Shippers.

The Evening Express has for several days been making overt and vicious assaults upon United States Attorney Oscar Lawler. Earl's paper accuses the Federal official of willful neglect to prosecute certain rebate investigations, ordered, it is alleged, against railroad and lumber interests in Southern California.

The Express has stated that the heads of the Department of Justice at Washington have ordered such investigations to proceed at once, but that Lawler, shielding his corporate friends, has declined to take up the work.

This assault is ludicrous, for the reason that such investigations could neither proceed nor even begin until September, when the United States grand jury will be in session.

It is also found that Earl made virtual threats to "get even" with Lawler, for a private grievance. He is now venting his spite.

However, there will be an investigation, which has been quietly planned for a long time, and it will come next month.

It was stated yesterday upon high authority in the local Federal offices that one of the first men to be summoned before the grand jury will be Edwin Tobias Earl himself.

He will be required to tell all he knows concerning rebates on citrus fruits, as to which, readers may have noted, his recent articles and cartoons have been silent.

Mr. Earl has been deep in the devious ways of fruit shipping here for many years, and his information will probably let in some sensational light upon the methods of the shippers and the railroads.

He will perforce tell an interesting story. He will have to tell it. If he refuses to tell it, he can be sent to jail for contempt of court.

The statute of limitations may save Mr. Earl from the humiliation of confinement, but he will certainly be required to peach.

The Federal officers have evidence that fruit shippers have violated the laws in collusion with railroads, and Earl will have to stand the most rigorous examination. Nobody in Los Angeles knows more about the alleged offenses. Although he has been out of the business for several years, his testimony as to his own and divers rate-juggiers' methods will be required and will be important. After a session before the grand jury he will have a chance to tell all he knows in open court, as prosecutions will follow.

It has been so ordered by high officials, and there will be no escape.

OIL CONTRACT LOOKS QUEER.

ORANGE COUNTY SUPERVISORS CANNOT PAY BILLS.

Dist.-Atty. Head's Injunction Holds Them Up—Lapp Supplied Crude Grease With Only One Bid and Then Continued the Delivery After Contract Had Been Filed.

What the accused officials denounce as the machinations of jealous Los Angeles oil men, is an injunction which tied up the Orange County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

It is an attempt to prevent the Santa Ana officials from paying C. E. Lapp, an oil man, for 4000 barrels of oil furnished by him to Orange county.

The inference from the law suit filed yesterday is that Lapp furnished this oil for art's sake. His own idea about it may be judged from the fact that he has presented bills for $3071.19 for the oil furnished.

NOT A "GRAFT" CHARGE.

The suit is brought by District Attorney Head of Orange county in the name of that county against the County Auditor to prevent the latter from issuing demands in payment for the oil.

No open charges of anything like "graft" are made. The whole suit is based upon technical mistakes made by the Board of Supervisors in awarding the oil contract to Lapp.

The thing burst upon the Board of Supervisors suddenly at the session yesterday, when Lapp's bills for about 4000 barrels of crude oil were presented.

The board learned that some one was about to attack their procedure, and called upon District Attorney Head to give them an opinion. He informed them that they had proceeded illegally; that they should not pay the bills. In order to make a test of it, he immediately filed suit to restrain the County Auditor from issuing a demand upon the Couny Treasurer.

DID NOT STOP AT LIMIT.

The main part made in the suit is that the board advertised in the Santa Ana Blade for 1000 barrels of oil for 85 cents a barrel. Instead of stopping at 1000 barrels, they went on buying oil from Lapp up to 4000 barrels, which he delivered at various points throughout Orange county.

The contention is that the board should have advertised again when the 1000 barrels had been purchased, and so give the other oil men a chance to bid.

Should the suit go against Lapp—for he is the real defendant—he will get no pay for his oil—perhaps not even for his 1000 barrels, as the suit even attacks the advertisement for the first 1000 barrels.

Judge Conrey, temporarily sitting in Santa Ana, has issued a temporary injunction.

PICNIC FOR GROCERS.

The Southern California Retail Grocers' Association will have its annual picnic tomorrow at Playa del Rey, and grocery stores in Los Angeles and vicinity will be out of business for the day. An attendance of 3500 is expected. The grocers will take part in races and various athletic contests, and there will be baseball games, professional boat races, skating, dancing and fireworks.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Citizens made complaint at the City Hall yesterday that the Council had taken them by surprise in ordering the Hill wall contract signed.

The Santa Fé Railway was called to account yesterday for building tracks on the sidewalk on Palmetto street.

The trial of Ernest G. Stackpole opened yesterday in the Superior Court before Judge James, and in the presence of many spectators, many of them women. The exceeding care exercised in selecting a jury caused delay and before adjournment last night a special venire was ordered.

A grand jury was impaneled yesterday by Judge Trask. It comprises some well-known business men of the county. H. W. Hellman is foreman.

Percy Beesy, known as Kid Williams in pugilistic circles, was arraigned yesterday on the charge of battery, severely reprimanded for interrupting the court, and held in $200 bail for a preliminary examination.

The Board of Police Commissioners last evening created four new positions in the department—a captaincy at $200 a month, and four lieutenancies at $150 a month.

AT THE CITY HALL.

BIG ROW OVER RETAINING WALL.

CITIZENS DISPLEASED BECAUSE OWNERS ESCAPE.

Will Possibly Take Legal Step to Stop Improvement at Third Street Tunnel—Railway Called to Account for Trespassing on Sidewalk—The Mayor Gets a Pumpkin.

The letting of the contract to James Hill for the construction of a big retaining wall at the west end of the Third-street tunnel has caused commotion in the City Hall.

Hill, who has property abutting on Hope street, offered to do the work for about $19,000, but the proposition to have the city pay the whole bill at the top price failed to look good to either the Mayor or the Board of Public Works and both refused to sign the contract.

One reason for this is that when the wall and stairway were built on the south side of the entrance, the contract was for a little more than $10,000 and the city voted to spend $6000, leaving the people wanting the improvement to provide the balance. It turned out that the whole job was practically done for the money put up by the city.

Another extensive improvement now to be made, on the north approach to Hope street, is considered much more in the interest of abutting property. The plan is to divide the street with the wall which is about to be built, after the manner of a zigzag on a mountain trail, and thus bring two sections of lots on a level with the street—one above and one below the wall.

The Board of Public Works suggested that the city would be willing to pay as much as it had put in on the opposite side, but that the property owners should pay two-thirds of the expense of an improvement that is so distinctly in their interest. And inasmuch as the contractor is one of the owners, he would then probably have found a way of reducing the cost of the improvement.

Considerable pressure was brought upon the board to induce it to sign the contract, but it refused, and was threatened with mandamus proceedings.

One of the men interested in pushing the matter through was George H. Stewart, ex-president of the Municipal League, who owns property on Hope street. Other holders are Witmer and Holton, the latter having acted as attorney in efforts to get the contract through.

When it was found that neither arguments nor threats could induce the board to stand for the expense, the boosters turned to the City Council, and it went through so slick on Monday that only those who were "wise" to the whole proposition took any note of it, as it floated through with a unanimous vote.

Nobody believes that the wall should cost anything like $19,000, and if it does, the property owners should bear the lion's share of the burden, for they will have building lots where now there are none. When the Municipal League is prowling around looking for mare's nests, this one in which its ex-president is interested, might have been worthy some attention. Many tax-payers who have no interest in the improvement, just woke up to what is doing yesterday, and buzzed around the City Hall when it was too late, except through injunction proceedings.

TAKING A STREET.

PALMETTO PEOPLE OBJECT.

Complaint was made before the Board of Public Works yesterday against the encroachment of the tracks of the Santa Fé Railway upon Palmetto street. Recently, the railroad tracks were moved over to one side of the street so far that the distance from the inside curb to the rail is but thirty-four inches. When a car passes along the track, it overhangs two feet more, leaving but ten inches of the walk clear, so that pedestrians are compelled to cross the street, where there is no walk.

After the matter had been fully presented to the Board of Public Works by residents of the neighborhood, and the facts established as claimed, notice was at once sent to the Santa Fé Company that such complaint had been made. A representative of the company will call on the board this morning and go over the matter and the tracks will be moved.

The cause of the trouble is that the cold-storage company built too close to its street line to give necessary platform room, and at the same time trackage for the railroad between the platform and the sidewalk. The attempt now is to usurp the sidewalk, in order to get close enough to handle supplies when a car is standing in front of the door.

NEW POLICE POSITIONS.

CAPTAIN, FOUR LIEUTENANTS.

Action of great importance to the police department was taken last night at the meeting of the Police Commission, when they created another captaincy and four lieutenancies.

The salary of the lieutenants was fixed at $150 per month, and that of the sergeants increased to $125, while that of the captains was recently raised to $200.

The following licenses were granted: W. C. Hobock, wholesale liquor, No. 2717 South Main street; Lips & Cowdrick, restaurant liquor license, No. 303 Central avenue, next door to where they now conduct a saloon; Charles Eaton, restaurant liquor license, No. 122 West Sixth street; J. H. Scales, Puritan Café, liquor license, No. 609 South Spring.

Pressman & Grand made application for a wholesale liquor license, to be located at No. 315 East Ninth street, between Santee street and Maple avenue: Should this be granted it will be the only liquor-house on Ninth street between Main and San Pedro.

An echo of the Philippi license, which was permitted to be withdrawn at the last meeting of the commission, was heard in the reading of a letter from Wesley Clark and others, thanking the commission for this disposition of the matter. A laugh went round the table at the expense of those who have attempted to make it appear that the letter asking privilege to withdraw, the application was a forgery.

PRESENT TO MAYOR.

BIG YELLOW PUMPKIN.

Yesterday a small boy appeared at the City Hall with a small cart in which he had loaded a fifty-pound pumpkin and a huge sunflower. He stepped in front of the main entrance, watched jealously over his treasures and sent a messenger into the office of the Mayor with the following note:

"To the Honorable Mayor—Please accept of some of the products of my garden, which are out here in my cart awaiting your inspection and acceptance."

The letter was signed by Brimsley A. Guliford, No. 130 South Rio street. He is one of the boys who have been at work under the Outdoor Art Committee, and these things in his cart were some of the results of his labor.

Mr. McAleer went to the sidewalk, complimented the boy on his success, and then accepted the big yellow pumpkin and carried it up into his office, where he placed it on exhibition, accompanied by the lad's note.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

STACKPOLE CASE GOES TO TRIAL.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF SCHECK ACCUSED BEFORE JUDGE JAMES.

Crowd of Men and Women Fills the Courtroom and Listens While Dry, Tedious, and Technical Fight Opens, Jurors Are Subjected to Dreary Examination.

Ernest G. Stackpole is being tried for his life on the charge of having murdered Joel Scheck on the morning of June 14, under circumstances of the most peculiarly revolting kind.

And now the man over whose head hangs the sword of justice suspended by a thread sits in court passing the time that hangs heavily on his hands scanning a newspaper, while his counsel is putting jurors through a rigid examination in order to guard the life of this debonair and self-possessed defendant. There was a large percentage of women among the spectators.

When Stackpole entered, in company with Fred H. Thompson, one of his counsel, and quietly took his seat he was not recognized by the majority of the onlookers. When some one whispered that the sedate-looking man dressed in a new dark-blue suit was the defendant, a number of women began to crane their necks, and their faces betrayed their surprise at his appearance.

Before taking his seat, Attorney Thompson had handed a blood-red rose to Stackpole, and the latter put it in his buttonhole, and throughout the day nothing that was said disturbed his equanimity for a moment.

Of the numerous motions made by the defense at various times, the only one that was granted was the one wherein it was attempted to have the case transferred to Judge James's court. Department One has all the conveniences for a criminal trial, and so Judge James and Judge Smith exchanged benches, and the former will preside during the trial of Stackpole. But despite the numerous adverse rulings, R. C. Nolman, who with S. M. Snoyer, C. M. Ackerman and Fred H. Thompson, is defending Stackpole, renewed the application for a change of venue, and when that motion was denied, moved for a continuance for sixty days, on the ground that an important witness was laid up at Bullfrog, and his deposition would be necessary. As no proof of diligence was shown that motion was also denied. Reference may be made to this witness later in the trial.

Mr. Thompson explained that G. W. Phillips, if present, would swear that he was on San Julian street about the time of the murder of Joel Scheck, and saw a man enter the house. Immediately afterward he heard two shots fired, and his attention being thus arrested he returned toward the Scheck house, and as he approached again saw the same man emerge and run away. Phillips would swear, says the attorney, that he had a good chance to see the face of this strange man, and is able to identify Stackpole as not being the man he saw run away.

These facts were set out in an affidavit, and another by S. E. Beach, an attorney, set out that he knew Phillips to be in Bullfrog, and that the facts regarding him could be shown to be true.

With these preliminaries out of the way, Attorney Thompson made the usual request for the exclusion of witnesses at an unusually early period of the trial. Among other of the witnesses excluded was the father of the murdered man. Then began the examination of jurors. The questioning was tedious, and some of the questions seemed to have a very remote bearing upon the eligibility of the juror to serve.

Early in the day Judge James was called upon to rule upon the admissability of certain questions.

"Assuming," said Mr. Thompson, "that it should be shown that the defendant at one time of his life had been wild, and had been in the penitentiary, would it influence you against him in this case except as to his veracity in his own testimony?"

E. J. Fleming, Deputy District Attorney, who is conducting the prosecution, unassisted so far, objected to the question, but it was allowed. Then Thompson asked as to whether the mere fact that the defendant and Mrs. Scheck had sustained illicit relations with one another would influence the juror against Stackpole. This question was disallowed, the court holding that it was for the evidence to prove or disprove that such relations had existed.

Each candidate, too, was explicitly interrogated regarding his attitude in the event Mrs. Scheck swearing positively that Stackpole killed her husband, and whether he would be willing to accept the law as given by the court that the statements of an accomplice must be corroborated by direct and independent testimony.

At 5 o'clock, only four names remained in the jury box, with three jurors in the box acceptable to both sides. For cause the people exercised one challenge and the defense eight; the people exercised three peremptory challenges and the defense six. It was 5:45 before court adjourned. A special venire is returnable this morning at 10 o'clock.

SIX MADE GLAD.

THREE DIVORCES GRANTED.

Mrs. May C. Bassett of Pasadena was granted a divorce from her husband yesterday.

The Bassetts married at Chicago in 1886, and there is one child, a daughter, now sixteen years old. Prior to the husband developing a fondness for dancing—and particularly with a Miss De Wolfe, says Mrs. Bassett—he had become lax in his attentions to his wife. The breach ended in a separation, and yesterday Judge Wilbur granted a divorce.

Mrs. Nellie E. Morgan was divorced from her husband yesterday upon her petition. She married John F. Morgan at Chicago in September, 1903, and has ever since regretted it. But he "blossomed out" in fullest form after coming to live at Pasadena. He would not work, though he did not confess to that, and merely claimed that he could not find work for which he was suited. His wife worried and wanted to know how they were going to live, but her truthful husband assured her that the "Lord would provide," and sat down contentedly in the shack where they were living, which used to be utilized as a chicken house, and which had been given to the Morgans by a charitable neighbor.

A neighbor had donated, too, a few articles of furniture, and Mrs. Morgan had constructed some rough articles herself. Then her husband returned thanks for the goodness vouchsafed them, and said that raw fruit was man's natural diet, and that they had lots to be thankful for. His wife doubted it and brought suit for divorce on the ground of non-support.

John Bunch, a negro, was granted a divorce from Lizzie Bunch yesterday, on the ground of desertion. They were married in this city early in 1900, and early last year the wife left. Bunch sometimes worked for the railroads; he had been away for a time, and when he returned unexpectedly found an interloper monopolizing his wife's attentions. He fussed, he said, and the angry interview caused his wife to leave her home.

RANDALL AFTERMATH.

FIGHTING FOR REAL ESTATE.

Mrs. Mary E. Randall of Pasadena, who obtained a divorce from H. L. Randall last April, at which time all property interests were settled, with one exception—the home place, known ordinarily as the Gammon place, on North Madison avenue—was on the witness stand a large part of yesterday. When finally released from a severe cross-examination, she became seriously indisposed. Suffering from some affection of the heart, it became necessary for her friends to take her into the witness room, and there apply restoratives.

Mrs. Randall claims in April her father-in-law, R. S. Randall, a wealthy capitalist in the East, presented her husband and herself with their home, which cost $9000 in round figures. He sent a draft for that amount, she says, and she is positive the gift was a joint one to her and her husband.

Mrs. Randall avers an ungracious attempt was made to defraud her of her half interest in the property, which she says is now worth $12,000, by the transferring of the property back to the donor.

But the ex-husband laughs this interpretation to scorn. He and his father are made joint defendants, and both stand together in denying absolutely that the property was a gift. On the other hand, they aver that the $9000 was obtained from the bank at Bushnell, Mass., on the joint note of the father and son, though Mr. Randall the elder confesses that he did raise the money particularly for the sake of his son, and to enable him to purchase the home that he wanted.

Mrs. Randall, while not denying the bank draft and promissory note in evidence, claims that these forms of law were observed merely for the purpose of a little financial hocus-pocus to make it appear that the property had not been presented outright in the first instance.

State Senator Ben Hahn is appearing for the plaintiff, and Attorney Russ Avery is representing the interests of father and son.

NEW GRAND JURY.

INSTRUCTIONS STATUTORY.

The grand jury venire made return in Judge Trask's court yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, and in a short time the required nineteen men were selected to serve. The thirty names of the venire represented for the most part a representative class of substantial business men, and the present grand jury includes some of the best-known men in the county, as follows:

H. W. Hellman, 958 South Hill street; Milton L. Painter, North Pasadena; F. A. Wallace, 1027 East Twenty-seventh street; Arza Crabbe, Pomona; A. W. Bumiller, 1059 Eden avenue, Los Angeles; G. W. Parsons, 107 South Broadway; W. L. Sheldon, 754 College street; W. J. Lawrence, 160 North Moline avenue, Pasadena; C. J. Walter, Long Beach; C. F. Hughs, 56 North Worcester avenue, Pasadena; A. B. Cass, 438 West Thirty-third street, Los Angeles; R. D. List, Western avenue, Los Angeles; W. B. Kemper, 412 West Twenty-third street, Los Angeles; George A. Lathrop, Pomona; C. N. Porter, South Los Robles avenue, Pasadena; T. F. Howard, 1661 Orange street, Los Angeles; A. A. Weymouth, South Marengo avenue, Pasadena; George H. Bixby, Long Beach; J. E. McComas, Pomona.

In giving his charge to the grand jury, Judge Trask covered the ground as laid down in the penal code and instructed the members as to their duties. The system of indictment is cumbersome.

Though the law provides for the grand jury having only one expert to assist in going over the books, Judge Trask said that it had been the general custom to employ a number of assistants, inasmuch as one man cannot deal with the mass of busines pertaining to this large county. He drew the attention of the jurors particularly to the necessity for especial attention being given to those officers taking receipt for or disbursing funds.

An instruction also had reference to the County Jail and the public prisons, and the obligation under which the grand jury rested of not only seeing that they are properly conducted, but that no prisoners are being confined unduly instead of being brought to trial.

The court appointed H. W. Hellman foreman, the newly impaneled jury retired and, after a short conference, adjourned.

WRESTLED SERVANT.

BUT HIS WIFE OBJECTS.

Because W. D. Lambert wrestled with the servant girl his wife made a fuss, and while she was willing to stand various brands of abuse, this particular form of joyous hilarity was too much, and she sued her husband for divorce.

The Lamberts married at Chicago in 1891, and all went fairly well until they came to this city to live. Then, the wife said, her husband abused her in various ways, and more than once choked her. She stood all that, but when her husband indulged in wrestling bouts with Miss Rose Packman, the family domestic, she drew a rigid line.

Mrs. Lambert made no reflections either upon the girl or upon her husband in the matter beyond merely that the wrestlings between the two were of too familiar a character. Lambert said that it was good exercise and enabled him to keep up his muscle. Judge Monroe, after hearing the details regarding the rough-and-tumble antics of the husband and the maid, granted the decree of divorce asked for.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

LEGAL JOLT FOR PRIZE FIGHTER.

KID WILLIAMS ARRAIGNED FOR USING FISTS TOO FREELY.

Charged With Creating Disturbance in His Own Home, Beating Wife and Others, He Interrupts Judge and Is Given Severe Reprimand. Pleads Not Guilty.

There was a surprise for "Kid Williams," ex-prize fighter, whose correct name is Percy Beesey, when he was arraigned in Justice Rose's court yesterday afternoon. Sure of a dismissal on the charge of battery, Beesey came jauntily into court only to listen to a lengthy complaint charging him with threats to kill his wife, father-in-law and several other occupants of the residence at No. 834 West Washington street, where Beesey and his pretty wife have lived for some time.

Beesey was arrested recently for creating a disturbance at his home. The pugilist ran amuck and is said to have used his fists freely. According to Officer Jack Walsh, who made the arrest, the "Kid" was in a fair way to do considerable harm to those he was pounding. The porch and front hall of the residence were sprinkled with blood and the "Kid" was in a towering rage.

Among the victims of his savage blows was Edward Dixon, employed by an evening paper; Fred Bowman, Ollie J. Watkins, father-in-law of the pugilist, and his wife, formerly Miss Florence Watkins.

The pugilist is at present a member of the fire department and is at work at engine-house No. 10. His assurance quickly disappeared yesterday when he heard the serious charge placed against him.

Interrupting Judge Rose during the reading of the complaint, Beesey took exception to the wording and got a severe reprimand from the justice, who declared it was no unusual thing for a man to try to kill his father-in-law.

The pugilist asked time in which to secure a lawyer, after pleading "not guilty," and his preliminary examination was set for August 15 at 10 o'clock in Justice Rose's court. Bail was fixed at $200.

MOTORIST IS FINED.

APPEAL IN SPEED CASE.

Almost the entire afternoon yesterday was consumed in Police Justice Austin's court with the trial of Clarence Smith, charged with speeding a tourist automobile along West First street and Beaudry avenue beyond the limit allowed by law. Attorney George McKeebey appeared for the defendant and the case was stubbornly fought. An array of witnesses appeared for the prosecution and during the trial Attorney McKeebey offered to take Judge Austin in Smith's auto to the scene where it is alleged the offense was committed. The judge declined.

After lengthy arguments by the two attorneys, Judge Austin imposed a fine of $15. The case was immediately appealed.

STEALS WATERMELONS.

BLACK GANG'S LEADER CAUGHT.

Harry Bronson, a negro as black as midnight, appeared before Police Justice Austin yesterday on a charge of stealing watermelons.

The negro is said to be the leader of a gang of small boys ranging from six to fifteen years, who are in the habit of stealing melons and other fruit from box cars. The case was continued until this morning at 11 o'clock.

Walter's Trial Set.

John A. Fedick, a waiter arrested Sunday, July 29, on a charge of violating the Sunday liquor ordinance, will appear for trial in Justice Austin's court September 13.

Crippled Youth in Court.

Millard Becktel, who was shot by Special Policeman Majors at Eastlake Park two weeks ago, pleaded not guilty in Police Justice Rose's court yesterday to the charge of battery brought against him by Majors, who claims the boy is a member of a gang of toughs who have caused him much trouble. Becktel appeared in court on crutches. He has been at the County Hospital.

Junk Dealer Punished.

George Humer, a junk dealer, who is said to have encouraged small boys to commit crimes, was fined $100 by Justice Rose after pleading guilty yesterday to the charge of petty larceny.

Trial of Alleged Forger.

L. J. Gavin, charged with forgery, will be tried in Police Justice Austin's court September 15. Gavin is charged with uttering a worthless check for $2.35 on the Citizens' National Bank, to which the name of A. Dunton was signed.

Wife Sorry She Spoke.

After causing the arrest of her husband, J. M. Osebo of Ninth street and Santa Fé avenue, Monday night, on a battery charge, Mrs. Osebo called at the Police Station yesterday and tried to secure the release of her husband.

According to the story of Police Officer Glenn, who made the arrest, they were fighting on the front porch of their home and the woman ran toward the policeman, screaming that her husband was trying to kill her. Osebo is in jail awaiting trial.

Taken to Pomona for Trial.

S. A. Beckel, arrested Monday on information from Pomona charging him with forgery, was taken to that place yesterday morning to stand trial. It is alleged Beckel passed five checks, all for small amounts.

LOS ANGELES-PASADENA.

Board of Supervisors Asked to Help Boulevard by Appropriating Ten Thousand Dollars.

The proposed Los Angeles-Pasadena boulevard was brought to the notice of the Board of Supervisors again yesterday in a memorial filed with that body by George S. Patton, acting for the property owners interested.

This document advised the Supervisors of the final securing of all of the necessary deeds to form a continuous right of way from Bairdstown to Main street on the Alhambra line of the Pacific Electric and to Huntington Drive in South Pasadena.

This will give the promoters of the boulevard a continuous right of way along the Mission road from Los Angeles to Pasadena and Alhambra.

In view of some $15,000 having been raised by private subscription, the county is asked to appropriate $10,000 as its share in the promotion of the enterprise, which is expected to cost about $25,000.

Sufficient subscriptions are already promised, should the county make the desired appropriation, to make up the difference.

GOOD FOR CUP, MISCHIEF II.

Wins the Race by a Dozen Blocks With Ease.

Monsoon of Los Angeles Is Second on List.

Defender Aeolus Defeated Worse Than Before.

BY STINSON JARVIS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Today the defeat of San Diego's representative by the Los Angeles yachts was worse than before. Not only did Walter Folsom's Mischief II repeat and enlarge her yesterday's victory, but the Monsoon, owned and sailed by Joseph Pugh of Pasadena, was completely outsailed the recently-built representative. Besides this, it should be mentioned that when half the race was run, the Skidoo, owned, sailed and sailed by C. H. Wedgewood, was a long way ahead of the Aeolus of San Diego. The Skidoo is a new boat of Los Angeles which has never reached her possible perfection, and if she had been in anything like good condition she would have certainly been a third Los Angeles craft to outsail the Aeolus. The first part of the day promised a little more wind than yesterday, and on the all-day average there was more, at least sufficient to make good my yesterday's prophecy, that Monsoon would in stronger winds, also beat Aeolus.

Today the shape of the course was changed and the twelve miles was sailed to leeward and return. The starting line was made outside the point of Loma lighthouse, and inside the long kelp beds, through which long high ocean swells were coming sliding. It was a perfect spot for a test of vessels of this size, under the lee shore of the huge cliffs where miles of breakers rush in superbly to leap on the precipices. Here an Italian fishing smack swept in from Leghorn while it was at the fort boomed a welcome, and everything that could have been done by judges and officials to make the whole affair a success was attended to. The attendance of excursion and power launches and fishing craft was even larger than on the first day and this Lipton cup series has been pronounced the best in history.

Yesterday morning the starters' yacht, the Guemes, kindly lent for official purposes by Douglas White, was moored off Point Loma by the regular power boat, May, and at that time it was seen that although the breeze was stronger than on the previous day the Aeolus seemed to stand up better to her windward work, and was carrying full sail.

MONSOON LEADS FROM START.

In making a timed start there was little chance as to when it was best to get away. Mischief II considered the fastest boat, it would be a mistake to her to start behind the others, as she might have trouble in working clear, and probably would get out of her course. She, therefore, crossed first, at 1:02:41, which was the starting gun. The Aeolus was to hold down Mischief II and Monsoon jibed around the buoy in the spinnaker run and so she started next, at 1:03:03. Skidoo then came flying at the heels of Mitchell's Mischief I following at 1:03:53. Joe Pugh considered the advantages of the following boat, and hung back, with excellent judgment, at 1:04:03. All the boats had now given themselves on the line to ascertain which side to set spinnakers. The fleet, divided in opinion, half with the triangles to port and half to starboard. Finally, all set to starboard, but, owing to a mistake in giving the compass course to the launch, that set out the committee fleet was led astray for the first leg of the course. They followed the launch, which was going eastward, but the right course was southeast. When the yachts discovered they were on the wrong tack in sighting the stakeboat, they had to jibe over and come back, a jibe far to the northward of the course.

Of the hindmost boats a mile astern, Mischief II and the Aeolus had the advantage, and damaged the latter's spinnaker boom. Mischief II and the Aeolus had a fine race, Folsom caught the breeze first and after jibbing, had Aeolus under his lee, and kept him, but the black Flyer managed to slip through the defender's lee, and was ahead first. Those behind made short tacks to get out and gained where the wind was stronger.

MISCHIEF CLOSE AT FIRST MARK.

Mischief II was the first to jibe once again at the mark, so as to leave it on the starboard hand, and there were some exciting sporty pictures to be taken as the fleet flapped over. Mischief II rounded at 1:44:00, and Aeolus at 1:44:30. Monsoon by the wind quickly, and Skidoo hauled, with Aeolus close astern on the starboard tack. Folsom swung actively across Aeolus's bows, taking all chances of fouling with safety, and then he was able to get the calmer water and heavier slants close to the Coronado shore. Monsoon jibed around the mark at 1:45:30, Mischief I at 1:46:15, and Skidoo at 1:48:15.

Mischief II and Aeolus then had a hard reach to windward, both standing into the bay, while Mischief I threatened to overhaul them while the wind lasted, but she never took a place in front. Skidoo went shoreward at first, but soon learned where this breeze was to be won when we sailed the course two years ago, and except that she did not beat the fleet in the first leg of the race. This knowledge was worth everything. He went up and down the right quarter and thus got to the windward mark far ahead of Aeolus and on even terms with the latter. The latter boat turned the mark at 1:54 for a short tack, then stood out and weathered Aeolus on the next leg of the wind. After that Pugh stood forward again and gained an advantage, for when he next crossed the bows of Aeolus he was a mile ahead. Both Mischief II and Aeolus were then close to the wind, and from this the poor breeze the wind can be easily seen that very little was seen of Mischief I, which was almost too good to be true. We followed the fight between Mischief II and Aeolus and merely noted that the former boat at the windward mark. I timed her at 2:35:45. She was coming fast and she could not round the home mark second, as the ladies on board and not interested in the race, she gave place to Aeolus, which was coming in from the south with her spinnaker boom to starboard, her triangle in stops. Here she was timed at 2:45:30, nearly seven minutes behind the leader. Skidoo passed at 2:46:15 and Aeolus started for home and turned at 2:56:45.

MISCHIEF I'S FATAL MISTAKE.

Mischief I set her spinnaker on the wrong side, to starboard, and followed Mischief II probably at 2:55. At 3:01 Aeolus made a mistake and shifted over everything, losing considerable time in getting her triangle on the right side. Mischief II turned the leeward mark on the second round at 3:15:45 and stood out far on the starboard tack to try the breezes seaward. Her elapsed time on this last leg was 37 minutes. Monsoon jibed round in second place at 3:24:30. Her elapsed time in this spinnaker run of three miles was 39 minutes, showing a loss of two minutes to the leader. Skidoo came first in the region of this mark, but Aeolus caught her in the sail handling and they both rounded with bows level, a most exciting jibe, threatening a collision, just on the turn made at 3:41:30. Skidoo's elapsed time on this leeward leg beat Aeolus 4 minutes and 45 seconds, showing that the San Diego production can neither drift nor sail with the Los Angeles champion. Mischief II and Skidoo both went shoreward for their beating and Aeolus kept with Skidoo, as if in the hope of beating one Los Angeles boat at least. Monsoon went far seaward to hunt more wind, and almost lost her lead by doing so, because after the wind had fallen to almost a calm the Aeolus stood up at last and beat Skidoo. Then she got a slant of fresher wind directly off the lighthouse cliffs, which pointed her up straight to the mark, and Monsoon only finished by a little more than four minutes ahead of her, when the difference might have been much more. But these finishes of the second and third boats occurred long after Folsom was sailing for the harbor with the cup in his pocket. He was so far ahead that we did not even see him cross the line. The judges say that he finished at 4:08:13, but of this we knew nothing. Monsoon finished at 4:23:04; Aeolus at 4:27:19; Skidoo got badly becalmed and finished at 4:37:53; Mischief I was totally abandoned by the wind and I did not take her time.

There is a smoker tonight at the clubhouse, but even the shouting is over, and tomorrow all sail for home, the Mischief II. carrying a box filed with cotton wool and silver and labeled, "Sir Thomas Lipton's Cup."

The following table shows the results:

CALIFF PLAYS WITH FRESNO.

LET MIKE'S TEAM DOWN WITH TWO MEASLY HITS.

Only Two Raisin Eaters Reach the Third Bag and One of These Was Helped by an Error—Fitzgerald Is Rapped Hard in Final Innings. Doyle Makes Fine Catch.

Portland, 4; Fresno, 0.

The Portlands had about as much chance of losing a ball game yesterday as John Rockefeller has of being arrested, and if they had Califf pitching every game as he did that one, there would be no need of any other player in the game.

No one knows what Califf means, in the Indian language, but it stood for almost a dead silence yesterday out at the Chutes, for about all Fresno could hear was themselves slicing the air with a bat. Two measly swats was all that came to them in nine long innings, and these were so far apart that the second forgot there had been a first. Two men managed to reach third base, but after they got there, Califf tied a knot around them and there they stayed. Portland took the kinks out of Fitzgerald in short order and picked enough two-horse hits off him in the tail end of the game to win easily.

The whole difficulty was that Fresno couldn't do a thing with Califf, their hits being a single in the third inning and a freak double in the ninth after two were out. Very few ball games are won with such scattered swipes and with Califf pitching his head off, the struggle was really over before it commenced. A good-sized crowd of fans saw the game and they saw a good one, for the plays were sharp and a few of them verged on the spectacular. President Bert of the Coast League was among those present.

The chapter about what the Fresno men did might be written about what they didn't do, for not being able to hit the ball they couldn't score. That's all.

Portland had the same trouble at times, but the bunched swats on Fitzgerald in various innings and runs came easily. Bert Delmas juggled McHale's grounder in the first and then threw it over the first baseman's head, two singles that followed immediately afterwards, scoring McHale. In the seventh Lister and McHale doubled for another run and in the next inning Mitchell and McLean doubled and when Fitzgerald threw the ball over the third baseman's head, two more runs piled in.

The real good fielding stunt was a fine running catch by Doyle of McHale's long fly to deep center.

Bull Perrine appeared as the umpire and was warmly toasted for a decision on first base in the second inning. Delmas had drawn a pass and Dashwood, who followed him, bounced to the pitcher and the ball was thrown to first base. In watching Delmas run Perrine did not see Lister drop the throw and called Dashwood out, and a loud roar went up at this that did not stop as long as the game lasted.

HARRY BAKER WHIPS NEIL.

Bantam Cannot Find Shifty Featherweight.

Loser Aggressor, but Baker Shows Cleverness.

His Seconds Allege Another Highway Robbery.

Fighting a cool, heady battle against a veteran of many hard contests and the bantamweight champion of America, Harry Baker, the apt pupil of De Witte Van Court, earned the decision last night over Frankie Neil after twenty rounds of hard, clever fighting.

Baker, from the tap of the gong, was a sore puzzle to Neil, and demonstrated that the bantamweight champion cannot whip a clever, fast fighter. The battle was of the same order as that made by Neil and Abe Attell, except that Baker protected himself better than Attell, while not being able to footwork like the featherweight champion. Occasionally, when the boys would come to close quarters, Baker would cover for a moment, then break ground, raining rights and lefts to Neil's head.

Try as he would, it was only at intervals that Neil found his man, and on three occasions his left hook to Baker's jaw made him see things and look worried, but he would weather the storm by covering for a moment and then step back, allowing Neil to run into a stiff left.

Baker came out of the battle without a mark, and when Referee Tommy Burns, champion heavyweight of the world, held up Baker's glove, the little featherweight jumped into the air and yelled for joy.

At this juncture Jim Neil, Frank McDonald and Jack Nolan, the latter being Neil's chief seconds, stepped into the ring and said they were robbed. Jim Neil was the quietest of the crowd, and merely said something about "hold-up." Frankie had little to say, and wanted to let the matter go as it stood.

Throughout the battle Baker worked under instructions from De Witt Van Court, and it was through careful coaching that he was saved punishment at critical times.

Just before Baker went to the pavilion for the battle he went to Tom McCarey and borrowed a sum of money to bet on himself. He got even money that he would not stay ten rounds. All of his friends and trainers were down heavy on him to stay ten, fifteen and some twenty rounds. He was confident of winning and showed it except in the first round, when he seemed to have stage fright.

DECISION POPULAR.

The decision of Referee Burns met popular approval and appeared to be the only one possible.

Neil opened the first round by boring in and Baker backed away, jabbing his left to body and nose. In the second round Baker opened up a battery of rights and lefts to Neil's head that surprised the audience. The third was almost a duplicate of the first. The fourth was a jab-and-get-away on the part of Baker, finding Neil's right eye, which began to swell.

In the fifth Neil began rushing, but in the mix-ups Baker got in some telling blows. The sixth round showed that Baker would stay the twenty, for he took two hard punches to the head from Neil's left and then opened his battery of both hands to the head. The seventh found Neil boring in. Twice he cornered Baker, who covered. The eighth saw Baker outbox his opponent. He jabbed at will, getting Neil as he came in. He kept the claret running.

Neil went after his man in the tenth and put his right to Baker's jaw. Baker took the defensive and backed and jabbed his man. Baker did some clever boxing.

Neil opened the eleventh by getting to Baker's jaw three times, but the blows did not disconcert Baker, who covered, backed and jabbed. Neil had the round all to himself. Neil rushed in the twelfth and Baker covered. They fought in a clinch and the crowd yelled foul, accusing Neil.

NEIL SEEKS KNOCK-OUT.

Neil hooked a hard left to Baker's jaw in the opening of the thirteenth, but the blow glanced. Neil worked for a knock-out in the fourteenth, but Baker ran away, jabbing. Neil chased Baker around the ring in the fifteenth, and hooked a hard right to the jaw, Baker smiled and ran away.

Baker backed and covered in the opening of the sixteenth. He put a hard left to Neil's head and Neil came back with steam in the punch, landing hard on Baker's jaw. The seventeenth was almost a repetition of the previous round. Neil was cautioned for hitting low. Baker began to step in and pepper Neil in the eighteenth, putting two hard ones to the wind. Baker almost ran out of wind, but rallied and caught Neil coming in with a left to the wind. Neil tried to stand close and pound away, but Baker covered his stomach with his elbows and put his gloves to the jaw.

Baker met Neil's rushes in the last round, backing and covering, in a moment later mixing it. Neil put two lefts to Baker's head. Baker was tired, but kept cool and jabbed Neil out of harm's way. Neil could not get in close. He began to swing wild, trying for a knock-out blow, but Baker made another rally an met him at all points. The round ended wtih both boys pounding away at close quarters, with honors slightly in favor of Baker.

As the principals were introduced, Kid Solomon was called for and challenged the winner. The whole house cheered him and yelled for a speech.

The preliminaries were good ones. Red Fitzsimmons and Kid Delaney fought a pretty draw, and the decision was a popular one. The battle between Leahy and Brown was a hugging match, neither being willing to spar for it. Brown would lead for the head and get a right from Leahy in the stomach. Both clinched after each blow. Brown tried a old trick of laying his weight onto his man and then holding out his arms.

Twice Brown got to Leahy hard to the head, but Leahy peppered away at the stomach.

At the end of the six rounds neither man was in distress and they landed an equal number of blows. The referee gave it as a draw. The gallery saw the matter in a different light and roared some.

Tenny Fights Umpire.

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—Following today's National League baseball game between Boston and Pittsburgh on the south end grounds, there was a personal encounter between Manager and First Baseman Fred Tenney of the Boston team and Umpire Klem. Tenny accused Klem of neglecting to deliver over to him the balls used in the game which are always considered the property of the home club. He then attempted forcibly to search the umpire's pockets. An exchange of blows followed and Klem, it is alleged, threw one of the balls at Tenny, hitting him in the face. Both men bear marks of the en-

ROW OVER BALL GAME.

UMPIRE BARRED FROM GROUNDS

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Something unique in baseball occurred here today, when the game which was to have been played as the third of the present series between the New York and Chicago National League clubs did not take place on the Polo Grounds. Each club claims that the other forfeited, so the board of directors of the National League must straighten out matters and a lengthy wrangle is bound to ensue. So far as the National League can chronicle the unplayed game at present, Chicago has been officially declared the winner, 9 to 0.

At yesterday's game, the second of the series, a good deal of ill feeling was shown on both sides on account of decisions rendered by Umpire Johnstone. When Johnstone and Emslie, the umpires assigned by President Pulliam, arrived at the entrance to the Polo Grounds today, Johnstone was refused admittance, and Emslie, who accompanied him, declined to take any part in the game so long as his associate was not allowed to perform his official functions. Johnstone then declared the game forfeited by New York to Chicago, basing his decision on the local club's refusal to admit him to the grounds.

The crowd, which numbered about 11,000, wondered at the delay and yelled "play ball" repeatedly, while Managers McGraw and Chance held a consultation. McGraw called on his utility man, Strang, to officiate as umpire. Chance refused to appoint a man for his team to act in conjunction with Strang, saying that the game had been forfeited under the rules.

President Charles Murphy of the Chicago club then took a hand in the much mixed proceedings and after he had spoken a few words to Chance the Chicago players left the grounds in the belief that they were perfectly justified in doing so.

A few minutes later an announcer jumped from the grand stand and said he had been requested by the New York club management to make the following statement:

"Umpire Johnstone was barred from these grounds today by Police Inspector Sweeney, who feared that the presence of Johnstone after yesterday's tumult might incite a riot. Umpire Johnstone has declared the game forfeited by New York to Chicago 9 to 0."

Later on the announcer again addressed the crowd, which was by this time scattered over the diamond and the outfield, saying:

"I am instructed by Manager McGraw to say that, he having sent Strang out as an umpire and the Chicago team having ignored his calling on them to "play ball," the game under the rules is forfeited by Strang to New York 9 to 0, and the New York club will protest the claim of the visiting club."

Rain checks had been issued prior to the game and the patrons of the club were informed that these checks would be good for any other game on these grounds during the present season.

Police Inspector Sweeney, when seen later on, said that he had not taken the initiative in preventing Umpire Johnstone from entering the grounds, and added that it was at the request of the management of the New York club that he had acted as he did.

At the office of the New York club tonight the following statement signed by John T. Brush, the president, was issued:

"At the conclusion of yesterday's game such disorder followed that a large force of police under the direction of Inspector Sweeney was necessary to protect the umpire, Mr. Johnstone, from the violence of the crowd, who were incensed at his decisions.

"During the demonstration many of the spectators were endangered, the inspector himself being struck, and one of his officers injured.

"After a conference this afternoon between the club officials and Inspector Sweeney the inspector deemed it advisable to remove the disturbing cause and therefore as a measure of precaution he believed that Mr. Johnstone ought not to appear upon the grounds. For this reason Mr. Johnstone was excluded."

Pulliam Asserts Himself.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The Associated Press tonight received the following statement from President Harry C. Pulliam of the National League of Baseball Clubs, regarding the forfeited game at the Polo Grounds today:

"SARATOGA (N. Y.) Aug. 7.—Press reports say that Johnstone, a National League umpire, was refused admission today by the New York club, and thereupon the Chicago club rightfully and in strict accordance with the National League constitution declined to play. The game was legally forfeited to the Chicago club, and I stand by the action of the umpires to the finish. The constitution of the National League puts on me the duty of assigning umpires, and compels every club to accept my assignments. I have assigned the umpires fairly and equitably and I point to my assignments to the New York club, both at home and abroad, as proof of this.

"I give up my well-earned vacation and return to New York at once and propose to put the issue squarely to the National League and find out if Chicago, Pittsburgh, Brooklyn, Cincinati and the other clubs are a lot of poltroons and dogs and eke out their existence solely through the receipts on the New York grounds, and therefore must stand by and see that New York club invalidate the constitution of the National League at will. So long as I am president of the National League I will sustain every forfeit made when an umpire is refused admittance to any park, and if this does not suit the National League it can have my resignation at a moment's notice.

(Signed) "HARRY C. PULLIAM,
"President National League."

EMBEZZLERS' REFUGE.

Greece Is a Haven, Provided the Greek Police Are Properly Rewarded.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PARIS, July 28.—The "waiting game" is still a popular policy with the French police. Some months ago Paris detectives chased a young French embezzler into Greece, and found him protected from extradition by the authorities, whom he paid well; so they quietly sat down and waited for the criminal to spend all his stolen money. Then when he had to move away and crossed into Italy, the detectives arrested him and brought him here.

Ferdinand Bolle, aged 24, was a clerk in the Societe Generale Bank. He was married and also had a separate establishment, over which a young lady friend presided. He received notice of discharge just at the time that every one was talking of Jean Gallay, the bank clerk "baron" and Mlle. Merelli. Bolle said to himself, "Why should I not imitate this Gallay?" So he began to fill in checks and forge signatures. In a few days he cashed in $25,000. Then he left Paris with his mistress. The couple fled to Corfu and took a charming and luxurious villa. They began to have a gay time.

Bolle foolishly wrote to some friends in Paris detailing the lively life he was leading. The police were waiting for just such letters, and two detectives armed with the necessary papers immediately went to Corfu. When they called on Bolle he introduced them to his fair companion and feted them. But he refused to return to France. The detectives, when they tried to extradite him, found that the authorities were protecting Bolle. They appealed to the Greek Minister of the Interior and to the Chief of Police of Corfu, but received only promises. Then the French Ambassador took a hand. This resulted in Bolle and his companion being expelled from that particular village, the authorities of which were dismissed. But the fugitives merely moved on to the next village and took another villa. The French detectives thereupon telegraphed that until Bolle had spent all his money an arrest was impossible. They were then ordered to wait like Patience on a monument until the bank clerk had run through his last dollar. Bolle was spending money like a billionaire and for five weeks the two detectives went fishing, smoked and slept and enjoyed themselves.

When Bolle finally came to the end of his stolen spoils he and his companion took a little coast steamer to Brindisi. The detectives awaited them on arrival, arrested Bolle and quickly got extradition.

On arrival in Paris Bolle and the detectives told their stories to Examining Magistrate Berr, who also questioned Bolle's mistress. She denied knowing where the man's money came from and was discharged. Bolle made a full confession. He declared that the Green authorities knew he was a thief and made him pay a heavy sum each day for protection from arrest.

Education is certainly a great advantage to a person. After spending years acquiring knowledge you may possibly find yourself able to earn $60 a month as a school teacher.

The spell-binders will be at a disadvantage this year. The people are so busy they are now compelled to take their gab in the form of type capsules hot from the printing presses.

The negro has at last begun to feel that he is making some progress. A white man made a speech to an audience of colored people the other day without giving them any advice.

Of course it may not mean anything, but observing people have felt compelled to notice the fact that the Democrats of Iowa are to hold their convention in a town called Waterloo.

The report that the Indians of Indian Territory have been swindled, leads up to the question whether there is an Indian deal on record which shows that the red men have not been swindled.

It may be all right for the poet to call the attention of the public to certain things, "lest we forget," but what the politicians want to avoid is the doing of certain things, lest we remember.

It is to be remembered that it is Portland, Or., that wants more water. As far as Portland, Me., is concerned, it has been compelled to live under Prohibition laws for several years past.

There was a man who once made the saying that "unless you live in New York you are just camping out." But, even in New York, the folks appear to be camping out during these sweltering days and nights of a climate that isn't fit for a horned toad to live in.

PARDEE JOINS THE KNOCKERS.

If Gov. Pardee is not misquoted by the subsidized organ of certain power companies, he has been talking out of the abundance of his ignorance on the subject of the Owens water project. This is what is attributed to the Governor by the evening paper:

"It may sound like heresy to make this statement, but it is a fact, just the same, that the Owens River Valley proposition as arranged by Los Angeles is not just to the poor fellows up in the Owens River and lake country. The ranchers in the valley are really alarmed at the outlook. What need is there for Los Angeles to take from them water they need for agricultural and domestic purposes, when half an hour's travel to the south and west of this city brings to view an artesian belt giving forth water ample for the needs of Los Angeles and the surrounding country for many years to come?

"This is why I say that it is an injustice to the Owens River Valley ranchers to take by what is known as 'superior right,' or demand, that which will practically ruin them on the ranch."

Had Gov. Pardee taken the trouble to ascertain the facts from indisputable records and from officials of the city of Los Angeles, he could not have said so many foolish things in so few words. Evidently he is entirely ignorant of what the city has done and proposes to do in Owens Valley, and probably the interview with him was based upon a rank misstatement of the case, made to him by the interviewer for the little corporation sheet that has been lying about the Owens River project for months.

If Gov. Pardee will apply for information to the Mayor, the City Attorney, the Board of Public Works, the Water Commissioners or the engineers of the Los Angeles aqueduct, he will ascertain that the city has not taken and does not propose to take from the ranchers of Owens Valley a drop of water needed or used by them for agricultural and domestic purposes. He will ascertain that there is nothing of injustice in the project to "the poor fellows up in Owens Valley." If he will go to Owens Valley for his facts, instead of to the organ of corporations inimical to the welfare of the city, he will find that the people who are alarmed at the outlook are not the ranchers but a few men who had speculative land schemes in contemplation and a few storekeepers and politicians. He will find that a great many of the "poor fellows" have sold out their land and water rights to the city at good prices and are pleased with their bargains, and that more are eager to sell and only afraid that the city may not buy them out.

The city has not invoked any "superior right" or right of eminent domain to take water from the Owens Valley ranchers. Every right to land and water has been recognized and preserved to them. The only rights acquired by the city are those which it has bought from willing vendors. Not a ranch in Owens Valley has been or will be injured a dollar's worth; not a drop of water can be taken from any one who owns the right to its use. Every rancher who has not sold his land and water to the city may go on using water and cultivating his ranch as long as he pleases, and instead of being ruined, he will find his market improved and will make more money because the city has undertaken the Owens River water enterprise.

Gov. Pardee shows grotesque ignorance of the hydrography of Southern California when he asserts that there is an artesian belt south and west of Los Angeles "giving forth water ample for the needs of Los Angeles and the surrounding country for many years to come."

Engineers of the United States Geological Survey have made exhaustive study of the artesian belt and the water conditions generally in Southern California, and have found that the water plane is being lowered rapidly by the drafts now made upon the underground supply. They found that the original area of the artesian basin was over three hundred square miles and has been reduced by pumping to 191 square miles. Their conclusion, published in official reports with which Gov. Pardee, as president of the Irrigation Congress, should be familiar, was: "That the water supply for Los Angeles and the suburban towns is now entirely used; that it would not be wise economy for the City of Los Angeles to endeavor to obtain additional water from the gravel beds of Southern California in this vicinity, because the records indicate that as a general rule these underground waters are already overappropriated, and that the city could not obtain additional water therefrom without the extensive condemnation of highly developed horticultural districts, including many towns and villages."

Those conclusions were based upon data collected by W. C. Mendenhall of the United States Geological Survey. Against them we have Gov. Pardee's offhand assertion that the artesian belt is "giving forth water ample for the needs of Los Angeles and the surrounding country for many years to come."

Gov. Pardee is down here on a fishing expedition—fishing for votes. He asks the citizens of Los Angeles to give him their support in his effort to secure renomination. To show his deep solicitude for their welfare, he attacks, with gross misrepresentation and ignorant argument, a public enterprise of the most vital importance to Southern California, and puts himself in opposition to what they know to be the only possible solution of their most pressing problem.

Gov. Pardee tells the people of Los Angeles that they do not know their own needs; that they are greedy invaders of the rights of a weaker community; that they are robbing and ruining the poor ranchers of Inyo; that they do not need and will not need for years to come any more water than they have at their doors. He ranges himself on the side of the corporate interests that have been opposing the city's water project with falsification and furtive obstruction from its inception. Perhaps he has the promise of their support. Probably he got his "facts" from them.

The Governor seems to have forgotten that his own personal organ, the newspaper of which he is part owner—the Oakland Enquirer—recently said of the Owens River project:

"This is one of the greatest public enterprises ever undertaken by any city in the world, and if carried out will give Los Angeles and Southern California an impetus which possibly could add millions of dollars of wealth to the State."

Gov. Pardee's paper takes a broader view than his of public questions. The Enquirer sees, in an ample supply of water for Los Angeles, the factor of growth that will add millions to the wealth of the State. The Governor sees only an imaginary injustice to a mythical "poor rancher" up in Owens Valley. And he thinks he is so great a Governor that he ought to be reelected by acclamation!

AN OBVIOUS ERROR.

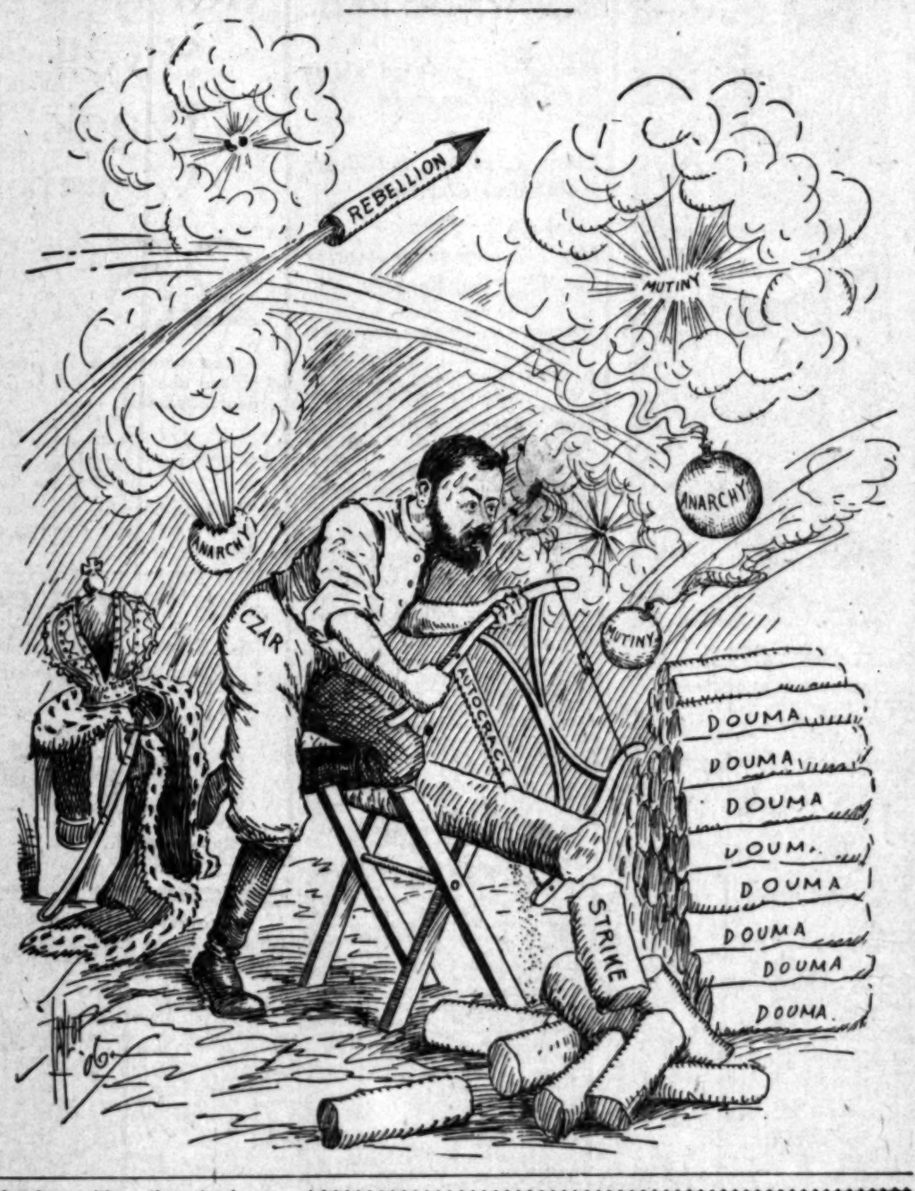
There must be some mistake in the report in the Express that Doc Howton's alleged attack of heart failure in the Council chamber was brought on by the shock of hearing himself severely criticized by a man in the crowd.

The product of the "recall" has been "cussed" by men in the crowd, by his constituents in the Sixth Ward, by his colleagues in the Council, by the jawsmiths of the labor unions, by Uncle Heine, by those who voted for him, and by the general public, so frequently and so fervently that it would not ruffle him to be mistaken for the leader of a string team by an Arizona mule-skinner.

The only plausible explanation of Howton's collapse is that he overheard some one in the audience commend his course. A kind word, incautiously spoken of the poor old dog by a stranger within his hearing, might well be expected to give him an attack of heart failure.

Hereafter, when any one feels moved to say a nice thing to the recall statesman, it is to be hoped he will break it gently.

STILL DOING BUSINESS AT THE OLD STAND.



THE WONDER-WORLD OF ART

I step across the mystic borderland,
And look upon the wonder-world of Art;
How beautiful, how beautiful its hills!
And all its valleys, how surpassing fair!
The winding paths that lead up to the heights
Are polished by the footsteps of the great,
The mountain peaks stand very near to God;
The chosen few whose feet have trod thereon
Have talked with Him, and with the angels walked.
Here are no sounds of discord—no profane
Or senseless gossip of unworthy things—
Only the songs of chisels and of pens,
Of busy brushes and ecstatic strains
Of souls surcharged with music most divine.
Here is no idle sorrow, no poor grief
For any day or object left behind,
For time is counted precious, and herein
Is such complete abandonment of Self
That tears turn into rainbows and enhance
The beauty of the land where all is fair.

Awed and afraid, I cross the border-land.
Oh? who am I, that I dare enter here
Where the great artists of the world have trod—
The genius-crowned aristocrats of Earth?

Only the singer of a little song;
Yet loving Art with such a mighty love,
I hold it greater to have won a place
Just on the fair land's edge, to make my grave,
Than in the outer world of greed and gain
To sit upon a royal throne and reign.

THE LYNCHING SYSTEM OF MURDER.

Of all the abhorrent forms of murder, lynching is the most brutal and cowardly. That it is all this and more, no man can deny. Lynching is the taking of human life without warrant of law. It is the extreme of cruelty. It has all the damning accessories of premeditation and malice aforethought, and it is so dastardly as to be unworthy of a skulking coyote.

This foul and un-American practice is none the less inexcusable because it is confined to the killing of negroes. In fact it is all the worse for that. If white men were as regularly lynched, when they either commit crimes or are merely suspected of them, and no discrimination made on account of color, the thing would not look so bad.

The lynching which took place at Charlottesville, N. C., on Monday last, is a sample of nearly all. Three negroes, against whom nothing had been proven, were taken forcibly from jail and the custody of the law, hung to a tree and riddled with bullets. Sometimes the custom is varied by burning the victims at the stake. Whether or not the persons who were lynched were guilty of the crime of which they were suspected no one now knows, and it is doubtful if any of the lynchers care. But the men who strung those helpless human beings to a tree and shot them were themselves murderers, pure and simple.

No excuse can or should be made for negroes, or white men, either, who commit crimes. But all men stand equal before the law of the United States. Every man has the right to be tried by a jury of his peers. The lynchers destroy that right.

It is not to be wondered at, perhaps, that the good, true men of the negro race in America grow discouraged and disheartened in the face of constantly recurring instances like this one at Charlottesville. When the negro says he is not given a square deal, that his rights are not respected and that he is the prey of brutes who, because their skins are white, hound and persecute and slay him at will, what answer can be given?

Yet, there must sometime be an end to this sort of infamy. There must come a time when the negro will not be denied the protection of the laws. Not only has the Constitution guaranteed that protection to him, but he has earned it, himself, a million times over, by his sacrifices, his good conduct and his progress along the lines of civilization and humanity. The American negroes, as a class, have no reason to be ashamed of themselves today. It is a pity and a shame that the nation tolerates the abuses and the outrages that are being heaped upon them and which they are obliged to suffer.

Whoever has a voice, let him raise it in the negro's behalf. Whoever they may be who sit in the seats of the mighty, let them wipe from the nation's escutcheon this awful disgrace.

A DILIGENT HIRED MAN.

Ten definite, unequivocal, categorical contradictions of fact in one short article constitute a record which the editorette of the power companies' handbill doubtless regards as an achievement worthy of recognition in the form of augmented subsidy. Lest the owners of the anti-aqueduct organ overlook the diligence and ingenuity of the foreman of their lie foundry, a list of the statements inconsistent with things as they are is appended, as follows:

That it is proposed to spend $50,000,000 on the Owens River project. [Repeated four times.]

That the point where water is to be delivered is forty miles from the city.

That the water will be turned loose on ranch property owned by the editor of The Times.

That The Times advocates the Owens River enterprise because of its editor's desire to gain a fortune at the expense of the taxpayers.

That $50,000,000 will be spent by the taxpayers "in watering the Otis ranch."

That the city pays $10,000 a year to a superintendent of waterworks.

That Engineer J. B. Lippincott is assistant superintendent of waterworks at a salary of $6000.

The truth can be stated briefly, and it may serve to show the ingenuity of the corporations' hired liar.

The estimated cost of the Owens River project is less than $25,000,000.

The point of delivery is ten miles from the present water system head works.

No ranch property owned by the editor of The Times needs or will use water from Owens River.

William Mulholland receives $10,000 salary as chief engineer of the Los Angeles aqueduct.

J. B. Lippincott is associate engineer of the aqueduct, and has no connection with the present waterworks.

A correspondent asks if Pasadena is for Pardee. A strange question. Hasn't Gov. Pardee made Jim Campbell a colonel? And doesn't Col. Jim command Pasadena?

Was Complete Costume.

"Some of these bathing dresses," said Marshall P. Wilder, "make me think of Princess Clementine, the mother of the Prince of Bulgaria.

"The Princess said one day to her sailor brother, the Duc De Joinville:

"'Bring me on your next trip to the South Seas the complete costume of a King's wife.'

"'I will gladly,' the Duke answered. "He returned from the South Seas a year later and handed to his sister a string of glass beads.

"'These are very pretty,' said the Princess, 'but you promised me a complete costume.'

"'This is a complete costume,' said the Duke. 'I've never seen them wear any other.'"

UNCLE SAM'S LARGE CITIES

[WRITTEN FOR THE TIMES BY WALTER J. BALLARD.]

Bulletin No. 50 of the Bureau of the Census presents official statistics for the year 1904 of Uncle Sam's cities having a population of over 30,000. Space will not permit publication of the entire bulletin, but the following extracts may suffice

POPULATION AND AREA.

Cities included in the inquiry	151
Population of over 300,000	14
Between 100,000 and 300,000	25
Between 50,000 and 100,000	45
Under 50,000	67

AREA—ACRES.

New York	209,213
New Orleans	125,600
Chicago	114,932
Philadelphia	81,828
Duluth	40,556

St. Louis, Washington, Denver, Des Moines, St. Paul and Minneapolis follow in the order named, each with over 30,000 acres. The other cities covering over 20,000 acres of area are, in the order of decreasing area, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Taunton, Sioux City, Los Angeles, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Boston, Springfield, Mass., Worcester, Superior, Portland, Or., San Antonio, Cleveland, Fall River, Wichita, Manchester, and Haverhill.

The city having the smallest area is Hoboken, with 825 acres. Duluth, with 62,000 inhabitants, takes in more territory than St. Louis, with its 624,000. Salt Lake City, with 6000 less population than Hoboken, has 35 times as much area. Of the cities of over 100,000 population, Allegheny has the smallest land area, 4726 acres; Paterson, the next smallest, 5157 acres; then St. Joseph, 6089 acres, and Jersey City, 9163 acres.

EXPENDITURES.

The total corporate expenditures of the 151 cities for the calendar year 1904, exclusive of inter-department payments, was $554,440,215, of which New York City paid out $167,060,171, or three-tenths. The total outlay of the 151 cities showed an increase of $27,108,713, or 5.8 per cent. over 1903, and $84,040,590, or 18.1 per cent. over 1902. During the two years 1903-4, the single city of New York increased its expenditures by $37,964,625, or 29.4 per cent., while its population increased but 6.1 per cent. The total expenditures of $554,440,215 classify as follows

Running expenses, 66.2 per cent.
Public works, 32.9 per cent.
Decrease of debt, .09 per cent.

The running expenses showed an increase of only $4,015,113, or 1.2 per cent. over 1903, and of $11,070,353, or 3.5 per cent. over 1902. The amount spent in 1904 for permanent works increased 5.9 per cent. over 1903, and 43.5 per cent. over 1902. It is a favorable showing that most of the total increase in expenditure was for the construction of works of a permanent character, and New York's large increase was due almost entirely to this cause—docks, wharves, etc.

Though New York has only twice the population of Chicago, says the bulletin, its current expenses are nearly four times as great. The next six largest cities together expended less than the metropolis. Philadelphia spends more than Chicago, though one-third smaller in size, and Boston rivals New York in generous expenditure. Though about equal in size to Baltimore, its current expenditures are about three times as great.

Of the total running expenses of the 151 cities, 51.7 per cent. went for salaries and wages, and 35.3 per cent. for all other objects. Interest on public debts, cost 14.7 per cent.; police, 12.9; fire department, 9.3; street lighting, 4.2; courts, 2.2; parks and recreation, 2.6; hospitals, 1.5; street cleaning, 4.0; and relief of poor, 1.4 per cent.

EDUCATION LEADS.

It is gratifying to note that 28.5 per cent. of the expenditures of the 151 cities was for maintaining public schools, and only .09 per cent. for prisons and reformatories. If Victor Hugo who said so pertinently "To open the door of the school is to close the door of the jail."

RECEIPTS—WATERWORKS PROMINENT.

During the fiscal year 1904, the receipts of the 151 cities were $[illegible] Municipal industries, such as gas and waterworks, and other commercial revenues, contributed $112,298,897, [illegible] cannot be properly detailed because of the lack of a uniform system of public accounting, but of all municipal industries by far the most important are waterworks. They took in $44,[illegible] in 1904. Cities reporting owned such works were 108 of the 151, and their value constitutes 63.8 per cent. of the aggregate value of all municipal industry properties. The cities of over 100,000 population not owning such works were San Francisco, New Orleans, Omaha, New Haven, Joseph, Scranton, and Paterson.

NOT MUCH MUNICIPAL ELECTRICITY.

All told, the 151 cities report $8,000,000 invested in electric light works, of which Chicago alone has about one-half. Other large cities owning such plants are Detroit, Columbus, Seattle, Grand Rapids, Nashville, Holyoke, and Tacoma, but of $4,000,000 in value, is represented by the seven plants.

GAS WORKS.

Nearly all of the $321,000,000 invested in gas works is in the city of Philadelphia. Toledo, Richmond, Dayton, Holyoke, and Wheeling were, in 1902, the only other large cities owning such works.

Detroit has the only municipal asphalt plant. The cities engaged in irrigation are Los Angeles, Ogden, Salt Lake City, and San Antonio. Only three retain toll bridges, namely New York, Covington, and La Crosse. Boston and Portland, Or., operate municipal ferries. The only municipal quarry is owned by Auburn, N. Y.

The aggregate value of the properties of all municipal industries is $790,370,726, of which 53.4 per cent. is not yet paid for. It is worthy of note, however, that outlays for permanent improvements are met from current revenues in American cities more generally than in British.

CALIFORNIA SMALLEST DEBT.

The total debts of the 151 cities, sinking funds, is $1,223,216,933, a little more than one-third more than Uncle Sam's interest bearing public debt. The principal per capita city debts are: Newton, Mass. ..... New York ..... Boston ..... Pawtucket .....

Only 10 other cities over 75,0[illegible] Of the over 100,000 population, San Francisco had the smallest per capita debt, $15.54; and of the 100,000 populations, Sacramento the smallest, $5.81.

The aggregate sinking funds amounted to $303,245,722, of which more than one-half is held by New York. Fifty-five cities decrease debts. The average rate of interest of all city debts is 3.5 per cent.

The largest tax levies per $1000 were:

Boston	[illegible]
Newton, Mass.	[illegible]
New York	[illegible]
Denver	[illegible]
Cambridge	[illegible]
Portland, Me.	[illegible]
Providence	[illegible]
Pittsburgh	[illegible]
Yonkers	[illegible]
San Francisco	[illegible]

In 1904 the total debt of the 151 cities increased by $124,264,641, to which New York contributed over one-half.

Will You Save a Third On Best Black Silks?

Whatever else may be appropriate or inappropriate, there's never any question about black silks. Young women and old wear them with equal propriety. That is why they are usually held so strictly to regular prices, because they're not goods of any particular season, but are always in style. We mention today several yard-wide numbers, offered at an average third less than regular value during this midsummer black silk sale:

At 85c, value $1, 36-inch taffeta.
At $1.12½, value $1.50, 36-inch taffeta.
At $1.42½, value $1.75, 36-inch taffeta.
At $1.72½, value $2, 36-inch Swiss taffeta.
At $1.22½, Value $1.50, 36-inch oil boiled taffeta.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

OIL CONTRACTS ARE HELD UP.

TALK OF COLLUSION BEFORE PASADENA COUNCIL.

Contract Is Let for Paving South Fair Oaks Avenue Between Vineyard and Glenarm Streets—Plans for the Picnic in Long Beach Are Announced.

Office of The Times, No. 28 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Aug. 7.—At the meeting of the City Council this morning the contract for paving South Fair Oaks avenue, between Vinyard and Glenarm streets was let to Andrew Holloday for $51,279, this being the lowest bid filed. Contracts to the amount of $124,560, principally for oiling streets, were also approved, but during the afternoon session there arose some doubt as to whether there had not been some collusion, and after considerable discussion and stormy debate the contracts for oiling were all held up until the Council might have an opportunity to make further investigations.

A petition to have Franklin avenue opened through to Colorado street was presented and referred to the committee on streets and alleys. The petition was signed by a majority of the property owners on Franklin street. Property owners on Colorado street were represented by M. D. Butler, who filed a protest stating that were the avenue to be opened it would work a great hardship to those who owned land on that portion of Colorado street which would have to be cut into. The protestants denied that it was a monetary consideration which prompted them to fight the opening project, and stated that they simply did not want their beautiful home places ruined as they would be were the avenue opened.

Auditor Kellogg presented his report for the month of July. It showed that on August 1 there was the sum of $83,158.70 on hand in the city treasury. Of this sum $3632.69 represented uncashed warrants and was therefore not subject to check.

The City Attorney reported that the railway company had agreed to do certain street work on Columbia street and that for that reason further action by the Council appeared to be unnecessary.

The petition of the residents of Stevenson avenue, presented a week ago and referred to the committee on streets and alleys, was reported favorably by the committee. This provides for the establishment of an official grade and for the grading, oiling, curbing, guttering and sidewalking of the avenue between Colorado and Maple streets. This avenue is in the newly-annexed district, and the work is the first that has been authorized since annexation.

The request of Dr. F. F. Rowland for a permit to construct a baloony on his house at No. 55 South Marengo avenue was denied, as the construction of such a balcony would conflict with the fire regulations.

The sanitary inspector presented his report for the month of July. He reported that he had made 301 inspections and had investigated twenty-seven complaints. Of fourteen samples of milk inspected he had found all but one satisfactory. He stated that he had inspected the People's Dairy, where he found conditions fairly good; had inspected E. O. Watrous's dairy and had found conditions much improved since his last visit; had inspected Sunset Dairy and found conditions satisfactory; had inspected Linda Vista Dairy and found conditions good; had inspected Brown's Dairy and found conditions fairly good; had inspected Puttee's Dairy and found conditions good; had inspected the Pasadena Sanitary Company's Dairy where he found conditions not of the best; had inspected Modern Dairy and found conditions satisfactory.

The superintendent of the city sewer farm reported that the income for the month had been $324.24 and the expense $510.71. He reported that everything is in good condition, and that irrigation has been begun. He stated that as far as he could see the water had not fallen off this year.

PICNIC PLANS PROGRESS.

The Pasadena Picnic Transportation Committee has completed its arrangements with the railroads, and today the schedule on which the special trains between Pasadena and Long Beach will be run was made public.

Two trains will be run over the lines of the Southern Pacific Company, one leaving Pasadena at 8 o'clock in the morning, and leaving Long Beach on the return trip at 5 o'clock in the evening, and the other leaving Pasadena at 8:30 o'clock in the morning and returning at 8 o'clock in the evening. The Salt Lake road will run two trains, the first leaving at 7:30 o'clock in the morning, and returning at 5 o'clock in the evening, and the other leaving at 8 o'clock in the morning and returning at 9 o'clock in the evening. Over the Pacific Electric lines cars will leave all terminal points in Pasadena at 7:30 and 8 o'clock in the morning and run directly through to Long Beach. Cars from the barns will leave every five minutes after 7 o'clock in the morning, and will be kept up as long as necessary. These cars will be run through to Long Beach without transfer.

C. D. Sargeant, Harry Goehegan, H. R. Hertel, George Brenner and L. L. Test went to Long Beach this morning to make the final arrangements for the reception of the Pasadena picnic party.

The banks have decided to close at noon on Thursday, and nearly all stores in the city will be closed throughout the day. It is the intention of the members of the Board of Trade and the Merchants' Association to have as complete a holiday as can be arranged at this time, and it is conservatively estimated that 5000 people or more will go to Long Beach on that day.

FUNERAL OF VETERAN.

The funeral of Rev. John H. Stuntz, who died early Sunday morning, was held this morning in the chapel of Reynolds & Van Nuys. It had been the desire of the local post of the G.A.R. to take charge of the services and to use the military ritual, but the idea was dropped out of deference to the wishes of the widow.

The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Elliott, pastor of the North Pasadena Methodist Church, of which Dr. Stuntz was a member for twelve years. Mr. Elliott stated that there were several members of the Ministerial Union, and also a number of war-time comrades of Dr. Stuntz present who would be glad to say a few words, but that he must speak for them under the circumstances.

The funeral cortège from the chapel to Mountain View Cemetery, where the body was interred, was one of the longest ever seen in Pasadena, and many beautiful floral offerings were placed on the grave by the friends and admirers of Dr. Stuntz.

PASADENA POINTERS.

A deal was closed today by Britton, Fogg and Kay whereby Mrs. Laura E. Fogg tranfers the lot formerly occupied by the First Christian Church on North Fair Oaks avenue to S. S. Weld. The consideration is given as $20,000. No announcement has been made as to what disposal Mr. Weld will make of the property, but it is rumored that he intends erecting a modern business block. The lot is located almost directly opposite the Pacific Electric car barns.

J. C. C. Jaxon, the negro tailor who is charged with having been implicated in the murder of James A. Logan, and who is now out on bail, stated today that he would not allow the case against him to be dropped if he could prevent it, and stated that it is his intention to demand a speedy trial. He states that he will not have the least difficulty in proving his innocence, and says that he is anxious to have his name cleared of the stigma of crime.

The directors of the Board of Trade, at their meeting last night, discussed the Los Angeles-Pasadena boulevard in all its aspects. A letter from George S. Patton stating that there was now $14,000 on hand with which to begin construction work on the boulevard, was read. In his letter, Mr. Patton stated that, with a single exception, all of the property owners along the line of the proposed boulevard had subscribed their names to the petition for improvements.

Prof. Joseph Grinnel and his bride have returned from their wedding journey through the San Bernardino Mountains, and are now occupying the new bungalow on North Marengo avenue, lately erected by Prof. Grinnel. Prof. and Mrs. Grinnel will remain the rest of the summer in Pasadena that the professor may be here to take up his work at Throop Institute this fall when school opens.

The District Grand Lodge of the colored I.O.O.F. is holding its annual meeting in Pasadena, the first session having been called to order this morning. The session will continue until Friday evening. There are forty delegates from different parts of the district in attendance, and colored residents of the city are greatly interested in the convention. The visitors will be entertained in various ways by members of the colored colony during their stay.

Mother Alice returned this afternoon from "Skyland," and is making preparations for the establishment of a school, either here or in Los Angeles. She has not yet explained how it came about that her tragical prophecies for Pasadena have not come true.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Abbott of No. 443 North Pasadena avenue will start Thursday for a visit at their old home at Spirit Lake, Iowa.

Rumor in Redondo Has It That Liquor License Will Be Increased to Get Rid of Undesirable Resorts.

REDONDO, Aug. 7.—The Board of Trustees at a regular meeting held last night, again postponed the final passage of the lately revised license ordinance. They accepted the report of the license committee and instructed the attorney to prepare a new ordinance laid down on the lines submitted by the committee.

Rumor has it that the liquor license, which at present is worth $150 per month, will be materially increased, so much so that it will be practically prohibitory, especially for some, as the idea seems to be to put two of the saloons out of business.

If this is the case, the question that is worrying the liquor men is, "Which two will be the victims?"

This move, coming as it does at the eleventh hour, was a great surprise to every one, as the fiscal year for the collection of licenses commences August 1. Under the new law it will have to be postponed until September 1.

The fight at present is similar to the one of two years ago, at which time a former board reduced the number of saloons from five to three. Later on the number was increased to five, and the license was raised. At present there are four saloons, and the indications are now that the number will be reduced, or that there will be none at all.

CHURCH NEARLY DONE.

The new Methodist Church which is being erected on the corner of Catalina avenue and Diamond street will be completed the latter part of the week. It contains two beautiful memorial windows, one on the east side being dedicated to the late J. J. Lembke, and one on the south end to the memory of the late Mrs. J. A. May.

The church will be dedicated Sunday, August 12, at 10:45 o'clock a.m. Dr. A. W. Adkinson, presiding elder and Rev. Edwin J. Inwood, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Riverside, and conference secretary, will be among the speakers.

PUT TOTEMITES IN RESTRAINT.

Drastic Measures Are Taken in San Pedro to Protect the Shipping There.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 7.—Within a few days several steam schooners which carry non-union crews, and which have been driven away from this port on account of the suicidal policy of the local totem chief, "Boss" Craig, will return here to be discharged.

It is believed that a sufficient number of American workmen, free from the taint and stench of the totem, can be found here and in Los Angeles to handle these cargoes.

Craig and his dupes will be prevented from offering any intimidation or interference. The Board of Trustees, in special session last night, authorized City Marshal Ben M. Baker to appoint thirty-five deputy marshals whose business it will be to see that the legitimate business of these vessels or the men who discharge them are in no form or manner interfered with.

Should "Boss" Craig or any of his tribe attempt any interference or violence, serious troubles await them. Slowly but surely San Pedro is throwing off the yoke of Craigism.

WHENCE COME THESE CRIES?

A BEATEN INFANT'S WAILING SHOCKS MONROVIA.

In Exclusive Neighborhood Where Stork Makes Few Pilgrimages Are Heard the Pitiful Yells of a Girl Under the Lash—Indignant Citizens Likely to Take Drastic Action.

MONROVIA, Aug. 7.—In an exclusive neighborhood in Monrovia, which has a characteristic of wealthy districts of cities in that the stork has made few pilgrimages to the homes, there have been heard the pitiful cries of a girl under the lash, and the most earnest efforts to trace the home from which it issued have been futile.

One aristocratic dame went to City Marshal Miller three days ago with tears in her eyes and begged him to be ready to answer a call any time as it was unendurable for humane people to listen to such cries as were wafted through her windows without interfering in the name of humanity.

She was not the only one whose feelings were lacerated by the girl's screams of agony and several reports were made to the officer. It was after 11 o'clock Friday night when the calls continued the longest. These people are all occupied in guessing who it was, and all their guesses fall far afield because there are so few possibilities—children in the vicinity. The next repetition of such calls will bring out a searching party, and the parent who is doing the beating will have an indignant set of men to meet.

M'KEE ON FINANCE.

"We are not bankrupt," declared Trustee H. S. McKee, vice-president of the Los Angeles Trust Company, at the meeting of the city fathers.

"Even if we haven't any money—" added Trustee W. B. Scarborough.

Improvements to the city are being made as rapidly as funds come in, but the increase in assessed values promises a sufficient income for all departments when taxes roll in in November, but in some departments some unimportant work has been held up for the present. With a clear understanding of the financial conditions of the city in mind Mr. McKee and Mr. Scarborough will have the privilege of sitting three days next week with the other Trustees, whose business interests are in Monrovia only as a board of equalization. They were felicitating each other upon the opportunity at last Trustee's meeting, as both have important business in Los Angeles.

Only $1 to Coronado and back.

STRIKES LAD SENSELESS.

Boy in Ocean Park Is Victim of an Accident That May Prove Fatal.

OCEAN PARK, Aug. 7.—Refrenc Acosta, a 10-year-old Mexican lad, was seriously, if not fatally, injured this afternoon while engaged in the performance of man's labor in the struggle for bread. He was struck on the head by an iron wheelbarrow, and the blow sustained rendered him unconscious.

On Main street, near Pier avenue, a three-story brick building is in course of construction. The boy was in the employ of the brick contractors and was engaged in transferring brick from the pile to a wheelbarrow. The barrows and their contents were hoisted by elevator to the third story. In the descent of the elevator with the empty wheelbarrow, something went wrong with the mechanism or appliances of the elevator, and the heavy iron wheelbarrow fell from the elevator, a distance of about thirty feet, striking the boy on the head.

JUST MOVED—NOT GONE.

J. M. White was yesterday the proprietor of a cosy little art store on Pier avenue. Today both White and the art emporium are gone. Between two days they disappeared as quietly as if the sea had rolled upon the beach and borne them into the great unknown. Last night the shop windows were shaded, but nothing was thought of this. It was presumed by those who made the observation that White was simply dressing the show windows for the advertisement he might receive from the crowds that he expected to throng the beach today. But when morning wore on and the sun beamed from midheavens, the fact that the windows were still draped in such fashion as to hide the interior of the store from public gaze, suspicion was aroused. Investigation revealed a condition of awful emptiness when the storeroom was entered. Everything was gone. No farewell note or forwarding address was discovered among the débris, and White and his store were mourned as among the mysteriously disappeared. But during the afternoon, the proprietor of the store discovered himself when he learned that he had been lost. It seems he had simply taken advantage of the evening hours to move his place of business into other quarters.

OCEAN PARK BLASTS.

The City Trustees, when they met last night, sounded the death knell of the projected Ocean Park board walk when by their vote they instructed the City Attorney to prepare the proper resolution of intention for a cement walk. The walk is to be twenty-four feet in width, and will extend from Marine street to Windward avenue, Venice.

An ordinance is under discussion providing for the closing of all places where liquor is sold, between the hours of midnight and 6 a.m. But as the proposed new regulation will not be effective until after the Republican county convention, no general alarm has been sounded.

SEASIDE CAMP IS SPLIT.

Brothers in Long Beach Body Are Divided and the Leader Is Snubbed.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 7.—The lodge brothers and sisters of the local camp of the Modern Brotherhood of America just at present are not dwelling in peace and unity, but are breathing fire, smoke and defiance at one another in a factional fight that may disrupt the lodge.

It started three weeks ago at the county convention, when W. M. Brown, State manager and local president, opposed Long Beach's effort to secure the next convention, and succeeded in switching it to Los Angeles. This split the lodge in two factions. Last Friday the disappointed ones had a chance to even up on Mr. Brown, and promptly took advantage.

Three delegates were to be elected to the grand lodge, and there were four candidates, one of them President Brown, who, though entitled, as State manager, to admission to the grand lodge, desired to go as delegate to be eligible for election as delegate to the supreme lodge meeting in Nebraska. In the election, J. H. Fredericks, Mrs. M. K. Miller and O. H. Wilson were chosen, and Mr. Brown was snubbed.

The result has set the lodge in an uproar, for it is an open secret that Mr. Fredericks has also aspirations to the supreme lodge, which is gall and wormwood to Brother Brown, who is now seeking to have Brother Frederick declared ineligible, but on what grounds is not stated. Almost every member in the lodge has taken one of the sides, and there is much bitterness existing.

SEASIDE RIPPLES.

The Union Iron Works of Los Angeles, which has the contract for the structural iron work of the First National Bank, waited until the work was well advanced before securing a permit. Then the concern discovered that under the ordinance the fees for $20 were doubled. Today Inspector Newcomb received a check for $40, accompanied by a letter from Manager Little, in which he objects strongly to what he calls the Long Beach method of holding up a stranger, and says he will enter a protest with the City Trustees. Inspector Newcomb says he notified the foreman before the work began that a permit was necessary, but no attention was paid to the warning until arrest was threatened.

A tiny two-year-old baby with blue eyes and flaxen hair hung over the railing out on the pier this morning and watched the surf roll in. She was far from mamma, but didn't worry. One hand held a rubber doll, the other the handle of a toy wagon. Officer McMillan rescued her from the perilous position, and sent her to headquarters, where she reigned supreme over Sergt. Kutz for an hour. Then a wild-eyed agitated mother dashed into the station, and with a cry of "Molly, Molly," grasped the babe to her breast, hugged and kissed it, then put it in the wagon, and, hysterically crying and laughing, hurried out of the Marshal's office, before any questions could be asked. At the sidewalk, she thought of her debt to the police, called out a "Thank you," and started homeward with the baby laughing joyously with its ride.

Dr. E. J. Bulgin, the evangelist, and son, Arthur, aged 9, returned today from a hunting trip in the mountains in Tehama county. The doctor is delighted with the prowess of his young son, who got two bucks. The first one he started when some distance from the rest of the party. His first shot crippled the animal in the hip, the second clipped its ear, and the third went to the heart. The party got the limit of deer, and three bears. Judge Noyes of Riverside killed his first bear, which measured 6 feet 8 inches, killing it with his third shot. Dr. Bulgin is much improved in health, as the result of his trip.

BIG BAPTISMAL FOUNT, THE SEA.

BETHEL BAPTIST CONVERTS IMMERSED IN SURF.

Five in Class Receive Spiritual Cleansing in Roaring Waters of Old Pacific—Santa Monica Beach Forms Amphitheater — Several Thousand Witness Strange Ceremony.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 7.—The ocean in the vicinity of the White Star pier, at the foot of Hollister avenue, was the scene of a novel service today.

The day was chosen by the Bethel Baptist congregation and Sunday-school of Los Angeles for their annual picnic and outing, and advantage was taken of the opportunity to admit a class of five converts into the church.

The roaring surf was utilized as the baptismal fount, while the sloping beach of glistening sand served as an amphitheater to afford several thousand spectators a good view of the immersion.

Preceding the surf ceremony, a song and praise service was conducted from the auditorium at the ocean-end of the pier. This was led by Rev. R. A. Henck, pastor of Bethel Church, who also performed the ordinance of baptism. He was assisted by Revs. A. P. Graves, L. A. Gould, J. F. Jenkins and J. E. Coombs.

The excursionists enjoyed a picnic dinner on the strand and spent the entire day on the beach.

AVALON ANGLERS ANTICIPATE.

AVALON, Aug. 7.—The yellowtail tournament of the Light Tackle Club, which was declared off last Saturday, will be held this week, Friday and Saturday. There will be no restrictions on where one may fish, and it is likely that most of the fishing will be done at the isthmus, for the larger ones seem to be taken there. The impression seems to prevail that the tournament was called off because of a lack of fish. Such was not the case. There were plenty of fish and they were biting well, but the standard was placed by the club at twenty pounds weight, and the fish ran so small that very few came up to the requirement. One angler who caught twenty-five says that not one of them weighed over nineteen pounds. The secretary of the club, E. H. Brewster, took fifteen Saturday, but seventeen pounds was the maximum weight. At the isthmus schools of large fish are running, and it is seldom they weigh less than twenty pounds. Nine boats, with their complement of anglers, have already arranged to go up there Friday, and it is likely that there will be some record smashing in the two days set apart for the tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradner W. Lee are at the Metropole.

The celery crop in the vicinity of Huntington Beach promises to be a huge success this season. Everything points to prosperity in this bust Coast city.

Over 425 tents in Huntington Beach Tent City are now occupied. Plenty of accommodations for all comers.

Men Only

Weakness

FUNCTIONAL WEAKNESS IN MEN is in reality a comparatively simple ailment and is but a symptom of local disorder, a state of chronic inflammation of the prostate gland. No stimulating treatment, whether internal or locally applied, can do more than excite temporary activity. By my system of local treatment I restore absolutely normal conditions throughout the organs involved, which promptly results in complete and permanent restoration of strength and vigor. This treatment is original with me, and is the only radical and certain cure yet devised.

Varicocele

Varicocele is a relaxation, knotting and twisting of the most vital blood vessels of the organic system. It stagnates the local circulation and interferes with the processes of waste and repair. Neglect brings derangement of functions and injury to the general health. Most physicians resort to surgical operations and hospital treatment. I cure Varicocele in one week without operation, pain or detention from business. My cures are absolutely permanent and no ill effects whatever can follow my treatment.

Contracted Disorders

I have reduced the time required for curing contracted disorders about one-half. This is an important achievement. It replaces danger with safety. It forestalls chronic complications. It removes the infection and inflammation before that vital center, the prostate gland, can become involved. To many men it means the difference between perfect health and a lifetime of misery and functional weakness. My method is mine alone. My treatment is original. In its chief essentials it is different. In results it is entirely different. It is safe, prompt and thorough.

The above, together with Organic Weakness, Nervo-debilitation, Lost Vigor, Specific Blood Poison, Stricture, Piles and Reflex Ailments, constitute my specialty and are the only diseases I treat.

DR. TAYLOR,
The Leading Specialist.

I Cure the Cases That Others Cannot Cure

A bold statement, but just as true as it is bold. Not all cases that others fail to cure are curable by my methods, but fully ninety per cent. of them are. The way to learn whether your case is curable is to consult me. I know exactly what can be done in every instance. I ought to know this, for I have done nothing else other than treat men's diseases for twenty-five years. If your case is curable I will treat you. It is isn't I will not. If I treat you, and if you so desire,

I Will Wait For My Fee Until You Are Well.

I state nothing in my announcements but the straight, square truth. It will cost you nothing to call and talk over your case. You can find out all about your trouble and you can later arrange to begin treatment any time your like. My offices, comprising ten rooms, are the largest, most elegant and best equipped in the West.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

HORSELESS AND HORSE IN RACE.

A PERILOUS DASH ALONG THE BASE LINE.

The Strikes Rear of Carriage Standing in San Bernardino Street and Almost Throws Occupants Out. Frightened Horse Runs, Pursued by Horseless Wagon Till Animal Falls.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 7.—A race between a runaway horse and an automobile, caused great excitement on the Base Line this afternoon. The horse was attached to a carriage occupied by Mrs. Edward Harmon, a widow of 12 months and her daughter. Harmon had just alighted from the carriage at the home of A. Harris, and was standing in the yard when the automobile, owned by A. Hall of Redlands, crashed against the rear of the carriage. The collision threw the occupants of the carriage against the dashboard, but no one fell out. Before Harmon could grasp the horse's head the animal had bolted down the road. Mrs. Harmon maintained her presence of mind, clutching the reins, used with discretion in an effort to check the frightened equine, and managed to keep it in the center of the road.

Fearful for seeing his family in peril, Hall put on the automobile, and commanded the chauffeur to rush in pursuit. In a twinkling the heavy touring car shot ahead, and for two blocks the horse and horse fairly flew. The horse at last dropped from exhaustion and fright. The occupants of the carriage escaped unharmed except from bruises sustained at the time of the collision.

WILL MOVE SALT LAKE'S?

There is some disposition here to believe that the franchise granted yesterday to J. M. McLeod of Los Angeles by the Board of Supervisors for a railway from a point at West Colton to connect with the Southern Pacific at Bloomington and the Santa Fe at Rialto, is in reality a Salt Lake line, and not a cement-plant line, as alleged by McLeod. Certain accidents occurring in the past few months have led the people to believe that the Salt Lake was contemplating some sort of a coup. McLeod says that his backers expect to invest from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 within a year on the proposed plant, which is to have a daily output of 4000 barrels and that 300 men will be employed. The seeming absurdity of the figures and numbers that seems to attend McLeod's rehearsal as a yarn spinner is a good-sized joker.

SAN BERNARDINO BRIEFS.

The Students' Association has elected Alva Johnson, the Los Angeles inventor, one more time as the "Man Angel" navigator, and Johnson has set next Saturday as the date for the second ascension. He declares that he will remain a few weeks here, and give daily ascents in order to demonstrate that his little craft is a success.

The Council last evening practically granted the application of the Pacific Electric Railway Company for a double-track I street, but before granting the privilege have to be amended, certain restrictions, among them one special being prohibiting the use of engines within the city limits during the night. Attorney Haight for the company stated that the railroad company had paid $3872.12 in city taxes, $750 a month, for taxes, and at the rate of $1000 a month, for the year 1906, and at the rate of $1200 a month for the year 1907.

The Department of the Woman's Club has undertaken to raise $2500 to purchase a park site for the eastern section of the city. The city is now strewn with cheap and populated with Mexican and Indian shacks, and is in need of a park. It is practically given over to children and types of all classes.

SAN BERNARDINO PRINTING LET.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 7.—At the meeting of the City Council last night the contract for the city advertising was awarded to the Blade Publishing Company at 70 cents for the first 100 words and 40 cents for subsequent 100 words, a square being the measure. The Blade was the only bidder. A question arose between Trustees Tilde and Edgar, the former contending that the bid was too high. The contract was obtained the city job printing.

Plans for the opening of Bush street, from Sixth to Eighth streets. Tilde contended that this was not the right time to take property. The openings were ordered.

Cattle are being loping out of the valley of the Santa Ana River this week in visit with civilization. They are coming down by way of Sixth street and then along Main street for several days. Several boys on bicycles are also seen as a visitor of unusual interest started after him, but when he saw all the civilization he turned into French street, and into the Tustin foothills.

Jose Olivares has red wine to his presence in jail. He is charged with selling his wife until she returned. Olivares was one of a number of peddlers who got loud Saturday and Sunday. The wife is a daughter of Dr. J. M. Burnett, who was one of the victims, has been arrested to keep the peace that he might not be a witness.

The Daughters of United Confederate Veterans issued a call to all members and their friends to meet for a picnic at the park September 11. The picnic will be held at Coronado this week.

SAN BERNARDINO NEWS NOTES.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 7.—There seems to be trouble in the pumping plant question. Ten years ago there were a few private plants in the county, but now there are 15, and one or two are established every week. The Water Company is now pumping for these plants. The Water Company is also making a large list of plants. Call today for Rockwell.

GIRL PROVES REAL HEROINE.

STOPS RUNAWAY BY BRAVE AND DARING FEAT.

Steps Boldly in Front of Frightened Horse, as It Dashes Down Riverside Thoroughfare—Animal Slackens Speed in Front of Her, and by Sheer Force She Checks It.

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 7.—With heroism unusual in a girl, Nanna Wallace today stopped a frantic runaway at the risk of her life. A horse hitched to a buggy got loose, and with the reins trailing the ground, dashed along Market street, endangering many lives. Miss Nanna saw the frightened animal, stepped coolly into the roadway, and seemingly by mere force of will caused the horse to slacken his pace. Then she jumped completely to the side, grabbed the flowing reins and sat back on the bit.

It was a hard struggle, as the horse continued his run, but the girl threw all her weight on the lines, dug her feet into the roadway and was dragged forty or fifty yards, lying flat back against the pull of the animal. She finally stopped him. Her mother witnessed the incident and nearly collapsed when she saw her daughter's dangerous attempt. When the mother reached the girl she was quietly stroking the horse's neck, and seemed none the worse for her experience.

CAPTURED IN TEXAS.

According to a telegram received by Sheriff Coburn, the burglar who escaped after robbing the Racket Department Store here, was captured today in Dallas, Tex. He will be brought here at once and put on trial. He passed in this city as Jim King, but the Dallas police know him as Bob Klapper. With a man named Albert Daniels, alias Davis, Klapper served a term in the County Jail here for vagrancy. Daniels was captured and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Sheriff Coburn kept on the track of the other until he was arrested today. These boys, although less than twenty, have already served a term in Texas for a $7000-diamond robbery.

VALUABLE WATER FIND.

Contracts have been made by the Piedras Land and Water Company for 500 inches of water for that city's domestic supply, at a price of $500,000. The water comes from the old bed of the San Gorgonio River, which George L. Lamy, an engineer, says rises on the slopes of Grayback and flows underground until it empties into the marshes at Long Beach. Engineer Lamy has mapped this river from start to finish, and claims that he can tap its waters at any point he desires as surely as though the stream ran on the surface.

The first borings for this water were made at Lamola, where ten wells were sunk. The last venture is to tap the stream at Piedras, about one-half mile northwest of Magnolia Drive, near Arlington.

Engineer Lamy went down through quicksand and various hard strata until he struck the blue granite bed of the country. The water then gushed up in the well from ninety-seven to sixty-one feet. Several other wells will be driven, and the piping of the water to Corona will begin at once. The Mackie Syndicate of Los Angeles is financing the deal. Mackie is of the firm of Mackie-Fredericks Company.

In this remarkable river, Engineer Lamy claims that fully 3000 miner's inches can be developed. Just west of Lamola, Lamy has driven other wells, and is now preparing to raise water to irrigate 1200 acres belonging to the Mackie Syndicate. This land lies about 600 feet above the highest canal at Riverside, and the ground will be platted for villa sites and orchards.

It is the intention to raise this water with great economy. Water from one or more of the wells will be dropped over Pelton wheels and electricity will be developed to pump the others.

One of the peculiar features of this river is the claim that it follows a prehistoric channel and passes under the Santa Ana River between here and the coast. Engineer Lamy says that this is new water and never has been tributary to any of the surface streams. It tests to 16 purity, both at Lamola and Piedras, and as there is scarcely a city whose water supply tests below 20, Corona will have one of the purest supplies of drinking water in the country.

Mt. Wilson, better than ever, $15 week.

DOWN WITH THE THISTLE.

Corona Farmers Will Begin Active Crusade to Exterminate Russian Pest. Blew in on Wind.

CORONA, Aug. 7.—An active campaign is to be commenced to exterminate the Russian thistle, which has made its appearance on tracts across the river.

The great drawback in fighting the pest is in the lack of help on the ranches; but the urgency of immediate action will necessitate ranchers taking men from the harvest field to cut and burn the thistle before it goes to seed. As it travels with the wind, being like a tumble weed, the supposition is that the seed has been blown in from San Bernardino county.

REALTY DEALS.

Daniel Lord has sold to the Platt sisters, for J. A. Rice, three lots on Main street in Dyer's subdivision, opposite the High School site. The lots are 50x150 each and the consideration named is $1500.

Daniel Lord has bought ten lots of T. P. Drinkwater, in block B, east of the depot, adjoining railroad property.

Dr. Robert Todd has sold to Charles Wrestler, through D. M. Browning, a lot on Ramona street. Price stated $400.

The Corona Realty Company has sold to Charlotte Clayson, for Mary Nowlin, three lots 50x150 each at Joy and Ninth streets, reported consideration $650; E. N. Lewis to Emily Farrar, a lot and brick cottage on Victoria street, $500; George W. Hamler to E. L. Offutt, a lot and frame cottage on West Ninth street, $900; Frank J. Furiong, to Rosario Lafata, a 50x130 foot lot on East Sixth street, on which he will build, $205; T. C. Jameson to Gonsalo Lopez, 50x150 lot on Joy street, on which he will erect a home; G. W. Hamler to Kate D. Barr, 50x100-foot lot on West Ninth street, $125; G. W. Hamler to E. N. Lewis, lot on Ninth street, $130; Tillie Nedwidik to Helen Brown, two lots 50x150 each, on Victoria street, $150; T. C. Jameson to Roman Gonsales, 50x150-foot lot on Joy street, $100; W. A. Hurry to Joseph Encinas, 50x150-foot lot on Ramona street, $100.

There is considerable activity, not only in realty transfers, but in building. P. A. Bennett will erect a two-story house at Joy and Sixth streets for A. Brown, to cost about $1500.

J. W. Crittenden will also build a five-room cottage on Victoria street.

BRIEF ITEMS.

T. P. Cota, aged 12 years, had the little finger of his right hand nearly severed yesterday at the pottery works by catching it in the cog wheels.

The City Trustees last evening fixed $1980 as the fund to be used in running the library and $7500 for city expenses for the ensuing year.

W. L. Lyman has filed his acceptance for a water franchise.

The City Attorney is to draw up an ordinance setting a price of $1 on each building permit granted by the city.

P. Provensal's application for a renewal of his saloon license has been tabled.

Frank Thompson, who came near drowning at Newport Saturday, left for that beach today with his wife.

Mrs. U. S. Cummins and son have returned from Salt Lake City.

I. B. Newkirk and wife left yesterday for a three months' stay in Worthington, Minn., and near-by points.

Archie Rorabacher is suffering from the bite of a dog belonging to Mrs. Winnie Riddell.

ELSINORE BREVITIES.

ELSINORE, Aug. 7.—A vote was taken Saturday afternoon on the matter of levying a special tax for repairing the schoolhouse. The vote, though small, was unanimously in favor of the improvement.

The electric light building will be ready for machinery this week.

Mrs. Fred Fortine of Santa Maria is in Elsinore visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Langstaff.

BARS MAY BE SCREENED NOW.

TEST CASE IN SAN DIEGO DECIDED FOR DEFENDANT.

No Evidence Taken, and No Arguments Made—Jury Takes Look at Saloonroom and Reports "Not Guilty"—Claimed Bar Was Too Far Back.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A verdict of acquittal was rendered this afternoon in the township justice court in the first case brought under the anti-saloon-screen ordinance. The complaint was against John R. Seifert, a wholesale and retail liquor dealer, and is supposed to have been a test case.

It is impossible to see Seifert's sideboard from the sidewalk, the window being decorated and otherwise obstructed with bottles, and it is charged that the bar is farther back than allowed by law. A peculiar thing about the result is that no evidence was taken and no arguments were made, the jury, after viewing the saloonrooms, returning a prompt verdict of not guilty. The jury was of the opinion that the law is unconstitutional and unreasonable.

BAY BREEZES.

Secretary Jasper of the Chamber of Commerce states that two out of three of the letters of inquiry sent out by the Chamber favor the holding of a convention in this city for the consideration of the Colorado River problem.

The presence of the Italian cruiser Dogali in port is responsible for the shortage in macaroni. The commanding officer of the ship has given an order for 2000 pounds of the Italian staff of life, and as the city supply has been exhausted, it is probable that the order will have to be filled in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Eliza R. Warburton, president of the Department of California and Nevada, W.R.C., left this morning for Minneapolis, where she will attend the national convention of the G.A.R. and W.R.C. Before returning, she will make official visits to the various corps in Nevada and Northern California.

Goldsmith's "Auburn" is paralleled in San Diego county, for the mining town of Hedges is now a deserted city. It was once a prosperous mining town, and the home of the famous Golden Cross mines. Now there are not enough people to support a school, and the Supervisors have lapsed the district.

Mayor Schon has directed City Attorney Andrews to bring suit against two of the prominent street grading contractors, M. D. Goodbody and J. E. Clouse, for violation of the eight-hour law. The contractors have combined and a fight will be made in the courts, the claim being made that the law is unconstitutional.

Some of the Logan Heights taxpayers who are dissatisfied with the expense of grading jobs, have asked the City Council to make an examination of the administration of city affairs.

A $30,000 job of street grading on University Heights has been awarded to Archibald Hart, who is backed by the Columbian Realty Company. The work contemplates the grading of two miles of University avenue.

After a hot discussion last night, the City Board of Education adopted a set of resolutions expressive of its esteem for Prof. F. P. Davidson, retiring Superintendent of City Schools.

OFFICE-SEEKERS CHAGRINED.

Promoters of Lordsburg Incorporation Project Are Snowed Under at the Caucus.

LORDSBURG, Aug. 7.—The project to incorporate Lordsburg has reached the serio-comic stage. The promoters who were expecting to hold office have been completely snowed under, and are much chagrined at the prospect of incorporation being defeated.

At a caucus held last night to nominate candidates for the various offices which will be voted upon, on August 20, when the incorporation election takes place, the following men were nominated: For Trustees, C. C. Huff, T. B. Fredendall, Thomas Kelser, H. S. Kuns, W. C. Hanawalt, N. E. Lewis, J. Steves, R. A. Wallace, H. M. Williams, A. J. Milne.

Five Trustees will be elected. The majority of those nominated are "antis." For City Clerk, Stuart McClellan and J. M. Cox; for Treasurer, G. Wilkinson and J. L. Miller; for City Marshal, George Jones and Oscar Keiser.

Some of the promoters, who were nominated, failed to get the required number of votes to place their names on the ticket.

CLAREMONT GROVE SELLS.

POMONA, Aug. 7.—A sale has just been consummated, through J. A. Fitch, involving stated considerations of $125,000. G. G. Charlton, now living in Los Angeles, has disposed of his eighty-acre orange grove near Claremont, set one-third to Valencia oranges and the balance to Washington navels, to J. A. King of Riverside. There is a good house, barn and pumping plant on the property, which go to Mr. King together with some horses and tools. Mr. Charlton takes in part payment 200 acres about five miles from Corona, 120 acres in alfalfa and the balance bare land. A house, barn and a good water right go with this place. Mr. Fitch has also sold to Mrs. S. E. Nelson d'Utassy and Mrs. Agnes Collins a little over four acres of oranges on East Holt avenue, for F. E. Perley, for a stated price of $2500.

The Edison Electric Company, which owns the local gas plant, has announced that after January 1 the price of gas in this city will be reduced from $1.25 to $1 per thousand cubic feet, provided 200 new consumers can be secured before the date mentioned. A solicitor is now in the field. The company has just expended $30,000 in improving the local plant.

Prevent Headache

We want you to know that Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills prevent as well as relieve headache, and that they leave no bad after-effects. We assure you that if taken when you first discover indications of an attack, they will drive it away, and thus not only save you the misery and distress, but the weakening influence of pain upon your system. Used in this way the attacks become less frequent, and eventually entirely disappear. They relieve pain by strengthening the nerves and overcoming the turbulent, excited condition, which is the cause of pain.

"We used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in our family for five years, and I would not like to do without them. Before I found this remedy I would have spells of sick headache so severe that I would be prostrated for as many as 48 hours at a time. The Anti-Pain Pills stop the pain in a few minutes. I have a great deal of neuralgia around the heart, and the Pain Pills also relieve that. I now take them when I think I will have an attack, and they stop it right then. I also notice that I do not have these spells nearly so frequently as formerly."
MRS. ROSA A. CURRIER,
Kalamazoo, Mich.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails, he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

There were few changes in the produce market yesterday morning; but the prices of most commodities were steady and receipts, while of good volumes, were not too heavy.

Ranch eggs showed an increase in receipts, but the demand was active enough to clean up the supply at the full price, 30c. The indications are that the production of eggs will be increased as soon as the molting season is over. There was no change in the price of eggs yesterday. Five cases of local ranch eggs, case-count, were on 'change.

Cheese was in truly demand, and all the eastern that could be secured was taken at full figures. Higher prices are expected to come, and continues firm at the advanced prices, and the market is quite active, with three brands bidding for the limit.

Butter was unchanged. Receipts have been lighter the past few days.

General demand for fruit was heavier yesterday than anticipated, but fluctuations in values were narrow. Strawberries were unchanged. Blackberries were weaker at 3. A few raspberries were seen at 3. Apples were in over-supply. Muscat grapes were disposed of at 1.00; Rose of Peru also brought 1.00 per box.

The maximum quotation of fancy Bartlett pears was 1.25. Peaches and plums were as last quoted. Watermelons were quite liberal at 1½. Local cantaloupes were well cared for at 1.50@2.25.

Lettuce was scarce at 1.00 per crate. Peas are in demand at 3. Corn is getting scarce. Tomatoes are slowly weakening.

Fish was plentiful.

Hens, young roosters and fryers have advanced.

The receipts of produce as reported for yesterday's exchange were as follows: Eggs, 328 cases; butter, 19,500 lbs.; cheese, local, 13,750 lbs.; potatoes, 1430 sacks; onions, 1000 sacks; beans, 13 sacks; sweet potatoes, 13 sacks.

SCRAMBLE FOR FRANCHISE AT SAN PEDRO.

Imperial Investment Company Asks for Privilege in the Outer Harbor Territory and the Southern Pacific Promply Presents Petition for the Same Thing.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 7.—That the Southern Pacific Railroad Company does not intend to let the valuable concession in the outer harbor, asked for by the Imperial Commercial Company of the War Department, be granted without a hard fight was evidenced tonight when Supt. R. H. Ingram and Attorney J. W. McKinlay of the Southern Pacific appeared before the Board of Trustees and made application for permission to fill and bulkhead the same territory in the outer harbor.

The concession asked for by the Imperial Investment Company of Los Angeles, of which J. W. Oakley is president and H. C. Oakley secretary, is set out in the following official statement from the United States Engineer's office in Los Angeles:

"It is desired to construct a wharf along the westerly side of the westerly arm of the outer breakwater."

Second. To construct a bulkhead commencing at a point where the south line of the United States reservation intersects the shore line; then along the shore line of the United States reservation 900 feet to a point 100 feet westerly and 2500 feet parallel with the southwesterly line of the Miner Reclamation project and 500 feet distant therefrom to a point where the southeasterly line of the Miner Reservation project, if projected, would intersect it; thence southwesterly from the shore end of the breakwater about 1700 feet to a point 620 feet westerly from the shore end of the breakwater; thence westerly about 1200 feet to the shore line and to fill the inclosed area. Also to construct slips and do such dredging as may be necessary."

The promoters say that when the work is completed the fill will make 123 acres which can be used for commercial purposes.

They state that the project will necessitate the expenditure of $1,000,000, and that ships can be docked at the proposed wharf in the outer harbor within twelve months if the privileges asked for are granted.

There is a strong sentiment in San Pedro in favor of making the Imperial Investment Company pay something in case the concessions asked for are granted. Many valuable franchises have been given away here.

The petition to reclaim this land, as presented tonight, was made in the name of the Southern Pacific Company, signed by R. H. Ingram, general superintendent.

Speaking before the board in favor of granting the concession asked for by his company, Attorney McKinlay said in part:

"The Southern Pacific Company owns the shore line to this water front. No other party can get acess to it. The Southern Pacific is the only corporation in a position to do the work. In th next few days application will be made to the War Department for the necessary permission. The reclamation of this land will greatly increase the opportunities for carrying on commerce and business, and will be of great benefit to San Pedro, as the port of Southern California."

Supt. Ingram spoke at length, showing why the board should grant the concessions to his company and incidentally pointed out many extensive contemplated improvements. In his remarks Mr. Ingram said:

"I sometimes fear the citizens of San Pedro do not realize what this harbor is going to be in the years to come. Even with the Miner project, the improvements in both the inner and outer harbors, the facilities for handling the business that will eventually come to San Pedro will be limited. Under our project we will give large additional facilities for warehouses, factory sites, docks, etc.

"Relative to previous grants made to the Southern Pacific, I wish to state we have had good reasons for being slow. We had about closed a lease with H. E. Huntington for part of his lease in the outer harbor when the San Francisco fire occurred. This delayed us. We propose in the near future to construct a ships' slip in the outer harbor 2200 feet on the south side, 1600 feet on the north side, 250 feet in width, with water twenty-five feet deep. This proposition is now about to be closed. Mr. Krutschnitt was in Los Angeles yesterday and we discussed this project. He authorized me to prepare plans for beginning this great work.

"Plans are being prepared and will soon be completed for the reconstruction of the Southern Pacific yards in San Pedro and the construction of a handsome freight and passenger depot at Fifth street.

"The interests of the Southern Pacific and of San Pedro are identical. We desire your assistance and friendship and will do everything possible to promote our joint interests."

Roman D. Sepulveda, a property owner, spoke against the granting of the concession to the Southern Pacific, claiming that it had not fulfilled past promises, had promised a depot for twenty years and were long on promise and short on acts.

Action upon the application was postponed for one week.

SHALL SALOONS CLOSE?

A numerously signed petition asking that the saloons in San Pedro be closed on Sunday was presented to the board. Rev. P. H. Hickman addressed the board at length in favor of the petition. The petition was laid over one week.

At Rio de Janeiro, the All-American conference, at its session Monday, unanimously adopted the arbitration project.

WHAT IS OUR POINT?
$50 FOR $15

IS IT THE $35 SAVED?

It might seem so; but really it's not the main thing. For instance, take a look at this:

$300 Cut Price $195

A GOOD ONE

It is NOT that we offer you a net saving of only $35 on the purchase of a piano—not that at all. The regular prices on our pianos are almost cut in two. The $35 commission you can save comes in very handy as credit on the down payment.

BUT--
OUR POINT IS THIS

During this great Face-to-Face Sale, we are selling a long string of

First-class Pianos
At Second Class Prices

That is our point.

$750 Cut Price $535

A GEM

Do we demand all cash or severe terms? Not at all. We give you $6, $8 or $10 per month, according to the grade. And your $15, if you buy of us direct, starts you off with a full credit of $50. There you are.

$500.00 Sale Price $350

Hamburger's SAFEST PLACE TO TRADE

ANOTHER phenomenal merchandise carnival is now inaugurated and just at the height of the summer when white merchandise is in such general demand. Our preparations were all made with care and we are in position to present our patrons with the choicest lines of white summer wearables as also piece goods that we have ever been able to offer at these Annual Sales of white.

Hamburger's SAFEST PLACE TO TRADE

Particularly Featuring Undermuslins, Waists and Shirt Waist Suits

California climate makes it possible to use undermuslins the year round and these big sales of ours give an opportunity to anticipate your wants for months to come at a very material saving in the purchase price. It is now getting toward the end of the season for the white waists and dresses because our new fall stocks will soon be here and we must have the room that the summer garments now take up, yet you will have eight to ten weeks of weather in which to get full service out of these dresses and waists and the prices in many cases are positively half they were at the beginning of the season; so make it a point to take fullest advantage of our big offerings this week.

98c Nainsook Corset Covers at 50c Ea.

An immense assortment to select from; at least twenty styles trimmed with dainty lace insertions and deep edgings; cluster tuckings and ribbon beadings. Some are trimmed both front and back. There are all sizes; every garment well made and they are covers that are usually sold at 98c, but are made a special feature for the "August Sale of White."
